To The Graduates

In expressing "Farewell" to the graduates of 4T8, we also salute Torontonensis on its fiftieth birthday. In looking backward to 1898, you may find sources of inspiration and fortitude. With your buoyancy and optimism, you will not share the proneness, in these troublous days, to believe that grief and tragedy are our peculiar lot. It is well for all of us to recall that our forefathers faced difficulty and danger that would have daunted a lesser breed.

In 1898, Kitchener won a decisive battle at Omdurman, Commodore Dewey annihilated the Spanish fleet at Manila, and a chain of events was leading to the Boer War. There was the threat of a clash in Crete between the Turks and other European powers. Bread riots in Italy and race riots in the United States were accompanied by bloodshed. The death in that year of Gladstone and of Bismarck brings to mind the earlier stresses and strains of eastern and western Europe. The Dreyfus case was shocking the conscience of mankind.

The way for better communications and better understanding among nations was being prepared by a Canadian — an eminent graduate of the University of Toronto, the Honourable William Mulock — through his proposal of penny postage.

As we travel down the decades from 1898, we see the struggles between "mortal longing and immortal Law" and we recognize the leading roles of the sons and daughters of Toronto whose names were written with high promise in the successive issues of Torontonensis.

Many of you have already contributed to the triumph of righteousness over evil by courageous service to Canada in days of war.

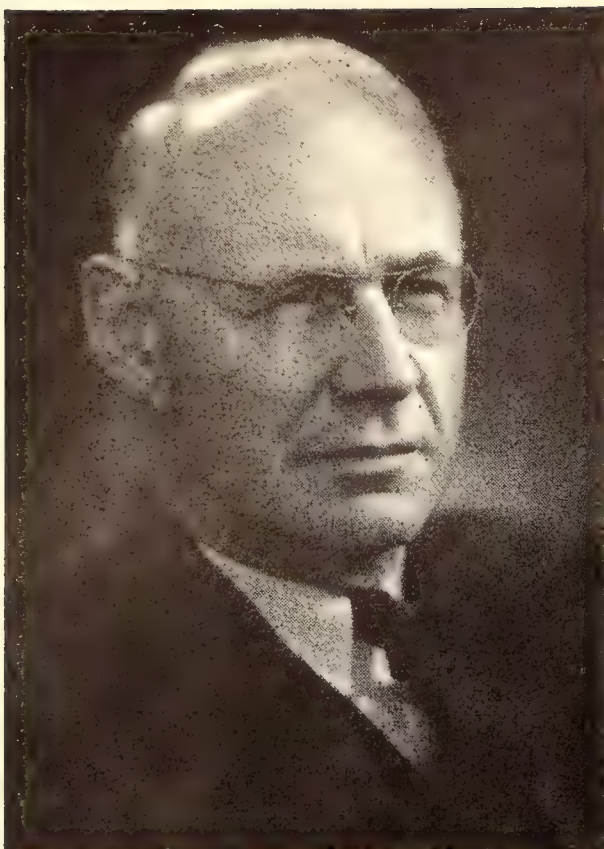

Your Alma Mater sends you forth with faith in your ideals and with confidence in the power of your minds and the strength of your characters.

Your Alma Mater, with her traditions of the free mind and the free spirit for free people—traditions which have survived through the centuries the swords of tyrants and the follies of false prophets — expects that, in thought and in deed, you will reveal the redemptive capacity of mankind.

And when the heat of your race is past, may you sing, in the words of a distinguished graduate of 1895, Arthur J. Stringer:

Through the years
Our ranks have thinned, but still the Cause endures,
Our brows are furrowed, but we walk with Faith,
Our heads are frosted, yet we face the light
And with more guarded steps seek out the Good
And with more tempered hands attest the True,
Since they who seem to conquer often lose
And they who lost too often strangely win,
For we, the veterans, the battle-scarred
Survivors of an army greyed with dust
Amid the changes of a clamorous world,
Have known the old uncertainties, the clash
Of mortal longing and immortal Law
And out of tumult won our hardy peace,
And out of failure garnered fortitude.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

W. R. TAYLOR,
M.A., PH.D., D.D.

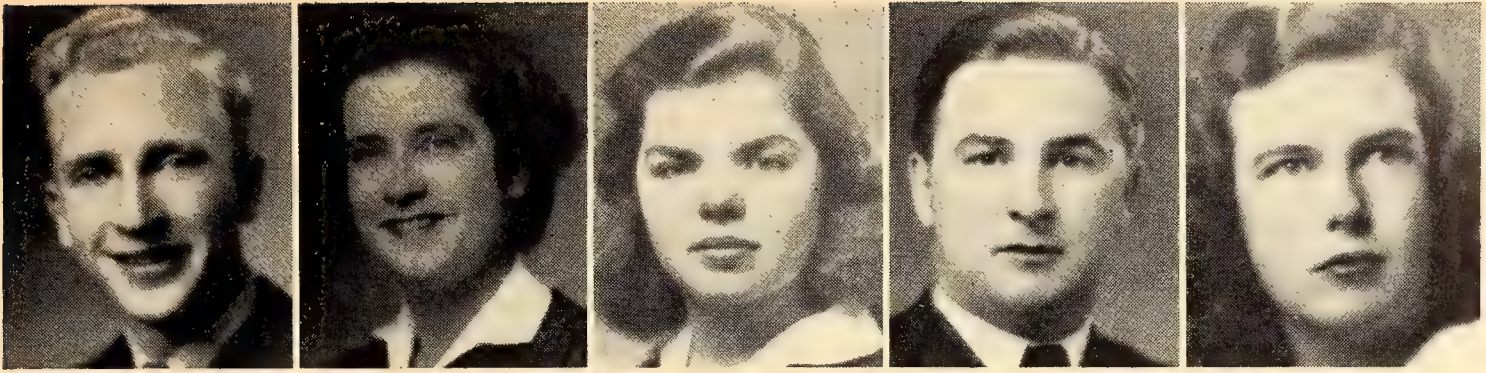

My colleagues join with me in this brief salutation to the members of the graduating class and in the expression of a sincere desire that all who now take formal leave of our halls may, in the course of their days, see their hopes richly fulfilled and all their labors crowned with true success and happiness. The world has need of you, even now as you go out to meet it, for only those who have in their blood "the fire of Spring" can deliver our world from the fear that "the shears of Fate have cut the tent-ropes of its life."

We do not need to remind you that something has gone wrong with civilization. An old order is dying through an accumulation of weakness, disease, and effeteness, but the new order seems powerless to be born. In the words of holy writ, "this is a day of distress, of disruption, and of disgrace; the pangs of childbirth are here, but there is no strength in the mother." We live in a sick world; and its sickness derives from a malady in its soul. The ceaseless conflict between the nations and between the classes within the nations needs some curative process that goes deep into the vitals of society. The root of the modern malaise is not the raucous struggle between ideologies or between theories, political or economic, but a collapse of morals, a degeneration of values, an abnegation of norms of judgment.

Perhaps, a large portion of the blame for the confusion of our times, for the lack of a sense of meaning and purpose in life is to be set on the shoulders of those of us who belong to the universities—to those of us who by reason of their specializations sacrifice their souls to the techniques and gadgets of the material elements of civilization, or to those of us who call ourselves "advanced" and "realistic," whose talk is in the jargon of "frustrations and repressions" and to whom all human acts have been predetermined by our infantile conditionings. Such types of naturalism confuse the lines of right and wrong, and weaken the higher loyalties of mankind. But no civilization can thrive, no government prosper, no society survive, if it neglect what Nicolai Hartmann once called the "ethos of the upward gaze." "All the great ages," said Emerson, "have been ages of belief, when the human soul was in earnest and had fixed its thoughts on spiritual verities."

May you who leave us and we who remain behind, all of us together, labor triumphantly at the task to which the times call us.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE PERMANENT EXECUTIVE OF 1948

ALAN BOWERS, President; JOAN HUME, Vice-President; PATRICIA HUNT, Secretary; WESLEY KNOWLTON, Treasurer; MARGARET BULMER, Councillor.

As we stand upon the threshold of a new life, it would perhaps be well to review the endeavours and achievements of the past few years.

To many of our class returning from the disruptions of service life, these years have formed an admirable period of adjustment. The value of our college activities will become increasingly evident as we face the less sheltered days of post-graduation life. To all of us, coming as we do from diverse walks of life, these years have provided an opportunity for living and working together to our mutual benefit.

While our undergraduate days have seen the natural emphasis placed upon the academic, the extra-curricular has not been neglected. In the Literary and Athletic Society and the Women's Undergraduate Association, the men and women of our years have shown a keen interest which has served to strengthen our College. In the fields of sport, debating, music, drama and entertainment, 4T8 has proved its worth.

As we prepare to take up our life's work, we should stop briefly to assess the goal to which we have dedicated our effort in these past years. It would be wrong to consider graduation as a mere economic passport or an entrée to society. Rather, we must consider it as the conclusion of a formative period. We hope that our undergraduate days have served to broaden our mental horizons so that we may now more intelligently and tolerantly approach our everyday problems. May our university life prove to have been the anvil upon which was forged a lifetime of service.

Now, as we follow our separate ways, we trust that pleasant memories of comradeship in University College will always firmly bind the class of 4T8 to its Alma Mater.

U.C. LITERARY AND ATHLETIC SOCIETY EXECUTIVE

Second Row: W. STUART, Assistant Secretary-Treasurer; J. H. POTTS, Secretary; A. G. BOWERS, Treasurer; W. R. KNOWLTON, Fourth Year President; W. M. WADLEY, S.A.C. Representative; P. J. A. DANIELS, Third Year President; D. R. CAMPBELL, Second Year President; G. S. MACDONNELL, First Year President.

First Row: J. W. MCGUIRE, Publicity Director; K. E. JACKSON, Athletic Director; D. BRUCE MURRAY, Honorary President; R. H. CARLEY, President; R. S. MCPHEDRAN, Literary Director; H. APPLEBAUM, Social Director.

The "Lit" and the "Women's Undergraduate Association" arranged a constitutional agreement which provides a proportional financial structure for joint activities.

The Junior Common Room, administered by a committee of the Society, presented a renewed atmosphere and appearance with the addition of a "Snack Bar". The regular activities, which began with the Frosh Rally, were enthusiastically sponsored. The Soph-Frosh Banquet and Dance was held at the Royal York, while the Red and White Nights and various Year Parties provided opportunities to the freshmen for making new acquaintances.

Debating activities were enthusiastically received both in the Parliamentary Club and in the Robinette series. The "Undergrad", by devoting an issue to pictorial accounts of college activities, satisfied a demand for a pictorial account of college life.

The "Lit" representative on the S.A.C. was changed from the President of the Society to a separate officer, thus ensuring adequate attention to both positions.

The constitution was streamlined by the introduction of minor changes, and the elimination of obsolete sections.

WOMEN'S UNDERGRADUATE ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE

Second Row: ELIZABETH ROGERS, President Fourth Year; JEAN KAUFMAN, Athletics; NELDA BROWN, Music; LINDSAY WELD, N.F.C.U.S. Representative; MARGUERITE DELANEY, Literary Director; PATRICIA BELT, Publicity; SUSIE DAVIDSON, President First Year; MARJORIE LICK, Students' Administrative Council Representative.

First Row: MARY INNIS, Secretary; MISS M. B. FERGUSON, Dean of Women; CHRISTINE ZUMSTEIN, President W.U.A.; MRS. WOODBURY, Honorary President; JANE HAZARD, Treasurer.

Absent: ELAINE ROBINSON, Social Directress; NANCY LESUEUR, President Third Year; ANN EBBELS, President Second Year.

One of the main aims of the Women's Undergraduate Association this year has been to stimulate interest in student government among the women of University College. The plan inaugurated last spring to elect a separate representative to the S.A.C. has proven very satisfactory. Election for this office was held before the end of the fall term, so that the representative could learn S.A.C. procedure before her term of office.

An attempt was made to increase the interest in athletics, debating, music, and other extra-curricular activities. The record number of participants in all fields of athletics and in the Portia Debates, the founding of the Music Club, and the high quality of this year's "Undergrad", indicate the increased interest in cultural development.

Closer co-operation between the Literary and Athletic Society and the W.U.A. led to a much more congenial atmosphere in student affairs, particularly the Follies and the Arts Ball. The new Joint Constitution provides for Open College Meetings and will give students the opportunity to voice opinions on all college affairs common to both men and women.

VICTORIA COLLEGE

The time has come to say farewell to the Class of '48. The most of you entered college in the midst of war. Some of you belonged to earlier classes and delayed your graduation by serving with the armed forces. All of you looked forward to peace as a time when the stress and strain of life would be eased, and the opportunities of a successful life opened to you. Time has disillusioned you and you have learned that peace has its own trying and difficult problems. The discords and hates engendered by war, the dislocation of our economic system, the poverty of millions, the rival national ambitions and ideologies, combined with selfishness and greed have continued to create a world of chaos and confusion.

Into that world you enter upon graduation and bring to it the fruits of your university education. At times, you will regard your attainment as very meagre. And yet, the world will not be restored to health and sanity by any magic spell but only by the sincere efforts of countless men and women. I trust you will take to that world the intellectual discipline, the passion for truth and integrity, the love of excellence, the openness of mind, the sincerity and fairness of spirit for which the university stands. These are the virtues that must ultimately win if civilization is to endure. Your Alma Mater will follow your careers with confidence and hope.

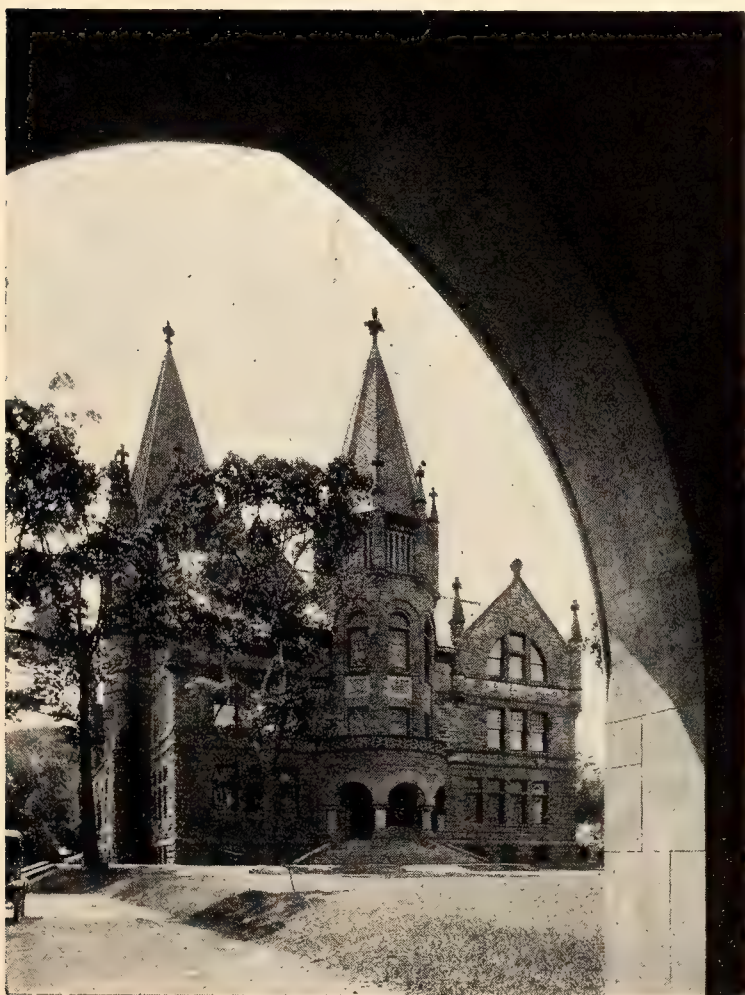

VICTORIA UNIVERSITY 1936-1948

On The Old Ontario Strand

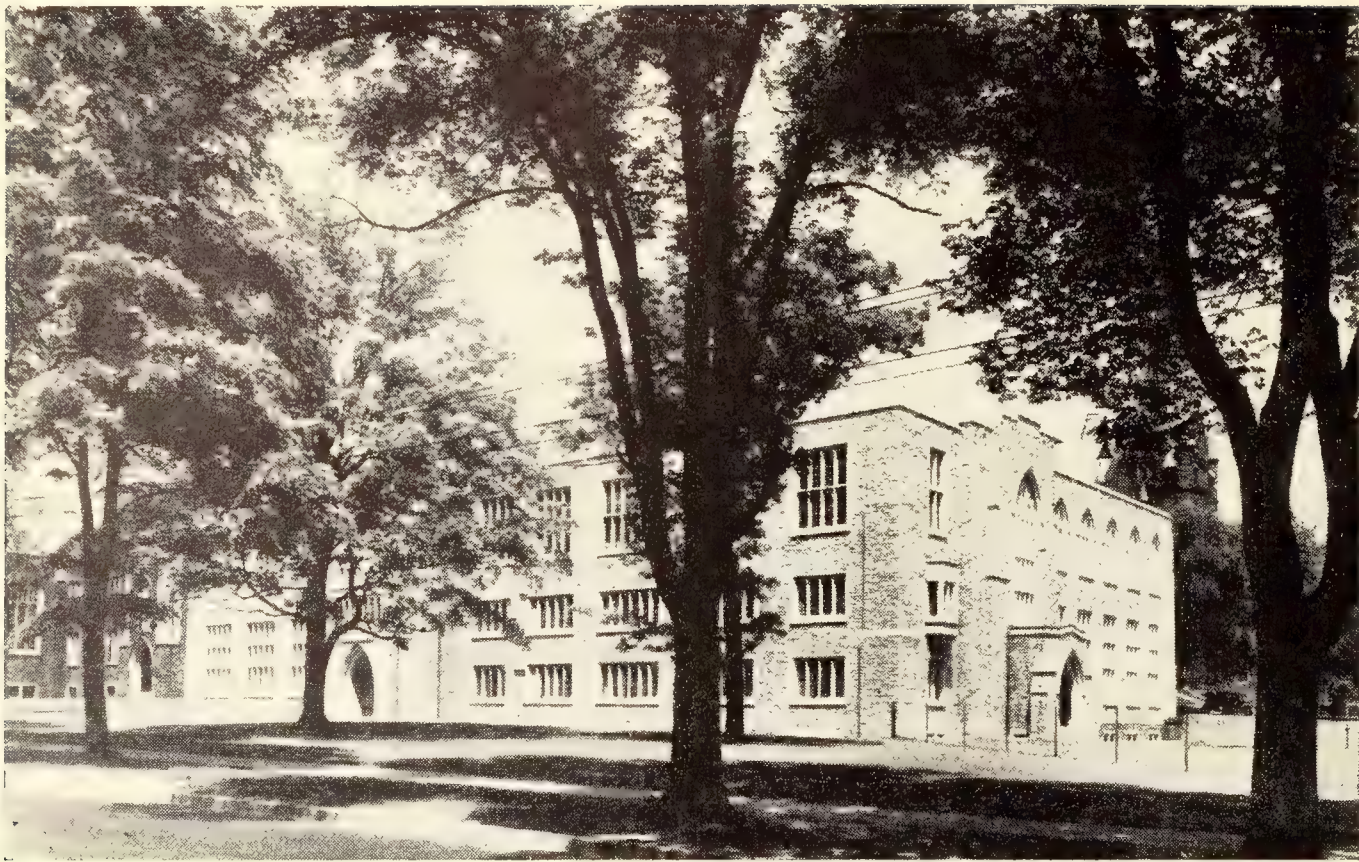

For the first fifty-six years of its history Victoria University was located in Cobourg. The Upper Canada Academy was opened in 1836 and on October 12 of the same year the Royal Charter was granted by King William IV. In 1841 the Charter was extended to include degree-conferring powers and the name was changed to Victoria College. The first degree in Arts in Ontario was conferred by Victoria College in 1845 on Oliver Springer.

A Faculty of Medicine was added in 1854; a Faculty of Law in 1860, and a Faculty of Theology in 1871. A department of Science was organized, and Faraday Hall, opened in 1877, was the first building in the province erected and devoted exclusively to scientific work.

In 1884 the name was changed to Victoria University. Egerton Ryerson was responsible for securing the Royal Charter and he was the first Principal of Victoria College in 1841. In 1850 Samuel S. Nelles took charge of the College. Under his wise and far-sighted guidance the work of Victoria grew and expanded as additional faculties were added. Yet for all his foresight, it is doubtful if Principal Nelles could have imagined the proud place Victoria holds today, boasting a registration of 2,527 students, and federated with the Empire's largest University. The process of that federation and expansion we shall now trace.

Federation with the University of Toronto

The federation of Victoria University with the University of Toronto became an established fact in 1892. Victoria was a pioneer in setting up the system of education by which the provincial university and three independent denominational universities and colleges have, in the course of time through their federation agreements, established the Faculty of Arts of the University of Toronto as it exists today.

Since 1892 Victoria University has conferred degrees in Divinity only and her power of conferring degrees in Arts, Medicine, Law and Science has remained in abeyance. From 1892 to 1928 the organization of Victoria University consisted of two faculties, Arts and Divinity. The task of putting university federation into operation and of moving from Cobourg to Toronto was accomplished by Chancellor Nathanael Burwash, who had succeeded Dr. Nelles in 1887 and held office until 1913. His name is perpetuated in Burwash Hall.

During the difficult war years, and during the period of expansion in 1920-30 when there was a large increase in the number of students and when many new buildings were added, Chancellor R. P. Bowles guided the destinies of the institution.

Growth And Reorganization

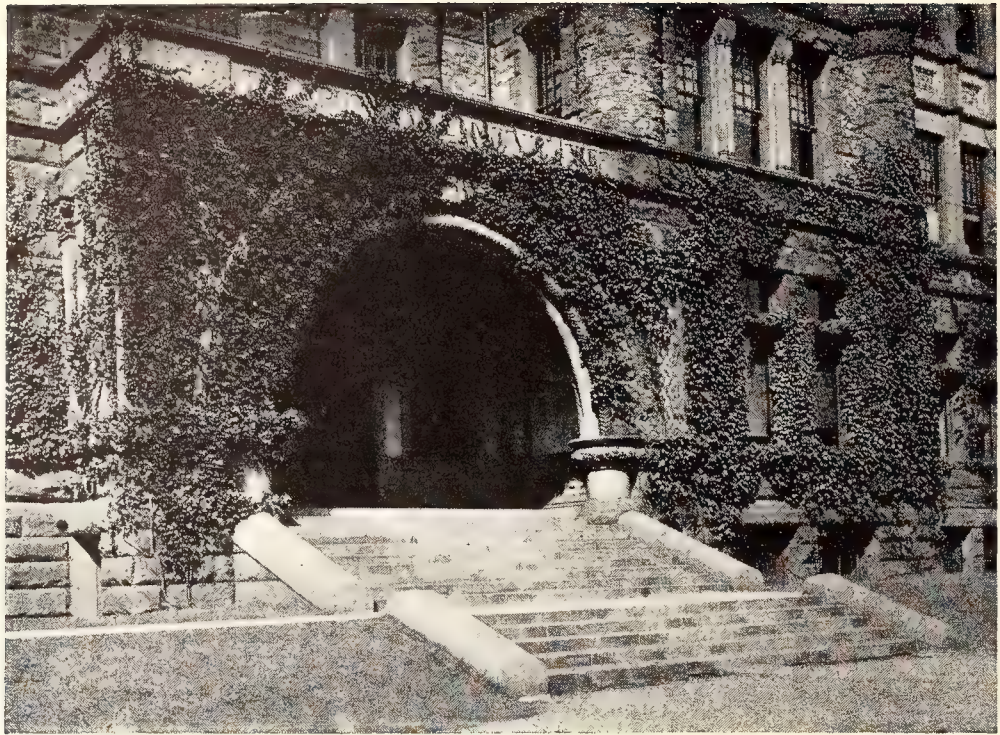

Residence accommodation was provided in Cobourg, but for the first eleven years in Toronto, Victoria had no residence for students. The Annesley Hall Women's Residence was opened in 1903. The Birge-Carnegie Library was completed in 1910. Burwash Hall and the Victoria College Men's Residences, the gift of Mr. Chester D. Massey, were opened in 1913.

In 1926 Victoria University received Wymilwood Women Students' Union and Residence, the gift of Mrs. E. R. Wood and Lady Flavelle. Emmanuel College and the Emmanuel College Men's Residences were first occupied in 1931. Victoria University now has residence accommodation for about 250 women students and about 270 men students.

Church union in 1925 affected both the work and the organization of Victoria University. The Victoria University Act of 1928 provided for two colleges, Victoria College in Arts and Emmanuel College in Divinity. In 1930 Dr. E. W. Wallace succeeded Chancellor Bowles.

In War And Peace

In February, 1941, Principal Walter T. Brown of Victoria College was appointed Chancellor and President of Victoria University, succeeding Dr. Wallace, who had resigned because of ill health.

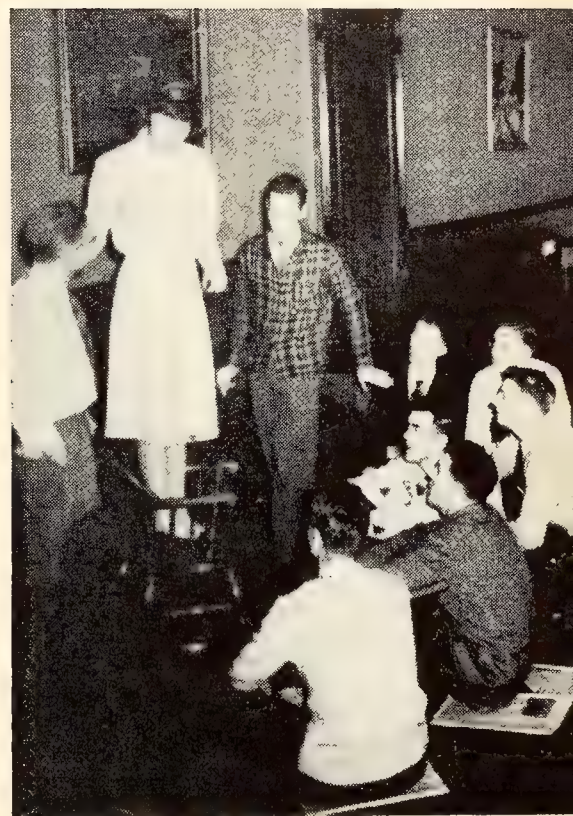

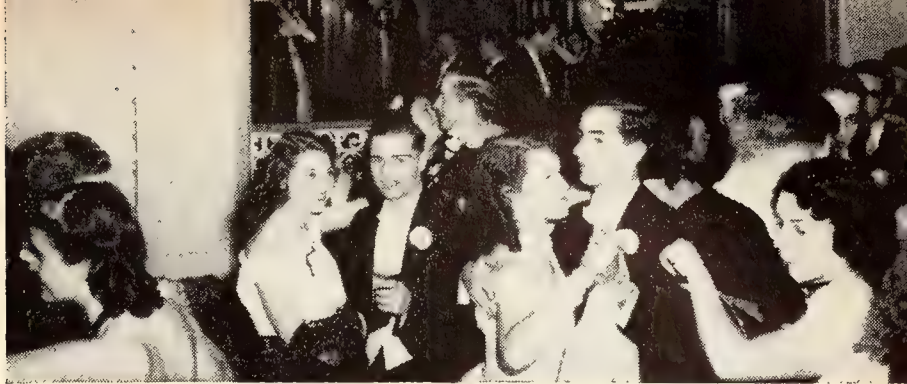

From May, 1941, until May, 1944, a number of houses of the Men's Residences were occupied, first by members of the R.C.A.F. taking the Radio Technicians' Course, and later by members of No. 1 and No. 2 Canadian Army University Courses.

During the session 1947-48 there are 2,527 students in attendance at Victoria College and 76 in attendance at Emmanuel College.

Of this number approximately 903 are ex-service men and women. On the Victoria University Roll of Service there are the names of 1,408 men and women, graduates, undergraduates, former students and members of the staff of Victoria College and Emmanuel College. Seventy-seven of these made the Supreme sacrifice.

In 1944 Dr. Brown's formal title was changed to President and Vice-Chancellor of Victoria University. Professor H. Bennett is Dean of Victoria College and Rev. A. D. Matheson is Dean of Emmanuel College. The Chancellor of Victoria University is Major-General A. C. Spencer of London, Ontario.

The past year has brought about an improvement in student self-government. The undergraduates this year achieved a new V.C.U. constitution which eliminated the regular open meeting and replaced it with a representative Assembly of seventy-five members, to which the executive is directly responsible.

In athletics Victoria has held her own, from the winning of the Mulock cup by the football team to the winning of the inter-faculty title by the girl's first hockey team. The two athletic unions are now united with the V.C.U., thereby presenting a unified executive and committee system for all student activities.

The social committee has given us a successful Vic. Informal, two Vic. At-Homes, three Scarlet and Golds, and numerous tea dances.

The Cody Award was captured by the Dramatic Society in the inter-faculty drama festival and the Music Club enjoyed another successful performance of Gilbert and Sullivan which they played for capacity audiences.

All in all it has been a good year, one to be remembered, and one of which to be proud.

Link between scattered Vic classmen and the harassed Alumni Association is the Victoria College Permanent Executive, charged with future organizational headaches in carrying out reunions, dances, banquets, and other projects sponsored by the Association. This year has an unusually talented executive. With Reid Scott of Debating Parliament and oratorical fame, as President, Cay Annis, with experience from Acta and from making innumerable posters and sets for Vic functions, as Associate President, George Edmonds of class execs, music and dramatic clubs as Treasurer, Jean Birkenshaw of the V.C.U. and Jack Pearse of notoriety for appearance in the Vic Bob and Vic At-Home shows, the 4T8 Permanent Executive should be one of the brightest lights in the Alumni Association.

Partly overlapping with these are the holders of the College Sticks. Elected at the end of the third year as the pre-eminent Vic undergraduates in athletic and non-athletic spheres, the four Stick men and women receive gold Vic pins and cherish for a year historic canes inscribed with the names of previous winners. Antiquity of tradition can be judged from the fact that the names of both Dean Bennett and Mrs. Bennett appear as undergraduate Stick holders. Helen Hulse and Jack Pearse were elected to hold the Senior Sticks and, peculiarly enough, a tradition seems to be starting, for I am sure an analogous situation could be found with those of the preceding year in Joan and Lin Mitchell. Cay Fowler and Dave Preston hold the Athletic Sticks, with the latter being especially notable as possibly one of Canada's Olympic track stars.

TRINITY COLLEGE

REV. R. S. K. SEELEY,
M.A., D.D.

It gives me great pleasure to write a message to the Graduating Year of 1948. You are the largest graduating class that has gone out from this College for some years, and we are proud that you go to represent us and the things for which we stand in the life of the community. It is no easy world into which you are entering. On all sides there is a feeling of insecurity and instability, and there are few who would be prepared to make any confident predictions for the future. Yet these very factors of uncertainty present a challenge to you. The shaping of events lies with those who have wide horizons and a balanced view of life. Perhaps above all in the forming of patterns for the world in which we live there is need for those who have laid firm hold upon a sense of values. If your University career has meant anything to you at all, it has equipped you with the qualities which enable you to make large contributions in such times as these. Very many of you brought with you into the University a depth of experience normally denied to University students. This background, acquired in a school that was stern and grim, has enabled you to see in truer perspective the values which University life has to impart. To some extent you go out equipped with a fuller stock of factual knowledge. This is important but in itself is of limited value in the life which you are now entering. More important is the sense of perspective which comes from a study of our cultural heritage and the knowledge of the values which have survived the test of time and change. We believe also that the life of the College has also brought to you a knowledge of the things necessary for true community life and of the importance of harmonious human relationships. You now go out to do your share in building the good society, and we hope that you have discovered in your life here the necessity for spiritual foundations for that building.

During these past years you have contributed much to the corporate life of the College, and each of you in your own way has added something to our tradition and ethos. For these things we thank you. Your influence will remain for the generations to come. But we do not now bid you farewell. We welcome you afresh into the larger society of Trinity graduates, assured that you have much to add to that group which is distinguished both for its attainments and its service to the community.

May good success attend your undertakings, and may you give to the larger community as much as you have contributed to us.

TRINITY COLLEGE BOARD OF STEWARDS, 1947-8

Second Row: R. J. BLACKWELL, Head of 5T0; G. W. HEWSON, T.U. Review Representative; J. H. CROZIER, Graduates' Representative; S. O. CARTER, T.C.A.A. Representative; W. M. KILBOURN, Non-Resident 4T8; F. T. KINGSTON, Neutral Member; K. G. PERKINS, Head of 5T1; T. R. H. BOX, T.C.L.I. Representative.

First Row: R. BRYDEN, Representative St. George St. Residences; M. K. HICKS, Non-Resident 4T9 Secretary; E. S. BULL, Head of College, Vice-Chairman; MR. E. G. STRATHY, Faculty Member, Chairman; C. I. P. TATE, Head of Arts; G. O. SHEPHERD, Head of 4T8, Treasurer; K. G. R. GWYNNE-TIMOTHY, Head of 4T9, S.A.C. Representative.

Absent: W. L. B. HEATH, Non-Resident 5T0.

Trinity College Board of Stewards

The Board of Stewards functions as the Executive Committee of the men of college. Its membership consists of a faculty member who acts as chairman and the Head of College who is the vice-chairman, together with fifteen members elected from the four undergraduate years, the graduate students and the three main societies, viz., the Trinity College Literary Institute, the Trinity College Athletic Association and the Trinity University Review Board of Management. The Board has general Jurisdiction over inter-society relations and transacts all business affecting the undergraduate body as a whole.

Twice each term the Board reports on activities to the College Meeting. In addition to these four regular meetings the Head of College or the Board may call extra meetings for matters of student interest. The Board itself meets at least once a month. In between meetings the business of the Board is carried on by a number of committees set up to handle the details of administration. The Executive Committee of the Board consists of the Head of College, the Head of Arts and the Secretary and Treasurer of the Board.

During the last year the most important achievement of the Board in co-operation with the college authorities was the opening of the Buttery, which has become the social centre of the college.

ST. HILDA'S COLLEGE HOUSE COMMITTEE

First Row: SUSAN BURGESS, Head of Third Year; ELIZABETH SAWYER, Head of College; JEAN CASE, S.A.C. Representative; NANCY SCHELL, Head of Second Year.

Absent: SHEILA HILL, Head of First Year.

Because St. Hilda's enjoys the status of a college, it has its own institutions. College Meeting, the organ of student government, is the most important of these. It administers library, music and entertainment funds.

House rules and activities are discussed by the House Committee before being presented for discussion and adoption at College Meeting to which all resident and non-resident women of college belong. Automatically, the President of College Meeting is the Head of College, the Secretary is the Head of Third Year, and the Treasurer is the Head of Second Year.

The St. Hilda's College House Committee is made up of the Principal, Mrs. W. A. Kirkwood, the Head of College, the Heads of the three lower years, and the Representative of the Students' Administrative Council. The Head of College and the Heads of the Years are chosen for their academic standing, while the S.A.C. representative is elected by the women of the college.

ST. HILDA'S LITERARY SOCIETY EXECUTIVE

Second Row: CARLOTTA BOLTON, Junior Debating Representative; MARY DUNLOP, Curator; ROBIN TAYLOR, First Year Representative; DIANA WILLIAMS, First Year Representative.

First Row: ELIZABETH LOFFT, Treasurer; NAOMI KIRKWOOD, Secretary; MARGARET COCKSHUTT, President; SUSAN COCHRAN, Vice-President; PEGGY MERWIN, Sr. Debating Representative.

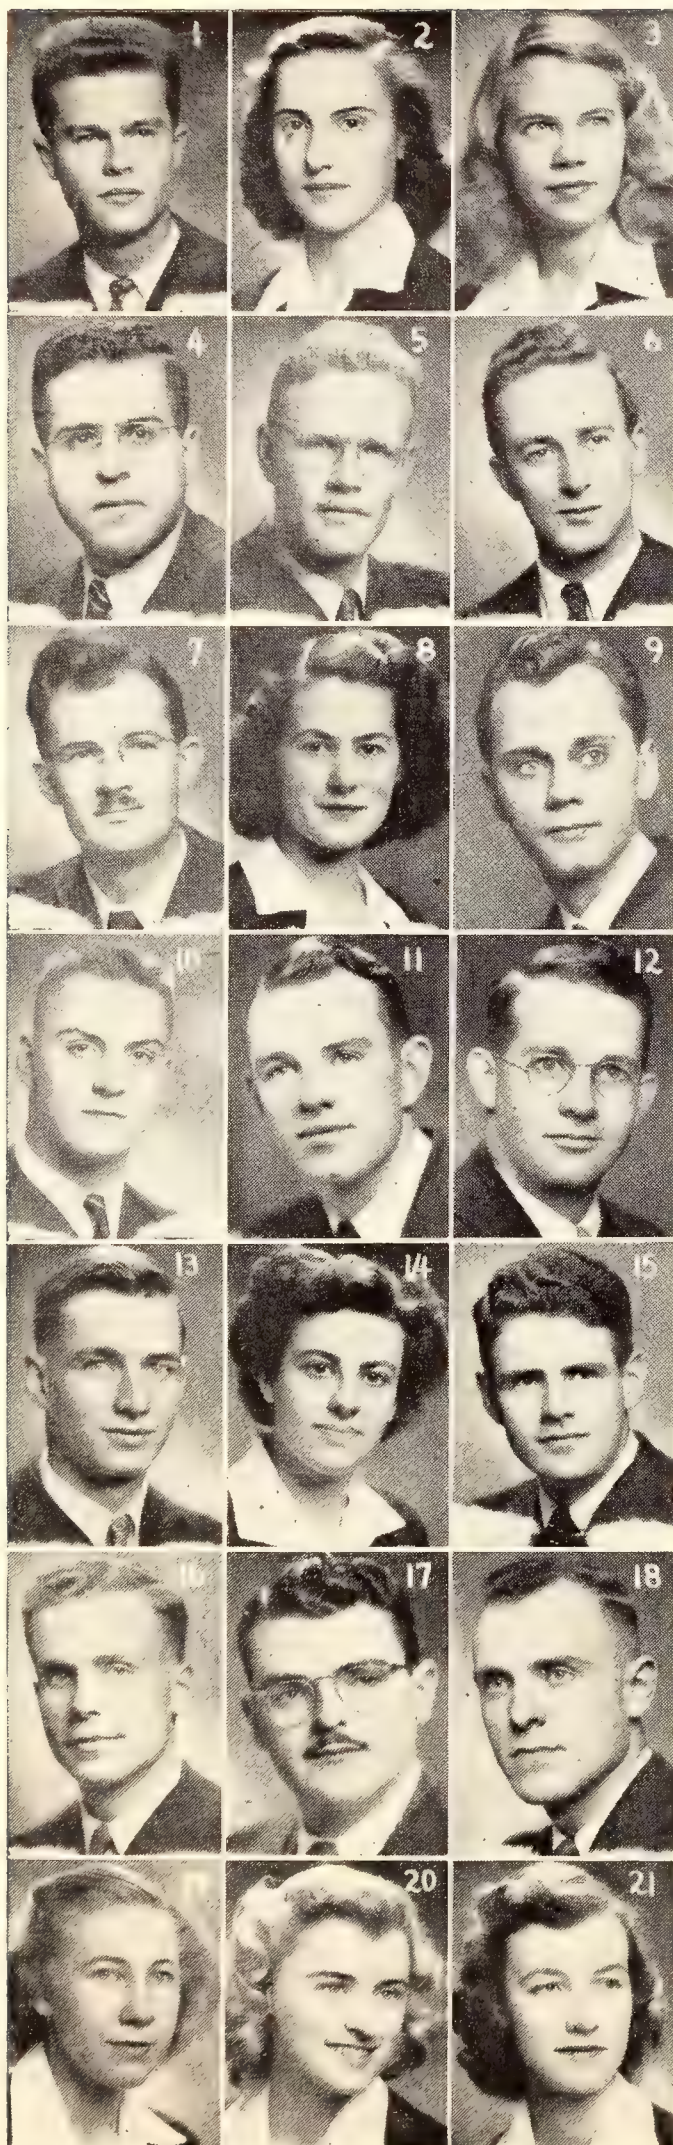

In spite of the hilarious abandon with which the executive faced the camera, the Lit. is a venerable institution with a worthy purpose, which is to instruct and entertain its members by giving them the opportunity to participate in debates and plays.

In the inter-year debates on immigration and education, 5TO and 4T9 proved their capacity for eloquent argument. They will compete for the debating trophy. The plays have been interesting in their variety. The Third Year turned to the past for inspiration, and produced the Greek legend Pandora's Box and the mediaeval play Everyman. In complete contrast to these was the presentation of Alice in Wonderland by the Fourth Year. This was a triumph in dramatic humour. The sense of fun was contagious; the spectators in the front rows were literally "rolling in the aisles" to dodge the pots and pans hurled by the wild cook.

The final debate, the First Year plays, and the banquet, will complete the Lit's programme for the year.

ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE

REV. L. J. BONDY,
C.S.B., M.A., PH.D.

An Arts College in the University of Toronto sets for itself a number of objectives which it hopes to attain through and in the members of its student body individually and collectively. In the first place, it seeks to cultivate human minds, that is, to train and direct the dynamic forces of the intellect by focussing them upon the natural and supernatural ends of man. It proposes to do this by implanting and developing in students the intellectual habits of wisdom, understanding, science, prudence and art, habits which enable them to live and act as befits thinking beings. Secondly, it assumes the task not only of introducing men and women into the stream of traditional learning, but of making them so essential a part of it, that they will strengthen its resistance against all disintegrating forces and swell its current for the course that lies ahead. Thirdly, it hopes to foster in advanced students an intellectual maturity corresponding to their physical maturity, and to achieve this through an orderly blending of their experience with their knowledge of life.

It is the hope of St. Michael's that she is, both by divine vocation and by studied excellence, in a favorable position to attain these objectives.

In Retrospect

From the vantage point of 1948 St. Michael's College surveys, in retrospect, a wise and steadily developing scholastic record. Beginning as a small classical college, St. Michael's has broadened itself into an arts college of excellent reputation. The College purposes to provide a liberal education in a Catholic spirit, believing that spiritual and moral culture must be integrated with the intellectual life of the true student.

St. Michael's was founded in 1852 at the request of the Right Reverend Dr. de Charbonnel, then Bishop of Toronto. At first called "College de Ste. Marie", the name was changed in 1856 when the Basilian fathers moved the site of their college from Bond Street to the present location, the gift of Captain John Elmsley.

The college was affiliated with the University of Toronto in 1881. By the Federation Act of 1890 St. Michael's became linked with the other denominational colleges. It was not until 1907, however, that the college was in a position to provide complete university instruction and was officially declared a college in the Faculty of Arts.

Because there were no facilities for the education of women at St. Michael's two sister colleges became established. In the year 1911, both St. Joseph's College, under the congregation of St. Joseph, and Loretto College, under the Religious of the Institute of the Blessed Virgin Mary, were founded as women's departments of St. Michael's College. The Year Books list eight women enrolled in St. Michael's in 1912. To-day there are, in all, over 717 students; of these approximately 200 are women.

The graduates of 1948 number 190, many of whom have spent their immediate pre-university years in the Services. They go forth with faith to meet the problems of a post-war world.

ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE S.A.C.

First Row: B. DEWEY, Western Representative; B. DUMPHEY, Second Year Representative; A. LA ROCQUE, Vice-President; G. MCINTYRE, President; A. MONAHAN, Secretary-Treasurer; J. BRODERICK, Third Year Representative; F. VIOLA, Athletic Representative; C. CULLEN, First Year Representative.

As the academic year of 1947-48 draws to a close, the students of St. Michael's, Loretto and St. Joseph's Colleges may look back with justifiable pride on their activities, commencing in September with their assistance at the St. Michael's day Mass in St. Basil's Church.

Almost phenomenal was the success of the Christmas Carnival and the clothing drive in aid of needy European students. The traditional St. Michael's At Home which transformed the refectory in Brennan Hall into a romantic ballroom climaxed the year's social activities which included a Freshmen Reception, Tea Dances, Saturday-night dances and Year Parties. The Thomistic Society provided speakers and the College magazine, the Trireme, thought-provoking topics for discussion and the exchange of ideas. These were still further augmented by extremely active participation in debates on the inter-faculty and inter-collegiate levels. French and German language Clubs deepened student appreciation of these cultures and new impetus was given to musical and dramatic endeavours by the high calibre of the entertainment provided by the Music and Drama Society. The Co-Op Tuck Shop, established in March, 1947, has conclusively proved its soundness as a business venture and its popularity with the students.

As in other years, extreme interest has been shown in athletics by the members of St. Michael's College. This year the athletic interests have been rewarded by the conquest of the Reed Trophy which is emblematic of all-round success in interfaculty competition. Outstanding athletic entries were those of Track, Basketball and Football, but all in all the driving spirit of St. Michael's men is to be found in every field of their efforts.

LORETTO COLLEGE S.A.C.

Second Row: K. HANLON, N.F.C.U.S. Representative; M. KEARNS, First Year Representative; M. DANDENEAU, Sodality Prefect; D. CULLEN, Junior Representative; J. PREDHOMME, Dramatics Representative; J. MACDONALD, Debating Representative; R. BAUER, Athletics' Representative.

First Row: S. SMEATON, Social Representative; M. FLYNN, Second Year Representative; V. ROBERTSON, President; J. FLYNN, Vice-President; A. DOLAN, Head of House; B. REINHART, Torontonensis Representative.

St. Michael's Women's Athletic Directorate sponsored entries in each competitive sport, reaching the semi-finals in tennis, and the finals in baseball and basketball. Last year's precedent, an "Athletic Night" for non-athletes, was repeated with the same success.

Attendance at monthly General Assemblies and a turn-out of 90 per cent for annual elections ensured responsible student leadership; and this acceptance of responsibility was carried into local and national NFCUS activities. Debating Societies of Loretto and St. Joseph's College, and the St. Joseph's College Literary Society encouraged individual development, and contributed to the intellectual vitality of the student group as a whole.

The Annual Retreat was the occasion of special spiritual encouragement; and an innovation this year was a joint Communion Breakfast, after which Athletic awards were presented.

On the lighter side, regular teas and frequent parties marked the social programme.

Graduation Banquets at each college closed a year of activities planned to combine the advantages of tradition with constructive development — a year to be crowned, we hope, with academic success.

COMMERCE AND FINANCE

C. A. ASHLEY,
B.COM., A.C.A.

You are the largest graduating class for at least fourteen years, a disadvantage that has been accentuated for many of you by a shortened academic course. The department has done its best to deal with these problems within the limits of its facilities, but is painfully aware of shortcomings. The enthusiasm and initiative of students have brought an intellectual revival to the University, and a serious interest in public affairs based on a wider and longer experience than is usual amongst students. We thought that, by the time it ended, the war had left a lasting mark on the University; but the mark has changed profoundly during the past two years, and it is no longer entirely sombre.

The disillusion of peace is upon us now, as it was when many members of the staff graduated some twenty-five years ago. The failure of the Peace Conference, the break up of the Genoa Conference, and the intransigence of one ally or another, were as disheartening then as similar occasions are now. The economic crisis that led to an upsurge of nationalism and the second war was largely the result of old habits of thought, of prejudice, and of unenlightened self-interest. Our experience of the nineteen-thirties may have been sad enough to prevent a recurrence. The good wishes of the department go with you as you leave us to do your bit to keep the world sane.

COMMERCE CLUB

Third Row: J. W. GRITTANI, Third Year Representative; P. SWAN, A. McLEAN, B. Mc-ANDREW, J. T. GLEN, R. J. WILSON, Vice-President; D. W. BARRON, A. B. BURNES.

First Row: A. BURNES, Second Year Representative; G. A. REID, Secretary; D. R. AUSTIN, Publicity Director; W. WRIGHT.

For the twenty-seventh consecutive year, the University of Toronto Commerce Club served as the official representative of the students in Commerce and Finance. As an indication of the esteem in which he has long been held by the student body, Professor Ashley was once more the honorary president.

The Club, in accord with its purposes, sponsored various services and activities throughout the year. A series of golf, tennis, table tennis, squash and bridge tournaments were held, for which cups and prizes were awarded to the winners.

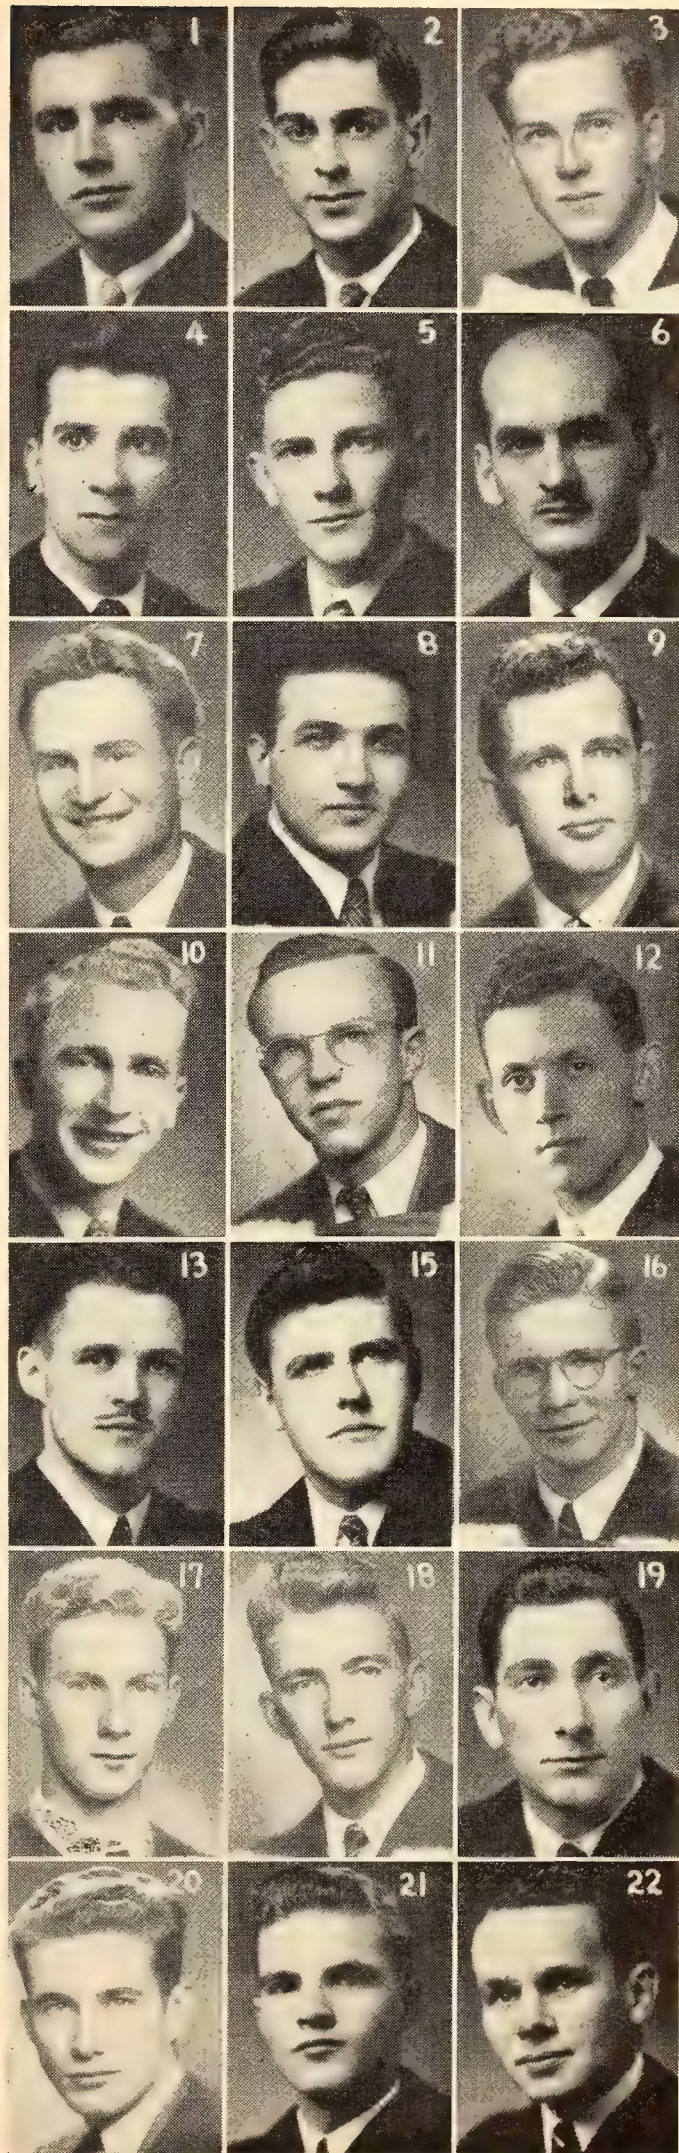

The Finance Frolic was successfully held at Casa Loma. It is hoped that this will become a tradition.

As a service to undergraduates the Book Exchange provided an opportunity to avoid the high prices and shortage of texts. In addition, the Club offered Canada Year Books, subscriptions to the Foreign Trade Journal, and C&F year pins to the students. Despite increased costs and printing difficulties, the Commerce Journal was once again published.

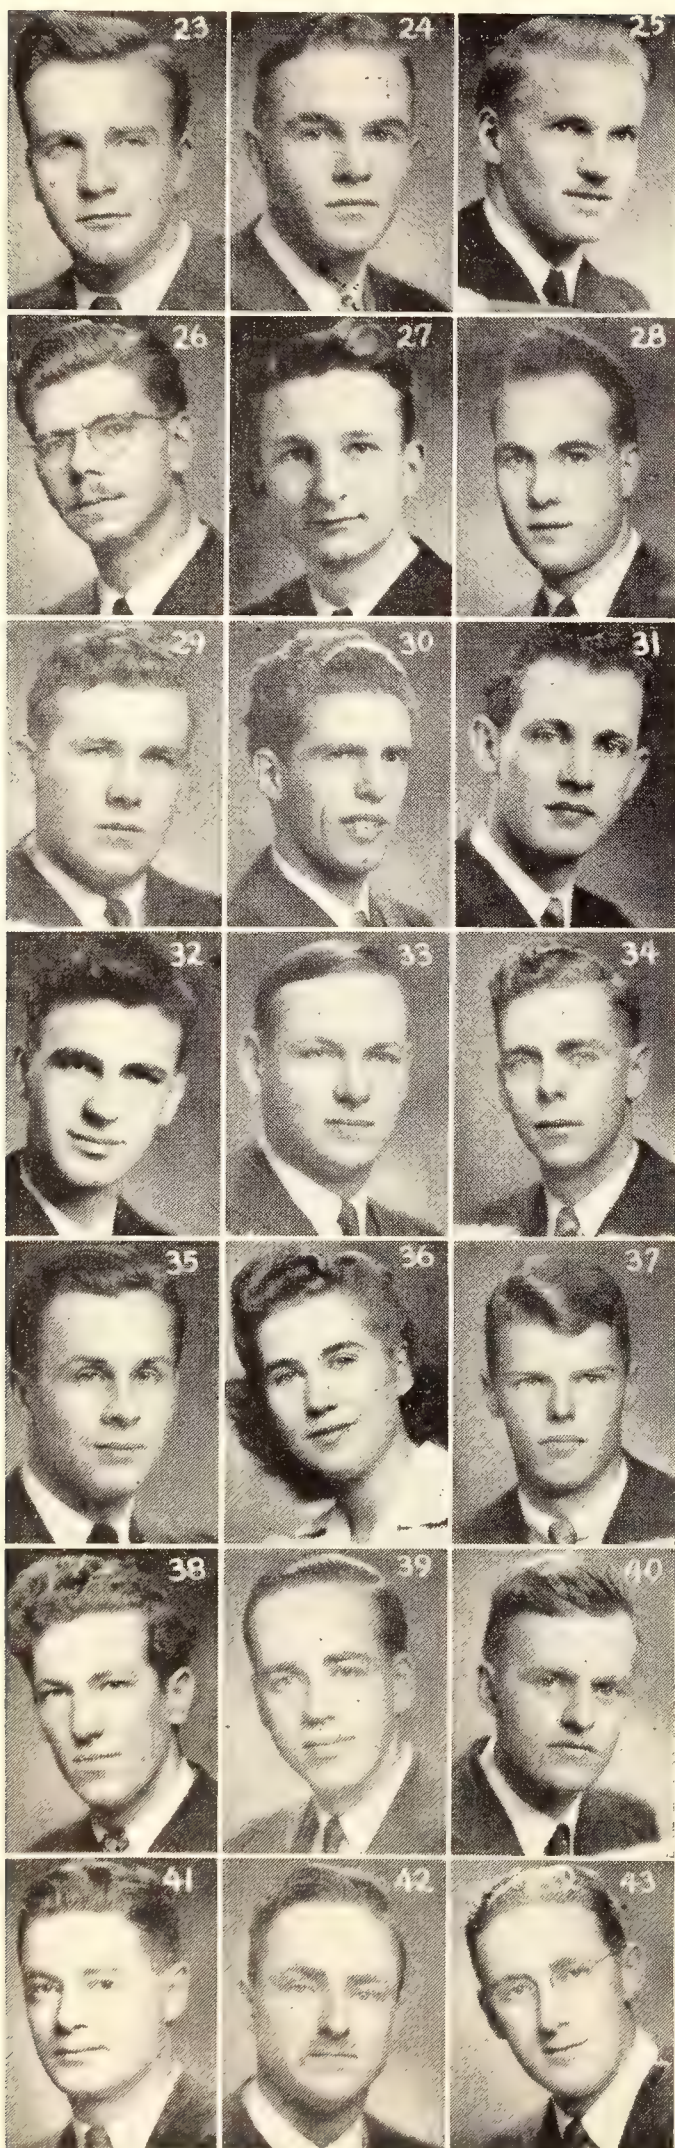

In an attempt to broaden student appreciation of various fields of business endeavour, several prominent businessmen addressed the members at the Club's regular "smokers". In this way, undergraduates in the course were able to take advantage of the experience and advice of these men.

KNOX COLLEGE

REV. W. W. BRYDEN,
M.A., D.D.

This day is both a warning and a challenge to all men, especially to those entering the ministry of the Church of Jesus Christ. Great changes have been wrought in the world. Among these, probably none is more disturbing than the radical change which, through countless influences, has been taking place in our own personalities. Perhaps if we could know it, the various dangers from without which cause so many misgivings, are not nearly so much to be feared as this new menace, arising from within, which has unstabilized our whole being, our manner of and outlook upon life.

It has been said that there is nothing which man so hates as Change, since it is so upsetting to his accustomed securities. But of two things we Christians must be reminded. We must acknowledge that God Himself is the Author of Change, although He permits nothing to run loose outside His hands. We must recognize too, that our securities are, for the most part, of our own making and must be dissolved if we are truly to know the Security which is in God alone.

The axiom of all Christian faith is that God's truth is Eternal; therefore is for ever unchangeable. Nevertheless, the true significance of this fact is only rightly perceived when we also recognize that this unchangeable Truth can only be discerned aright, when it comes to every individual, to every situation, to every age or generation as something entirely new. "Old things are passed away; behold! these have become new." Approach your ministry in this spirit and with this understanding and it cannot but be fruitful.

WYCLIFFE COLLEGE

REV. RAMSAY ARMITAGE,
M.C., M.A., D.D.

In Blackmore's Lorna Doone, which tells a romantic story of North Devon (and which we recommend along with John Inglesant and John Halifax Gentleman for refreshment in the midst of modern reading) girt John Ridd strides through the chapters with a single heartedness which is good contrast to the historical background of the story.

It happens that toward the end of the tale a grateful king summons him to the royal presence and in unexpected ceremony creates him "Sir John Ridd." Whereupon astonished and amazed he says to the King without forms of speech—"Sir, I am very much obliged. But what be I to do with it?"

To be made an alumnus of Wycliffe or of a fellow theological college is better than John Ridd's knighthood.

Are we as ready to say to our Alma Mater and to our teachers and to fellow students in whose company we fulfilled our course:

"Sirs, I am very much obliged"?

There are members of the Wycliffe Family in every part of the world who are never forgetful of all they owe to their old college.

"I thank my God for every remembrance of you."

I recommend to the latest alumni this continuing gratitude and constant loyalty.

"I am very much obliged" (a homely honest word).

But even more I commend the phrase that follows: "What be I to do with it?"

All our years of study and academic progress with graduation achievement present us with this challenging question which can only be answered in service to Christ and to His Church: and this only to be undertaken in faith which is ours by His prevenient grace.

Wherefore as St. Paul said it:

"Maintain the spiritual glow,
Stick to your work,
Continuing instant in prayer."

Absent: J. MAINE, Opposition Leader.

"ONCE" cried the Mock Turtle, "I WAS A REAL TURTLE".—Lewis Carrol.

During the war years the Government of Wycliffe College fell to an Executive body, supplemented by a weak Cabinet which was elected by all members of the House. The fall of 1947 brought forth a chaotic situation which necessitated a change. In October the "Utopia Party" brought forth a motion to abolish the House, the Cabinet and the Society in favour of total Executive Government.

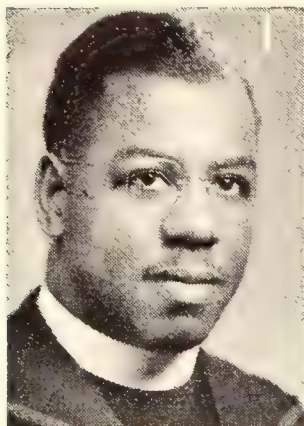

The Democratic Principles which formed the foundation of the Society cried out, "Once I was a Real Turtle, now I am a Mock Turtle. Am I to become no Turtle?"

"No" cried the opposition. The Government once defeated, the Radical Conservatives came to power. Democracy again rules in Wycliffe!

This year's accomplishments include a new tuck shop, a combination radio-phonograph, Saturday social evenings, more debates and Program Meetings and a REAL TURTLE that is all powerful!

Special thanks to the Social Director, Mr. J. Cunningham, B.A., for the splendid At-Home where decorations and atmosphere were Victorian. The evening left all members of the House feeling that they had been born one hundred years too late.

EMMANUEL COLLEGE

REV. A. DAWSON MATHESON,
M.A., B.D., D.D.

It is not difficult thus to address you, for we have travelled together for three years and have shared many of the thoughts and emotions, the problems and the purposes that belong to our common life as followers of our Lord and Master.

You are going out into a troubled world: let that add to the challenge of your call. As in many other days you will find all sorts of winds and currents passing across the field of the minister's work, both in respect to thought and action. Let me counsel you to steer your course by the stars. There are abiding truths and principles in which you can have complete confidence. What God has done stands. The character and promises of His Son compel our reverence. In the story of Christ, the ever living Saviour, you have a Gospel sufficient for all the needs of men.

Your teachers at Emmanuel will follow your course in the Graduate Seminary of the active ministry with great interest. They will remember you in their prayers.

Our word to you on parting is not "good-bye" but "au revoir". We cheer you on your way confident that you will endeavour under divine guidance to prove yourselves good ministers of Jesus Christ.

EMMANUEL COLLEGE STUDENTS' SOCIETY

Second Row: A. HUNT, Secretary-Treasurer, Athletic Society; T. E. HANCOCK, Torontonensis Representative; R. M. THOMPSON, Worship Committee; J. A. FILSHIE, President Athletic Association; P. M. SMITH, Don of Residences; C. R. NEWTON, Treasurer; W. K. HOUSLANDER, Missionary Committee.

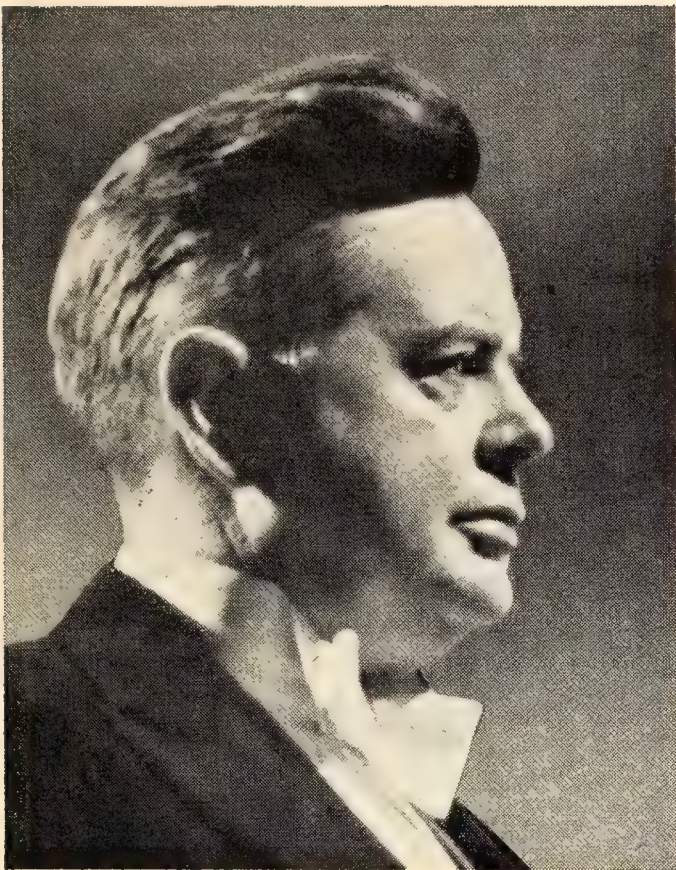

First Row: I. G. MACLEOD, Theological Society; W. L. BROWN, Vice-President; DR. C. W. LESLIE, Honorary President; R. C. GATES, President; E. R. RINTOUL, Secretary.

As the college year once again comes to its close the men of Emmanuel who are looking forward to graduation are also looking back upon the seven years which they have spent within the walls of a university. We have been particularly fortunate to be able to have spent the last three of them at Emmanuel for here there has been shared that close fellowship of staff and student which can only be found in the small college. This feeling of oneness is deepened immeasurably in a theological college because both staff and student body are dedicated to the service of Christ and His Church. The common task which we share is going to continue to be shared by all long after the college halls cease to echo to our footsteps and others take our places.

To those who come after us may we say that you come to a college and a calling which demands at the very least the best you can give. Strangely enough you will find that you will receive in return all that is fine and worthy in life for in it you will find the fulfillment of life.

For this college and for her work we offer our fervent prayers that God will be with her in all things.

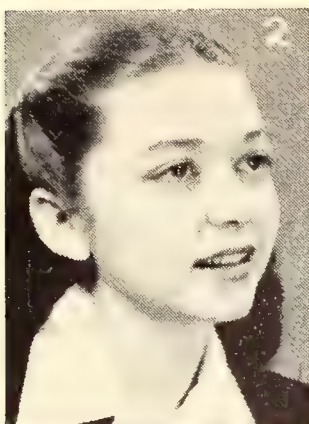

FACULTY OF MUSIC

SIR ERNEST MacMILLAN,
B.A., D.Mus., LL.D., Mus. Doc.

It gives me great pleasure to write a short valedictory word to all who take their degrees in Music this year. Some of you—perhaps most—were interrupted in your studies by the call of war and on the face of it would appear to have lost a serious amount of time by this interruption. However, apart from the satisfaction of having served your country in its hour of greatest need, I think you will find that this experience has brought to you a greater maturity of outlook than that which characterised some of our graduates in years gone by. That, at any rate, is the impression I have received in my dealings with you and I shall take a great personal pride in presenting you for your degrees, should that duty fall to my lot. I am sure that all members of the Faculty, especially those with whom you have been in immediate contact, will join with me in offering you our warmest congratulations and good wishes.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

W. J. DUNLOP,
B.A., B.PAED., LL.D.

It is a great privilege to have the opportunity of extending one's best wishes for abundant success to the young men and the young women who have now completed, under my general direction, the education and the training which they came to this University to obtain. You are going out, I fully realize, with high enthusiasm and great hopes to make careers for yourselves in your chosen professions. May your hopes be realized in reasonably large measure and may your enthusiasm continue unabated throughout the years!

This year a larger number of teachers than ever before will be awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts which they have fully earned by reason of faithful work done in the Pass Course for Teachers. Another graduating class consists of veterans who have completed the Certificate Course in Business which they prefer to call the Course in Business Administration. This ten months' intensive Course has equipped hundreds of them for important positions in the sphere of industry, manufacturing, and commerce.

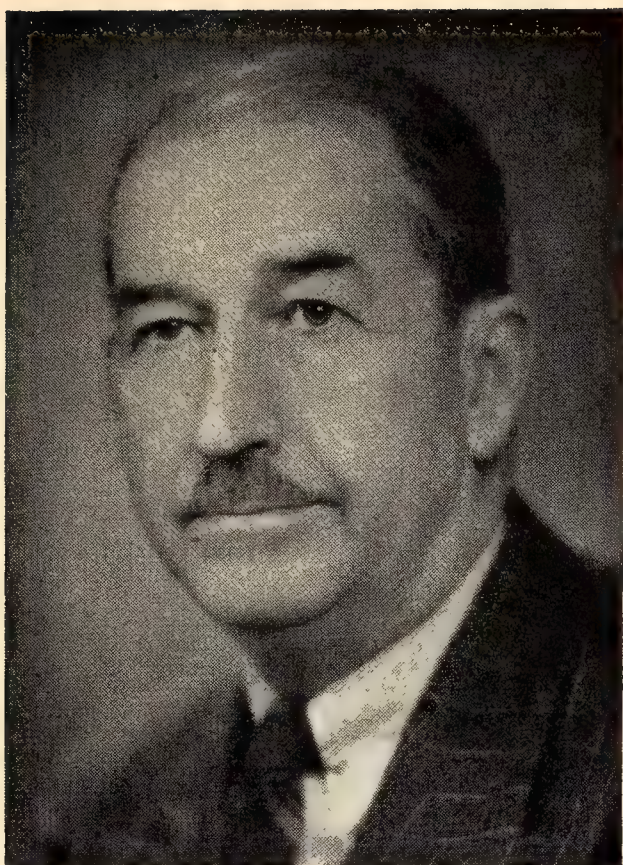

We have no graduates this year in the Courses in Occupational Therapy and Physical Therapy because those two Courses were enlarged and developed to become Courses of three years' duration instead of two as they formerly were. A very new Course, whose first graduates went out into the world in 1947, is the two-year Course in Institutional Management. If all goes well at examination time, there will be nearly one hundred and seventy graduates in this Course. These men and women, most of them veterans, have been trained for positions in summer resorts, tourist camps, hotels, clubs, hospitals and similar institutions. Almost certainly, these graduates, like those of last year, will step immediately into reasonably lucrative positions in their chosen field. Another Course which is becoming more popular each year is the Certificate Course in Business in which instruction is given only in the evenings. As this Course naturally languished during the War, there will not be many graduates in it this year.

For you who are graduating through the Department of University Extension my wish is that you may be, as I know you will be, good Canadian citizens and that you may have the privilege of doing your part in making Canada a good place in which to live and work.

FACULTY OF MEDICINE

J. A. MacFARLANE,
O.B.E., B.A., M.B., F.R.C.S.

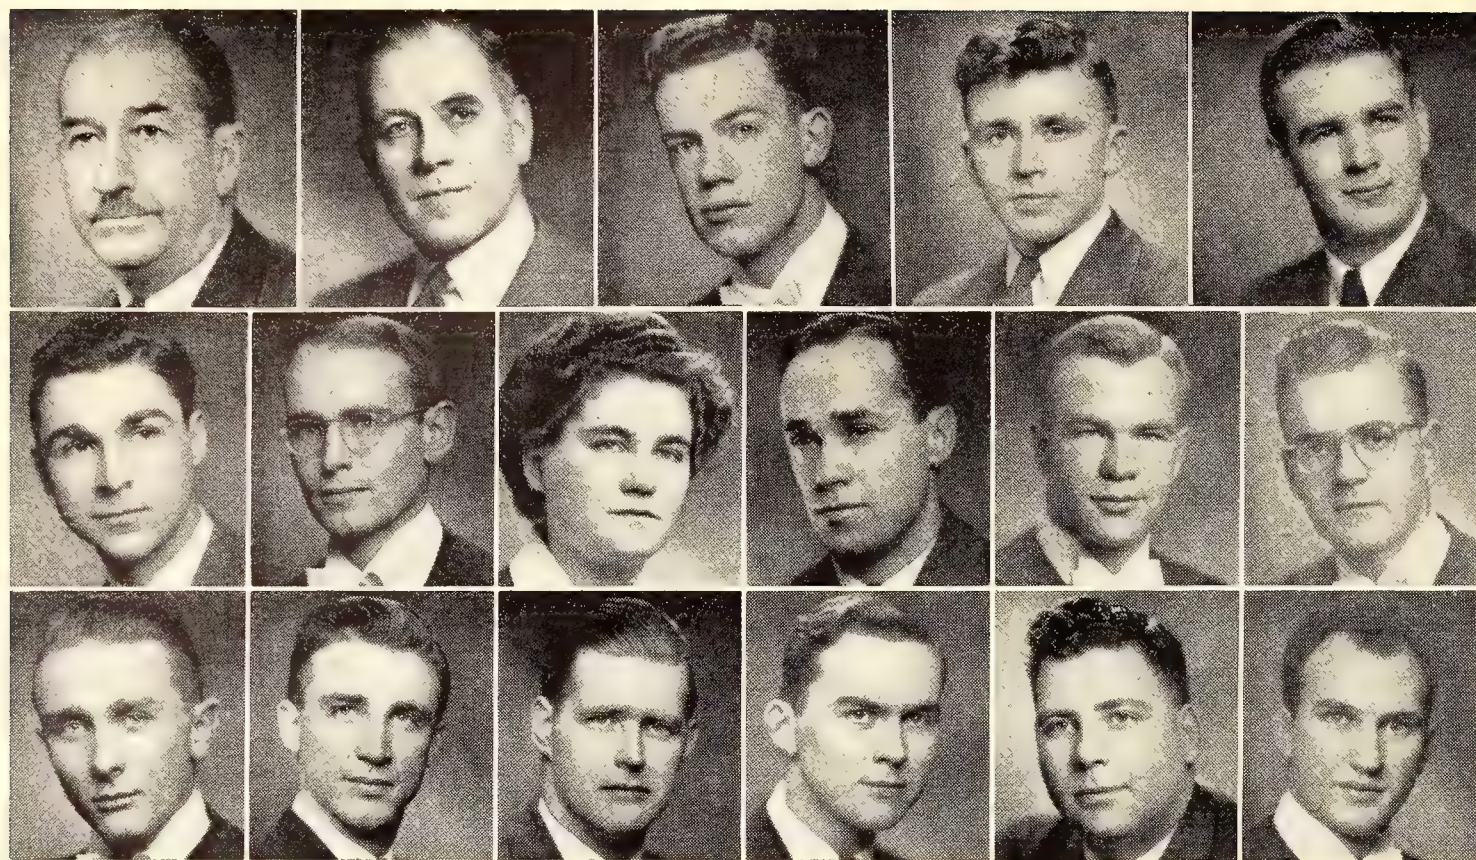

It is a pleasure for me to have an opportunity of extending my best wishes to the graduating class of 1948 in the Faculty of Medicine. Last year this was quite a new experience for me, but now, even although I have not met every one of you personally, I feel a closer association with the student body as a whole.

You have just completed five very active years of study in a professional school of a large university. It is to be hoped that you have formed in that time not only a sound basis for medical practice, but that you have derived something of the benefits which should ensue from the association with keen minds in a great university—association not only with medical teachers but also with those whose interest is primarily in the humanities and the social sciences.

Attendance at a university is, for those who are afforded the opportunity, a great privilege, and as such carries a great responsibility. Perhaps in no other field than medicine is this responsibility more evident. Whether you choose to practice in a metropolitan centre or a country village — or whether you go to foreign fields, I am sure you will look back on these five years and realize frequently how much your life and philosophy have been influenced by your teaching in these formative years. You will achieve satisfaction, not because of attaining particular prominence in your profession, but in the measure of service you may be able to render to your fellowmen — not because of where you work, but how you work.

May I extend to you the congratulations of the Faculty Council on the successful conclusion of your University studies, and at the same time assure you of our continued interest in you as graduates of this Faculty.

FACULTY OF MEDICINE

MEDICAL SOCIETY EXECUTIVE

Middle Row: R. G. ERB, Treasurer; E. A. McCULLOCH, MISS D. C. H. LEY, E. HORNE, F. L. CLEMENT, D. B. CAMPBELL.

Bottom Row: P. M. HEYWOOD, W. W. KENDRICK, V. S. NEWMAN, G. S. CAMERON, A. R. K. DOYLE, F. J. MORAN.

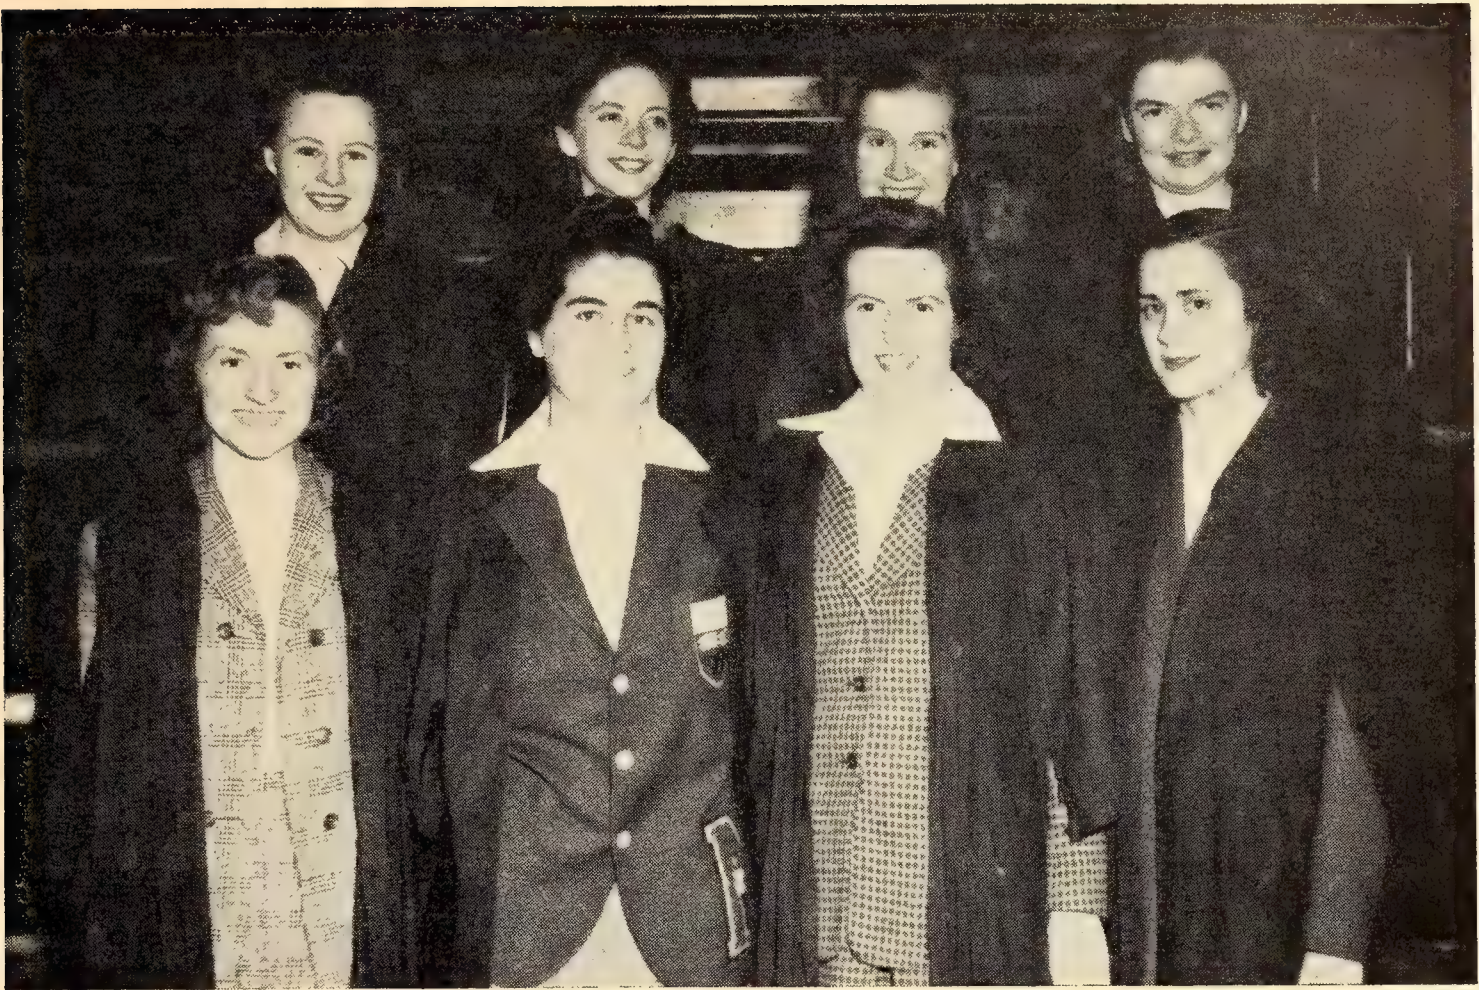

The University of Toronto Medical Society this year completed its fifty-third year of existence.

Important functions of the Society and of individual classes were outlined in the Medical Society Bulletin, which also acquainted the student body with the activities of the Executive.

Medical Society members supplied intermission entertainment at the ever-successful Med's-at-Home, which was capably managed by Manzer Bunker and his committee. Daffydil Nite, produced and directed by Ed Simmonds and Bert Grapes, again ranked high among campus shows.

The Arts and Letters Club, under Don Campbell, and the Medical Music Club, under Don Pushman, have had a successful year, with increased membership and activity.

The elections, featuring the well-known Medical musical-comedy, "H.M.S. Pisiform", brought the year's activities to a close, and ushered in next year's Executive. May we extend to them every wish for continued success.

MEDICAL WOMEN'S UNDERGRADUATE AND ATHLETIC ASSOCIATIONS

Second Row: D. STILLWELL, Treasurer M.W.U.A.; B. MCCREE, Social Convener M.W.U.A.; N. CROCKER, Second Year Representative M.W.A.A.; R. ALLISON, Treasurer M.W.A.A.
First Row: B. MACKINNON, Vice-President M.W.U.A.; D. C. LEY, President M.W.U.A.; L. LLOYD, President M.W.A.A.; B. LINE, Secretary M.W.U.A.
Absent: DR. H. MACKINNON, Honorary President M.W.U.A.; J. FLETCHER, Secretary M.W.A.A.; E. HEAKES, Vice-President M.W.A.A.

This year the association inaugurated a series of meetings for the discussion of various phases of medical practice. Next year it is hoped that they will be extended to include examination of various aspects of University and professional life, as well as problems confronting the student and the practising physician.

During the academic year the Association is responsible for an Initiation Banquet, at which the freshmen are formally initiated; a Christmas party to collect toys for the University Settlement, and a Spring party for the women of the graduating class.

The Athletic Association is responsible for the activities of the medical women in athletics, both inter-year and intramural. It provides equipment and practice time for basketball, hockey, and all sports. The President, Lois Lloyd, was University golf champion for 1947, and runner-up in the University diving. The hockey team entered the semi-finals to be beaten by Victoria College.

Both Associations are responsible to the Medical Society, of which they are subsidiary organizations, and the executives are elected each year at the general Medical Society elections in March.

APPLIED SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

C. R. YOUNG,
B.A.Sc., C.E., D.Eng.

To those who now quit the free life of a university campus to grapple with the stark problems that presently confront all of us, let this be said: there is nothing that throws the quality of a man in high relief quite so much as emergency. And so, if any of you find the going hard and chafe against the fortune that has delivered you into a world in turmoil, remember that it may carry with it unparalleled opportunity.

The younger Pitt, Winston Churchill and Abraham Lincoln have been accorded exalted places in the history of mankind, not because of good fortune, for impending ruin lay close about them, but because of the courage and resolution with which they faced the desperateness of the times and triumphed.

It may not happen that in the years immediately ahead your personal contributions to the society that has nurtured you will be spectacular. But for every one of sound training and high resolve an opportunity exists to strike resounding blows on behalf of your generation and those that will follow you. The solid achievements of men are an imperishable possession of the land that claims them. May yours be a pride and satisfaction to your fellows and to yourself.

S.P.S. PERMANENT EXECUTIVE 4T8

Top Row: H. E. ANSLEY; W. C. CARTER; J. A. ELLWOD; O. DE FLEET; W. FLANNIGAN; H. V. FULLERTON.

Bottom Row: F. A. GODFREY; J. M. MANSELL; W. O. MILLER; O. J. RUNNALLS; P. C. SEARS.

The function of the Permanent Executive is to keep the class in touch with one another, to further the spirit of fellowship in the class after graduation, to enable the class to play its part in the Alumni's contribution to the University, the Faculty and the Profession, and to render assistance to individual members of the class.

Your first contact with the Permanent Executive will be when you are touched for a small contribution to enable us to send you news letters telling where all your friends have gone and what they are doing, and when and where the ever welcome reunions will be.

We ask you always to leave a forwarding address, and to send in any suggestions or news items which others would appreciate (marriages, births, appointments and jail sentences). We want to keep the class, the School interests and our friendships alive and active in the years to come, and with a continuation of the individual efforts which have characterized our undergraduate days, we shall. With your cooperation we can make this into something that will contribute much to your lives.

1947-48 ENGINEERING SOCIETY EXECUTIVE

Top Row: T. C. W. LITTLE, President; W. A. MACDONALD, 1st Vice-President; G. D. CAMPBELL, 2nd Vice-President; R. T. D. GRAHAM, Secretary; J. M. BESTER, Treasurer; J. A. SWAN, W. O. C. MILLER.

Middle Row: W. J. L. CLARK, D. M. MURTRY, F. A. GODFREY, H. DEDERER, J. A. WALKER, P. C. SEARS, H. V. FULLERTON.

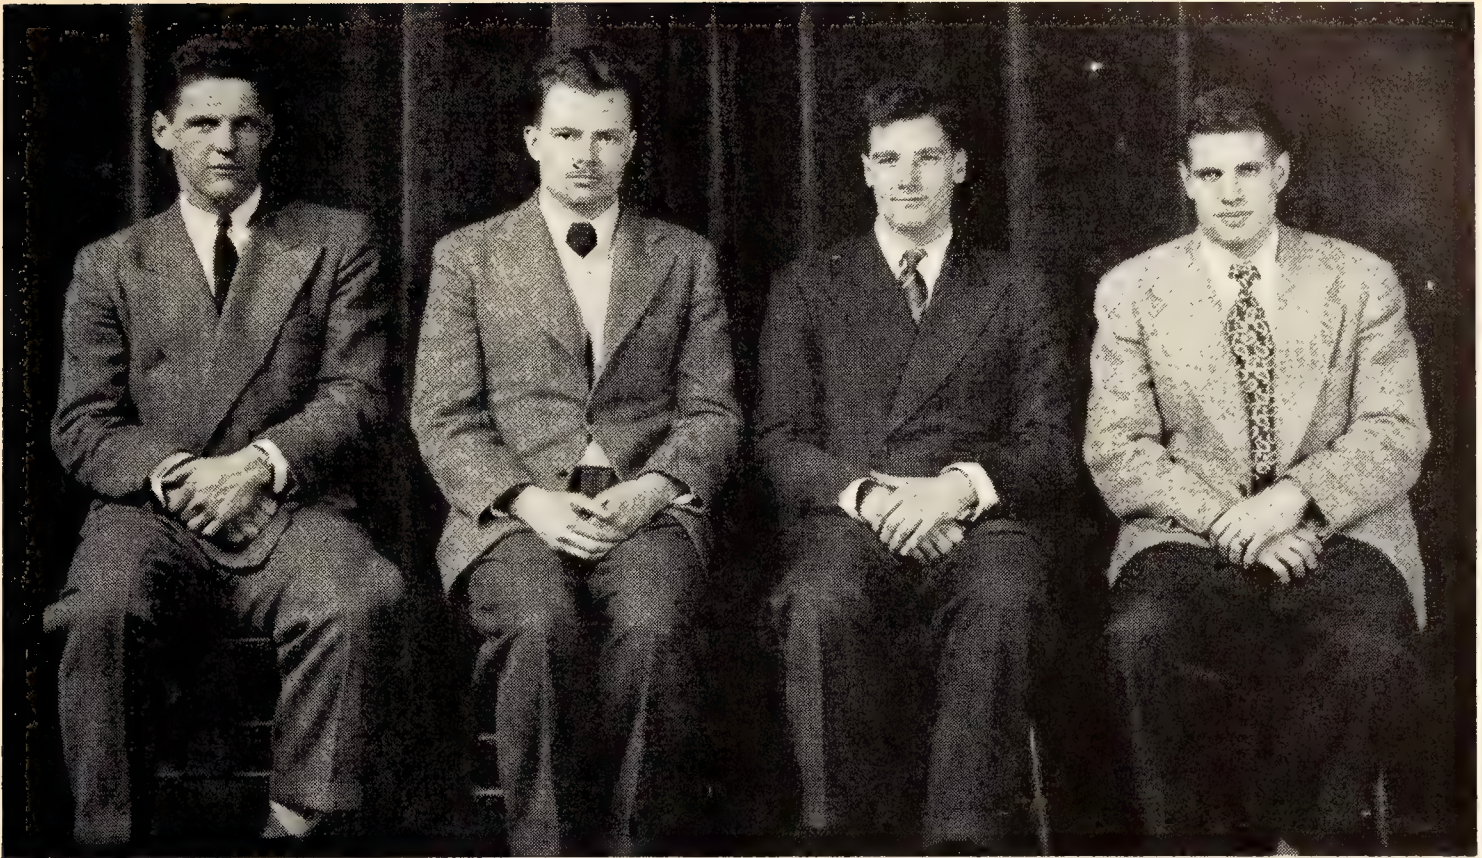

Bottom Row: W. H. C. BECKETT, O. J. C. RUNNALLS, W. G. CARTER, H. D. CONOVER, W. A. DIMMA, R. S. HILL, J. R. WILKIE.

The problem of welding together the two campi, Ajax and Toronto, was foremost in the minds of the Executive this year. Although a distance of thirty miles does separate them, there has been close co-operation in all activities. This is due in no small way to the efforts of Bill Walker and his very active committee at Ajax.

Open House, introduced a few years ago, to acquaint the friends of the students with their work, was an attendance shattering event. Under the guidance of Herb Dederer, many exhibits were presented by the various departments. All visitors enjoyed a most outstanding evening.

Another service to the students was the inauguration of Noon-hour films. In addition to filling in the long day, these programs were designed to help members of the Society better appreciate the subjects on the curriculum.

One of School's many contributions to University spirit was the organization of the "Chariot Races" which drew entries from nearly all Faculties. Under the energetic guidance of our Director of Publications and Publicity, Rick Hill, the race was run in a truly School manner.

CLASS 4T8 EXECUTIVE

J. ROBBINS, J. C. CRINGAN, W. O. C. MILLER, W. McCANN.

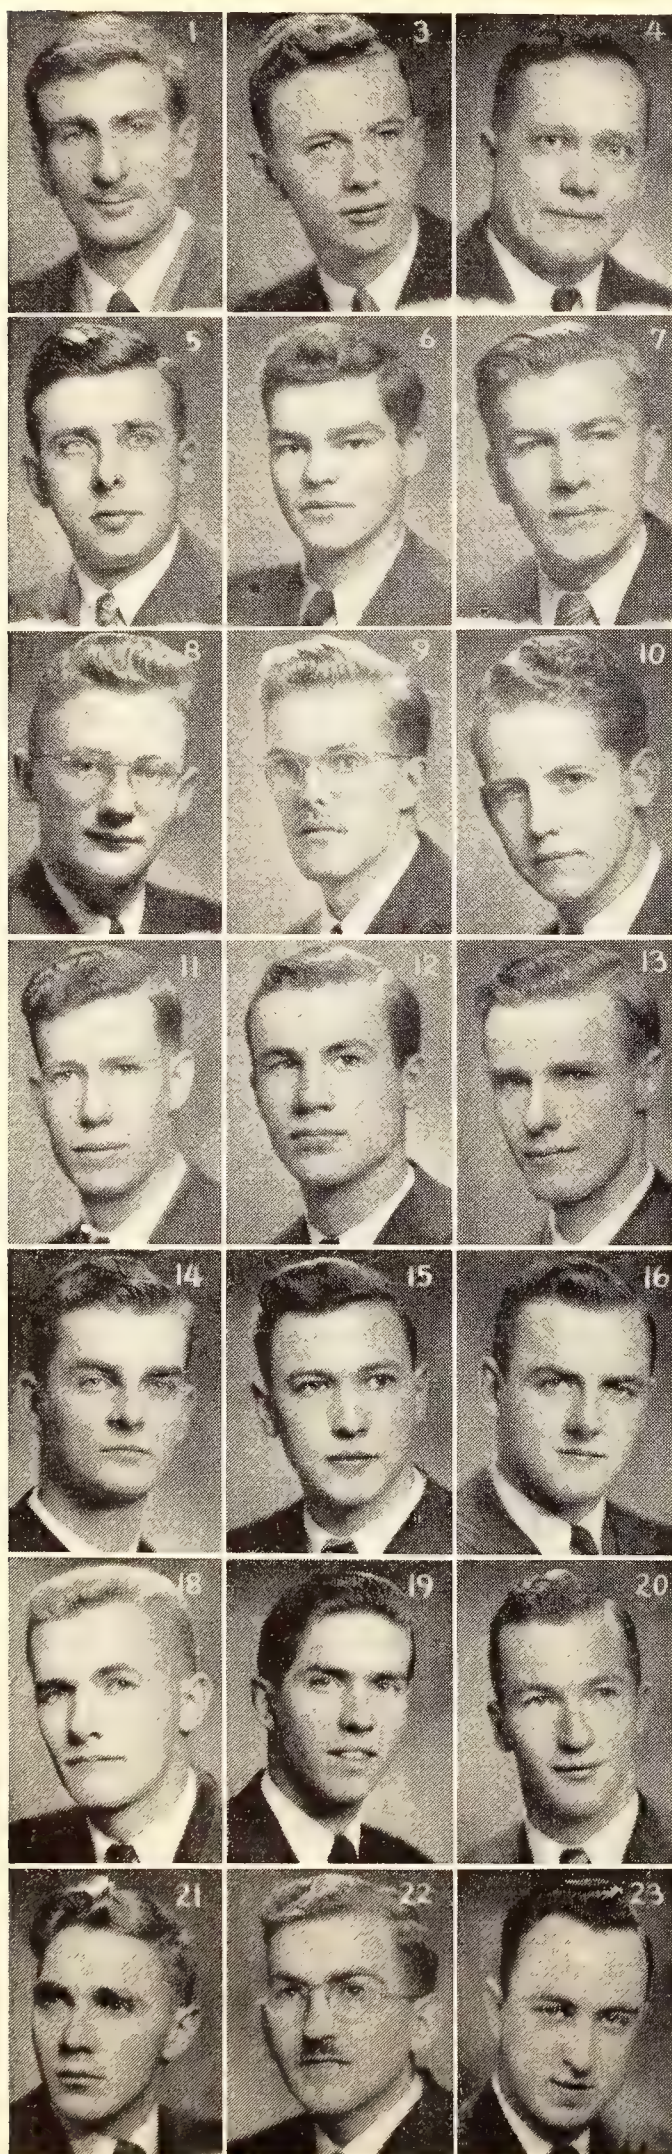

The Class of 4T8 returned for its last big year, intending to miss nothing in the way of University extra curricular activities. We queued up in the middle of Saturday morning labs to get season tickets for the rugby games; learned a few new songs on the way out to the School dinner; went to the Club Kingsway for a year party; joined the Alumni for St. Nick's Ball and the rest of the School-at-Home and the St. Adele ski weekend. The Class had two Grand Champion chariot teams, although one had to slow down momentarily in front of the School, to be introduced to the class of 4T9. We kept "Skule Nite" fairly "clean for the Dean"; cheered the hockey Blues to the Queen's Cup, the Basketball Blues to the first of a series of victories over Western and the Senior School to the Jennings's Cup. Most recently we've been recording hobbies, cultural activities and spare time reading for prospective employers.

We worked this year with the finest of fellows. There was never a report too pressing that it couldn't be let drift, to lend a hand. We look to graduation, not as breaking the class up, but as providing it with larger opportunities for activity and contribution. Let's increase the fellowship we have experienced these last few years.

We thank the Dean and Staff of the Faculty for their fullest and most sincere interest in us.

FACULTY OF DENTISTRY

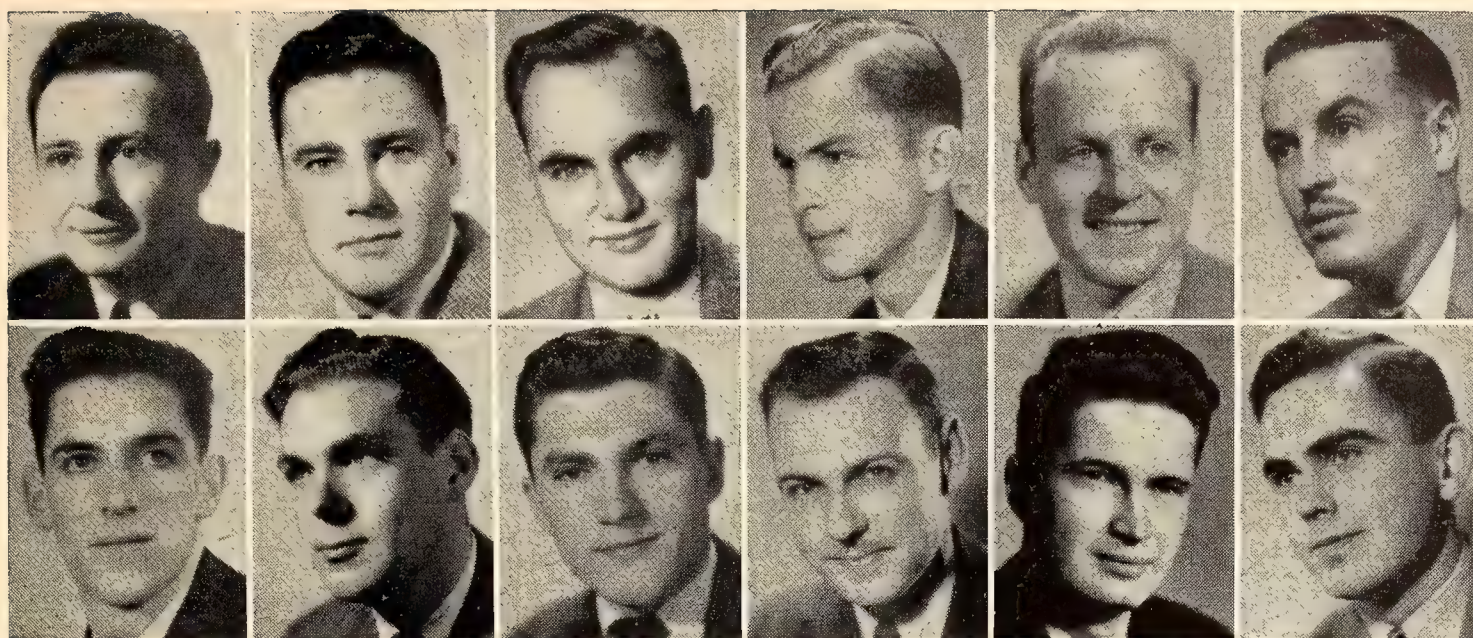

R. G. ELLIS,
B.D.S., D.D.S., M.Sc. (Dent.)

Greetings and felicitations to the members of the 1948 graduating classes in dentistry and dental nursing. Every member of the staff of the Faculty of Dentistry offers you congratulations and bids you Godspeed. We shall watch your progress with sustained interest.

This year's graduating class in dentistry is unique. The acceleration of classes during the wartime schedule resulted in a one-year break in the continuity of graduating classes. We were pleased to welcome again a large and worthy group of ex-service dental graduates from all over the British Empire along with one of our own Canadian students. You brought with you as the result of varied service experiences in far-flung war areas (some as prisoners of war under Japanese domination) a maturity of purpose and a well-developed sense of responsibility to your profession. Commencement for you, marks but a brief pause along the way, for you have already become orientated in the university of experience.

We are always pleased to welcome into the profession a fine group of young ladies who graduate in the course in Dental Nursing. There will be many opportunities for you to render an important service within the profession.

Your education obligates you to give freely of your talents, both within your profession and in your community. If you sit back apathetically and wait for the opportunity to serve, it will never come. Resolve now to seek out a full life of usefulness, giving leadership commensurate with your capabilities, wherever you may be in this troubled post-war world. The opportunities are great, a challenge confronts you, which we believe you will accept.

CABINET OF THE STUDENTS' PARLIAMENT

Second Row: J. D. LYON, Director of Athletics; D. L. ANDERSON, Director of Publicity; R. G. MCKEE, Editor of Hya Yaka; R. H. FINLAYSON, Torontonensis Representative; D. B. McDONALD, President, Second Year; R. MICHELL, President, First Year; H. H. YOULE, President Pre-Dent Year.

First Row: L. V. CROWLEY, President; R. E. CLINE, Secretary; K. N. ROUTLEY, Treasurer; A. E. SWANSON, Director of Social Activities; M. R. MILLER, Director of Dentantics.

The Students' Parliament congratulates Dr. R. G. Ellis in his appointment as Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry. Dr. Ellis' experience in dentistry is almost global. He graduated from Adelaide University and, after several years of general practice, came to Toronto for post-graduate work. His interest in dental science and education carried him to the Professorship of Operative Dentistry in this University.

The undergraduates have long admired his ability as an instructor and organizer; may we assure him that he has already won our respect and confidence.

In 1947, the last accelerated course graduated and left the clinic without a fourth dental year. The third dental year eagerly took their place and, along with ad eundem students from Australia, seem to have the patients under control.

This year the Dental Nurses will be the only graduates from the Dental Faculty. In one year, these young women take a concentrated, highly practical course which develops each into a receptionist, accountant, typist, surgical and operative assistant, and laboratory technician. With this training they are fast becoming indispensable members of dental offices everywhere.

In spite of their difficult course, the nurses play a large part in the social and sport activities of the Faculty. Their good humour and vigour brighten the atmosphere of the college. Their efficient assisting in the clinic is welcomed by the struggling students.

We wish them every success in their profession!

PHYSICAL AND HEALTH EDUCATION

E. STANLEY RYERSON,
M.D., C.M.

To this graduating class of 1948, it is my happy privilege to salute you and say 'Heartiest of congratulations. Best of luck to each and every one of you!' Having begun your course immediately after the end of World War II, you have the honour of being the first class of this course begun and completed after the war, and you should be proud of it. The majority of your class are ex-service men and women who are older and more mature than you would have been, had you entered the University directly after your collegiate or high school education. This maturity has been advantageous to you because it has made you particularly capable of acquiring a genuine understanding of the academic, scientific and practical ideas presented to you. Possessing definite knowledge of your objective, you have sought to make the best of the valuable opportunity given you of becoming a university graduate in the field of knowledge and activity in which you are most interested. This goal, having now been attained, you are going out into the world with a sincere desire to play a useful part in making its occupants healthier and more efficient persons. It is our sincere hope that you will be eminently successful in doing so.

Absent: G. HUTCHINSON, Second Year Girls' Representative; D. HOLMES, Show Director.

P & HE, the infant of the campus, has grown up and is now playing an ever-increasing role in the University activities.

Socially P & HE had its most successful year. A series of parties and social gatherings held under the direction of John Doll and his committee began with a Freshman party, progressed through Hallowe'en, Christmas, skating and sleigh-riding parties and culminated in the annual At-Home, set against the natural backdrop of Hart House.

The most audacious venture the students have ever undertaken was the "Health's-a-Poppin" show, produced by Dave Holmes of third year. A lively school song was also composed during the year.

P & HE students form the back-bone of most Intercollegiate teams, but their weight is felt most in their invaluable role as volunteer instructors. This affords experience at the undergraduate level and is invaluable as a laboratory and proving-ground for knowledge gained in classes and lectures.

ONTARIO COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

R. O. HURST,
Phm.B.

During a lifetime every year leaves some significant impression on the pages of history. This year, 1948, no doubt will be recorded as a memorable year both in the history of the student, and that of the College.

To you, our students, it is the year of your graduation, when you pass into the realm of relative freedom. I write relative because you will be relieved of the regimentation of college routine, but in turn you will face new problems which will require mature judgment, and carefully formulated decisions.

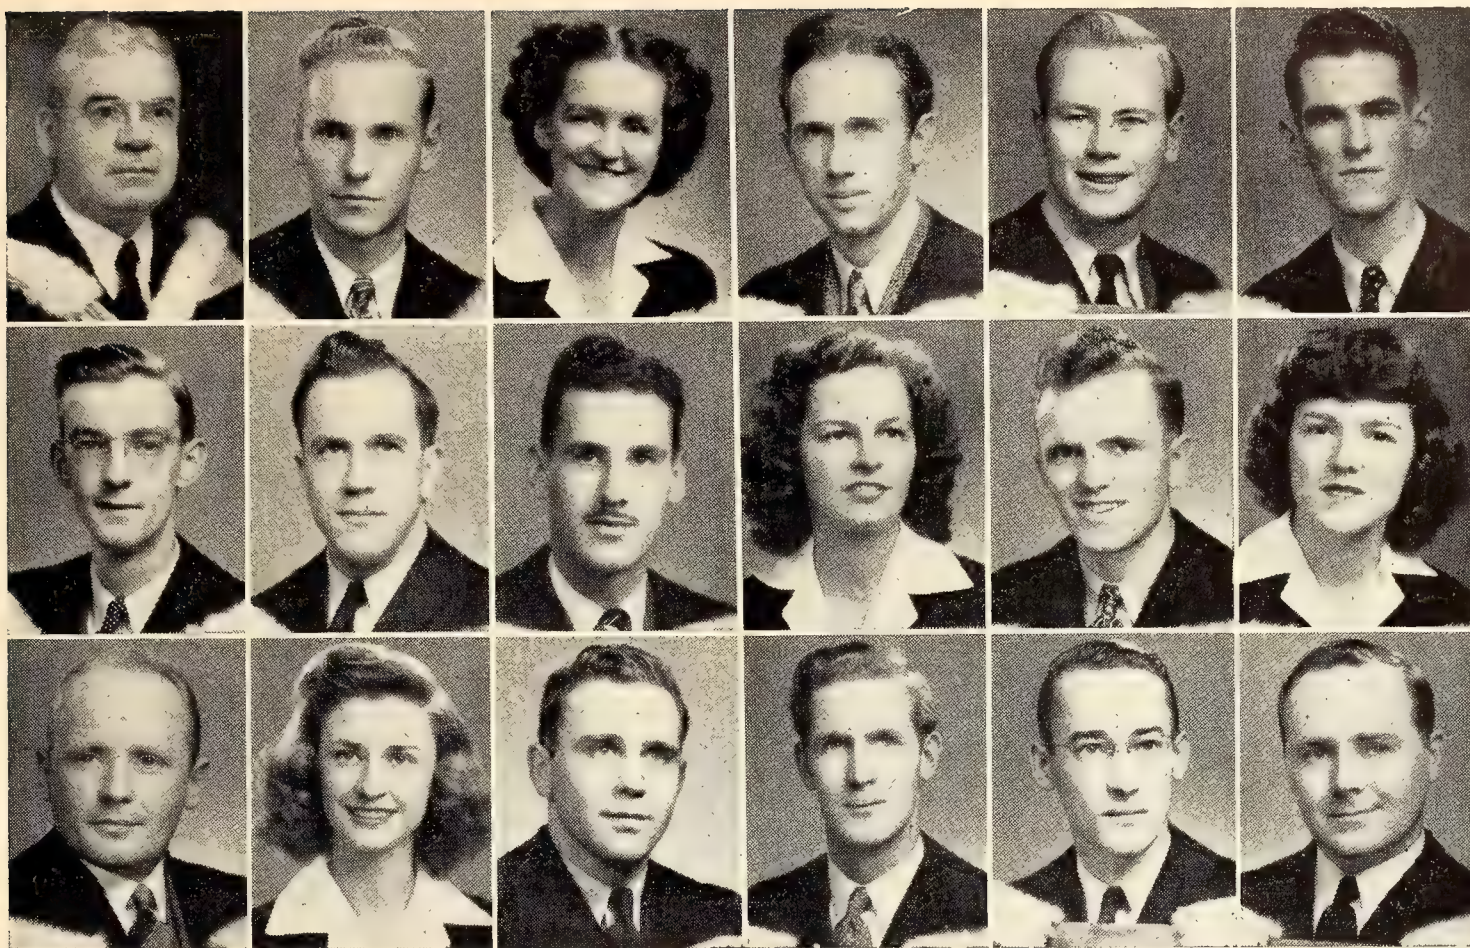

Your success will largely depend on your ascertaining the particular kind of work, in the large field of pharmacy, which best suits your temperament. To be an accomplished success you must be in love with your work; it is a well known axiom that ardent enthusiasm will be an important contributing factor in success.

From the viewpoint of the College, this year is also an eventful one, in that it marks the beginning of a new standard of education in pharmacy, and the decline of an older system that has been in effect for the last twenty years.

The new plan of pharmaceutical education will be built on a broader foundation and will encompass a greater field of study than heretofore. The student will graduate with an assurance that he will be able to find a place in the ever widening field of opportunities in pharmacy. The contemplated changes are such that you need not be denied the new privileges if you wish to take advantage of them.

It is part of human nature for some to oppose changes of any kind, and very often much of the opposition will be based on purely selfish motives. I ask you to debate any such changes, and thus serve the College as ambassadors of good will.

It gives me much pleasure to record my best wishes for each of you. May success be yours.

PHARMACY 2ND YEAR EXECUTIVE

Middle Row: A. E. SCOTT, S.A.C. Representative; D. W. ELLIOTT, Sports Director; A. Y. BRISBIN, MISS A. M. DUDLEY, L. H. EVERSON; MISS C. A. HEIMBER.

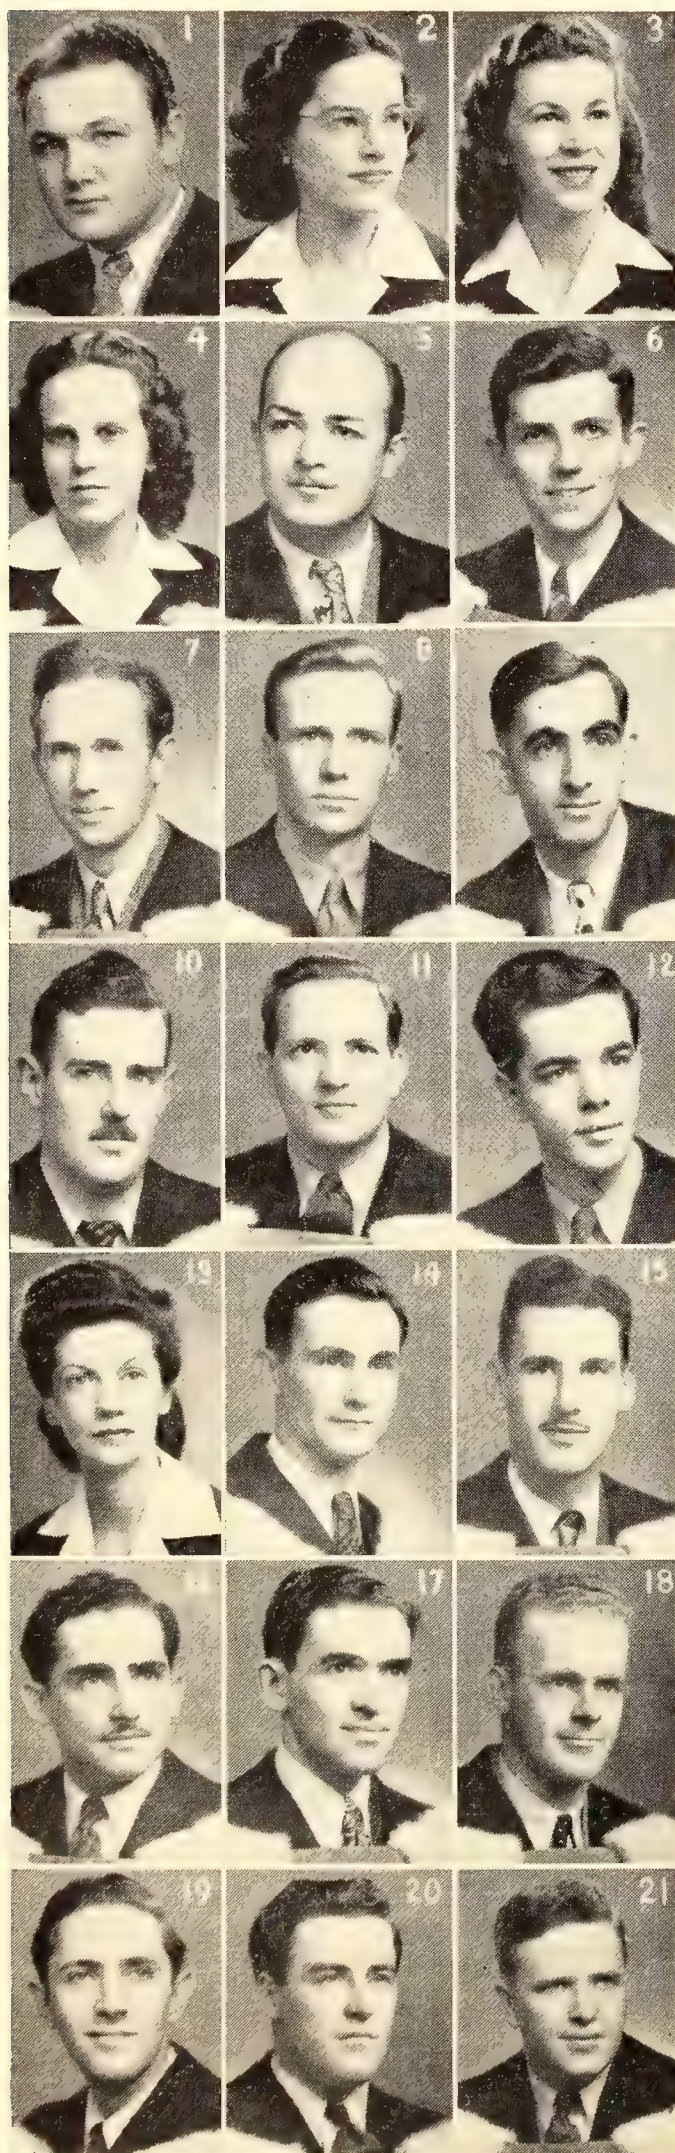

Bottom Row: E. H. IRELAND, MISS M. A. LAING, J. G. MACKICHAN, L. E. RUTTLE, J. F. SADLER, J. R. THORNTON.

Perhaps only as graduation approaches, do you, the members of the graduating class, realize that all too soon your college days are nearly ended. You must now take your place among fellow Pharmacists who are working towards the important goal of good health for everyone.

To the staff you owe much. It has been their task to prepare you for a profession. It is your duty to put into practise their teachings in a manner which will give to Pharmacy the place, that it so rightly deserves, in its service to mankind. The traditions and reputation of the College are in your keeping. May you ever remember that education is not the gathering of notes and memorization of facts but it is the training for unselfish service, founded upon perseverance, clean living and thinking and honest actions. College activities and intramural sport have all helped to educate you. Nothing can take from you those memories of happy times linked with more serious hours of study, the perfect complement to a student's life. In years to come may you continue to show the same cooperation and friendship in your business and private life as you have shown as an undergraduate. The sun of your College days has set; but the coming dawn holds forth great opportunities.

FACULTY OF FORESTRY

J. W. B. SISAM,
B.Sc., M.F.

The class of 1948 is the fortieth class to graduate from this Faculty. It is also by far the largest class of foresters to complete their training at this University. From these facts one may judge, and rightly so, that forestry is now well established in this country and is in the process of growth and development.

You who are now entering the profession will find conditions far different from those of even a few years ago. Today in Canada opportunities for employment and advancement in the various fields of forestry are probably greater than ever before, not only in connection with the extensive surveys and woods operations that are being carried on, but also in programs of protection, management and research that are concerned primarily with ensuring future supplies of timber and the proper use of the forest resource in Canada's economic development.

This favourable condition is due in no small measure to the efforts of the earlier graduates, who through good judgment and a capacity for hard work have done much to establish the profession on a sound basis.

You of the present graduating class, and your contemporaries, will have a similar responsibility for the future. On your efforts will depend very largely the pattern of our forestry practice in the years to come. Your success will be measured not only by your professional achievements but also by your ability to work in harmony with your fellow men and by the contribution you are able to make to the communities in which you live.

Whatever the opportunities and responsibilities that may come your way, you have the good wishes of your Faculty and your University.

INSTITUTIONAL MANAGEMENT

S. F. CORK,
B.A.

The class of '48 is the largest of the first three classes of the Course in Institutional Management, but it is not size but the energy you have displayed during your session at the University which has made you outstanding. You have had a very active Undergraduate Society. Your Publicity, Entertainment and Employment Committees have worked hard and accomplished much, while those responsible for the publishing of the "IMUSO News" deserve much credit. You have done well in sports, both in hockey and basketball. Yet with all these activities outside the class room you have maintained a high standard of academic achievement. Throughout your Course my relationships with you as individuals have been most pleasant. Now you are leaving the University and while most of you have played your part in the Services during the War you have now to establish yourselves in society under peace time conditions. In facing this task you can take confidence in the record of the former class, many of whom have already made outstanding progress. The best wishes of the staff go with you. You have made a name for yourself at the University; we expect you will do the same individually in whatever field of endeavour you locate yourselves.

INSTITUTIONAL MANAGEMENT UNDERGRADUATE EXECUTIVE

Second Row: H. L. ALLARD, Second Year President, R. G. SIMPSON, Vice-President, D. H. KERR, Athletic Representative, J. C. HOLTOM, First Year President.

First Row: C. G. BURTON, President, A. W. LOAT, Secretary, J. A. MONTGOMERY, Treasurer, N. A. BROWN, Second Vice-President.

Miss Lillian D. Bond is both Mr. Cork's capable assistant in the office and a pal to all students.

Under an extremely active executive the third year of the course in Institutional Management was marked by many social gatherings which ranged from a highly informal wiener roast to a formal banquet and dance at the Royal York.

In an effort to promote fellowship among the undergraduates basketball and hockey teams were formed but were confined to group competition.

First efforts at a society paper brought forth the Imuso News which kept the misdemeanours of the socially prominent in print while the active Employment Committee kept employment needs before the public.

Future years of the course were not forgotten. Class pins were provided and strenuous efforts yielded several scholarships for both present and future students.

The excellent work of the director and the staff made the year's work both pleasant and interesting. Their ever-increasing activities have been appreciated by the executive and by the undergraduates.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

Greetings and good wishes to those who will leave the School this year to embark upon their chosen profession. Since we now have two categories of "graduates", I must include those who will leave after one year in the School with the degree of Bachelor of Social Work, as well as those who will be awarded the Master's degree or the Diploma.

This year the School is sending forth the largest number of graduates in its history, some fifty who are completing the two-year programme and perhaps twenty-five or thirty who do not propose, at least immediately, to proceed to a second year in the School in order to qualify for the M.S.W.

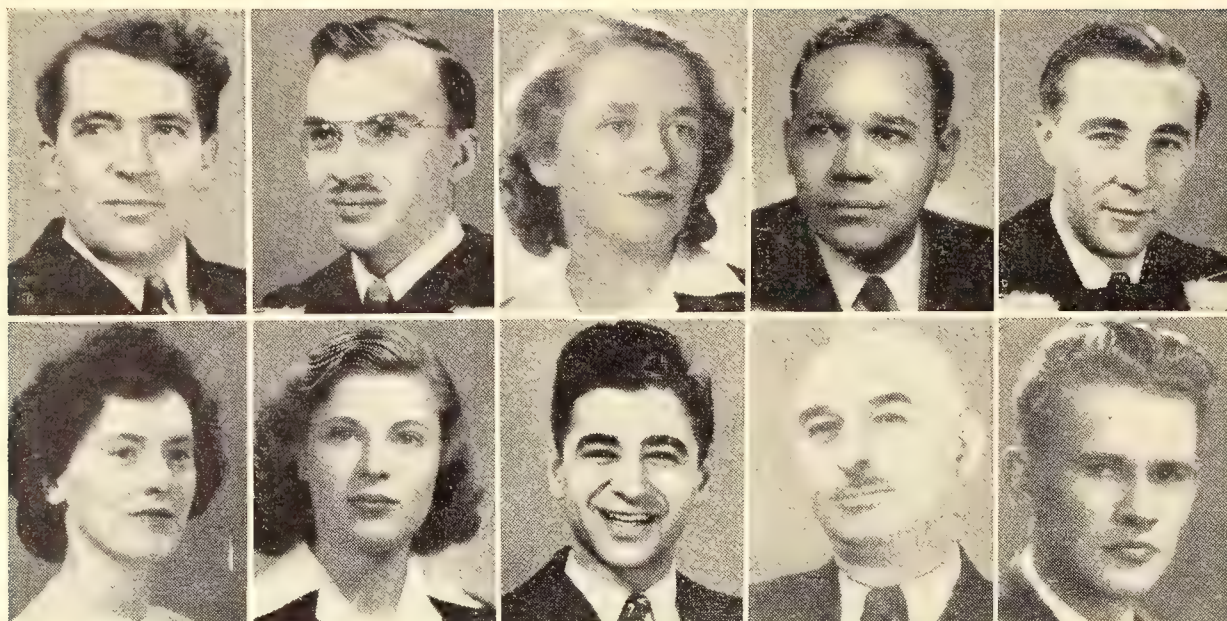

The addition of so large a group of trained social workers to a profession which is crying out for new recruits is a very significant event. Your entrance into a field which is in a relatively early stage of professionalization has an importance which cannot be overestimated. You are badly needed for positions of pioneering and of leadership. You will have the exhilaration and the excitement of developing a new profession. Indeed, you will promptly find a place in a great new movement of building or of rebuilding social services for the Canadian people. You may see in the course of your careers a revolutionary change in the conditions under which our people live—a change which will be reflected on the physical side in the abolition of slums and of gross poverty; and on the psychological side by the ending of much of man's inhumanity to man. Your stock of knowledge regarding social policy and your skills in human relations must be directed towards these ends if you are to be true to the demands of your profession.

Social work as we know it is a manifestation of the democratic way of life. It is based firmly on liberal principles. Its practice represents democracy in action at a level which has meaning for every person whom it touches—that is, potentially for the whole population. There is no profession which has a greater opportunity of making democratic institutions work than ours.

And make them work we must. For we have no military defence against external aggression in the atomic age. Whatever the tactics of international policy may be from month to month and year to year, surely our grand strategy must be to make the democratic way of life real and appealing at home and abroad so that we can resist both external pressure and reaction from within. It is not too much to say that the fate of our country, and indeed of Western civilization, rests in the hands of men and women such as you who have a passionate conviction for democracy and the skill to make it work.

My colleagues of the faculty join me in congratulating you on the completion of your work in the School. We wish you much more than personal success in your profession. We trust that you will have the satisfaction of making a significant contribution to building a free society and a world of peace.

In the second year of its existence the Students' Association of the School of Social Work has been a sounding board of student opinion, a medium for achieving action and a liaison between staff and students.

The main concern of the Association has been to promote the establishment of an effective social climate through which the students have been able to take a very real part in the School and in the broader field of social work. Within the School, active committees worked on curriculum evaluation, library problems, social activities, public speaking, and professional standards.

Despite an increased enrolment to a total of 145 full-time and 87 part-time and special students, and greater number of community commitments, the faculty has worked very closely with the student committees.

The Curriculum Committee, under the chairmanship of Mac Taylor, has been a means of integrating and channelling student opinion in the evaluation of general functioning and effectiveness of the School.

Under Karl Dansky, the Library Committee provided student volunteers as night librarians. Library policy and selection of social work literature and reference material have been their major concerns.

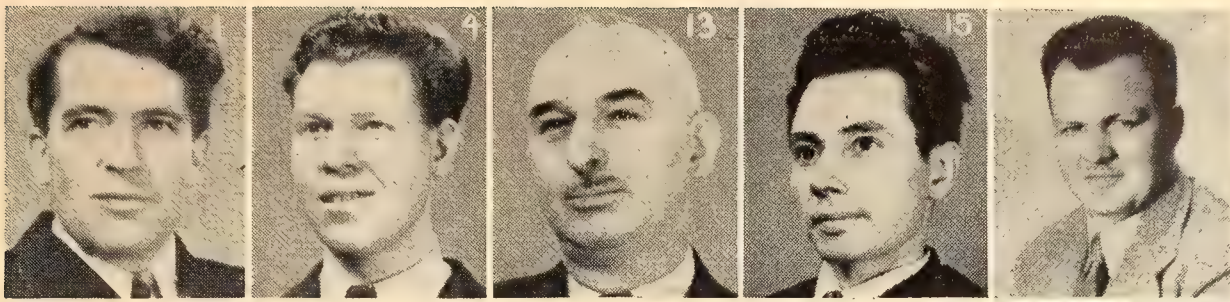

The Social Committee, under the joint chairmanship of Vivienne Durden and Dick MacDonald, promoted the year's social activities. Staff and student functions included an informal outing at Hanlan's Point, several parties and informal teas at the School. One of the season's highlights was Revelation Unlimited, a Creative Arts party given by the group work students. Participants received free psychiatric analyses, a la Freud, of their personalities as expressed through their artistic creations.

The Green Star Chamber was the setting every Wednesday for the Lunch Munchers Club who dabbled in public speaking. Jack Golzman was the chairman of this group, which was initiated by Bill Dempsey. Miniature debates, community meetings and impromptu speeches, followed by group criticisms, provided a practical training course in public speaking.

Perhaps the most important student committee was that on Salary Standards, headed by Ian Johnston. This committee, which carried forward the important work begun by last year's Association, formulated a brief on salary and professional standards. The presentation and interpretation of student opinion in this area has been a very real force in raising professional standards throughout the field of social work. This activity has entailed close co-operation with both agency executives and staff groups representing professional social workers.

Other activities and services included the operation of a co-operative coffee bar for noon hour lunchers; the organization of student canvassers for the Community Chest campaign; representation on the Students' Administrative Council and the Ex-Service Committee, and liaison with the undergraduate Prospective Social Work Students' Association.

STUDENTS' ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL

A partial list of the committees which functioned throughout the year will give some idea of the varied activities of the Students' Administrative Council in 1947-48. The Standing Committee on Finance and Publications, Sporting Activities, Student Service and Public Relations were supplemented by general and special committees of all kinds. These included the N.F.C.U.S. Advisory Committee, the Ex-service, Radio, Blue and White Society, Anti-Discrimination and All-Varsity Revue Committees, U.T.D.U., as well as special committees on Constitution, Athletic Tickets, Fees, Book Exchange, U. of T. Ties and the all-important Co-educational War Memorial Building.

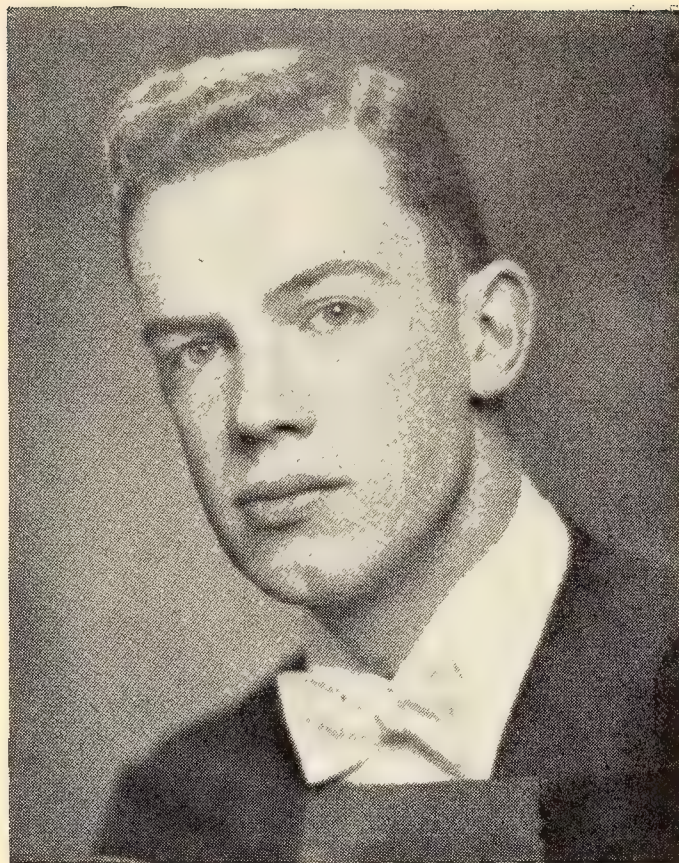

The Council as usual published the Handbook, Torontonensis and The Varsity, operated a Housing Service through which accommodation of a reasonably satisfactory kind was made available to all applicants, operated an employment bureau through which summer, Christmas and part-time as well as many permanent jobs were found for students. The invaluable Ex-service Emergency Loan Fund as well as the Undergraduate Loan Fund again helped many students who otherwise could not have completed their courses.

The Orchestra, with the newly organized Chorus, was again sponsored by the Council and enjoyed a most successful year. The Blue and White Band under Bob Cringan also had a very satisfactory year and gave excellent support to the football team at home and abroad. The cheerleading squad under Jack Pearse contributed much to the Varsity cause. Special trains were arranged for all three out-of-town games.

The Red Feather Fair under the Chairmanship of Joe Potts resulted in the collection of $2768.22 from the Fair itself, and collections of various kinds. This fund was turned over to the Community Chest. The All-Varsity spirit was further encouraged by the newly formed Blue and White Society which organized social activities in connection with the Inter-collegiate hockey games.

The Council participated officially in the installation of Chancellor Massey and the various social functions connected therewith. Council members were entertained by the President and Mrs. Smith at a buffet supper in November and in their turn entertained the members of The Varsity masthead at dinner at the King Edward. Evening meetings were instituted this year because of the pressure of business and Council members were particularly faithful in attendance at these sessions which lasted far into the night.

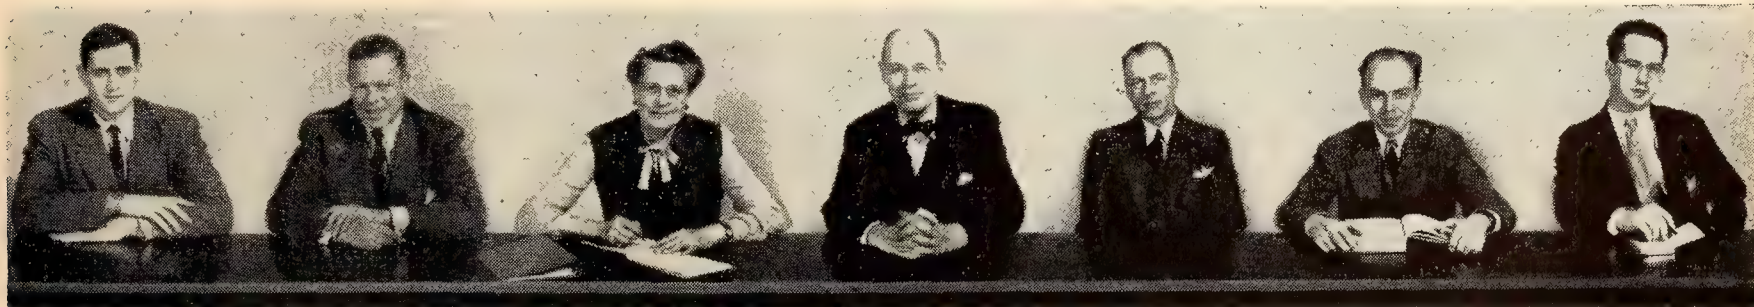

It will indeed be interesting to see whether all the ideas and plans formulated this year develop to maturity or wither on the vine.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT SERVICE

Every student on the University of Toronto campus is a member of the local committee of International Student Service. It is a world wide organization taking in the entire university community — professors, students, graduates. Striving to promote international contact I.S.S. does not lose sight of the importance in stimulating an interest in national culture, while upholding the principle of intellectual freedom. As a constituent part of World Student Relief, International Student Service carries on a relief programme to help fellow students in war devastated countries.

This year the University of Toronto Committee started its work early in the fall under the capable leadership of Chairman Arthur Maybee. Through a series of open meetings an executive was elected and sub-committees were chosen.

One of the first and most important events of the year for the local committee, was the coming of Dr. Malcolm Adiseshiah, assistant general secretary of International Student Service from Geneva. Following his arrival, he delivered a stirring address in Convocation Hall on "Whither Eastern Europe" and later participated in an international affiliation conference, held by the local committee at Wycliffe College. At this conference were representatives from World Student Relief, United Nations Educational Social Cultural Organization, the various international organizations on the campus, the National Federation of Canadian University Students and the Student Christian Movement.

Another conference, one vastly greater in scope, was to form the next important step in the year's events. This was the second Canadian Conference of International Student Service held at Ajax in November. It was the largest of its type to be held in Canada. The Summer Seminar in Germany, the national magazine for Canadian university students, relief, education, conferences, student exchange, and foreign travel all were considered. Including representatives from the United States, Norway and other countries, it was a working conference and was exceedingly successful in giving to the local committees something tangible to carry back to their campi for their future programme.

Mr. Gordon Campbell, Canadian Executive Secretary explains a difficult point to Maurice Sauve, President N.F.C.U.S., Dr. Malcolm Adiseshiah from I.S.S. in Geneva and Miss G. Stencil, Assistant Canadian Secretary, at the second Canadian Conference held at Ajax in the fall of 1947.

Looking at the educational side on the University of Toronto campus, International Student Service had shown films in Hart House previous to Christmas at various intervals. After the holidays, this was intensified and programmes were arranged in Hart House Theatre with a film first and a speaker after. It was attempted to cover one foreign country in each noon-hour session. As well the local committee arranged to have speakers give a talk at the meetings of the various clubs on the need of relief in war-devastated countries.

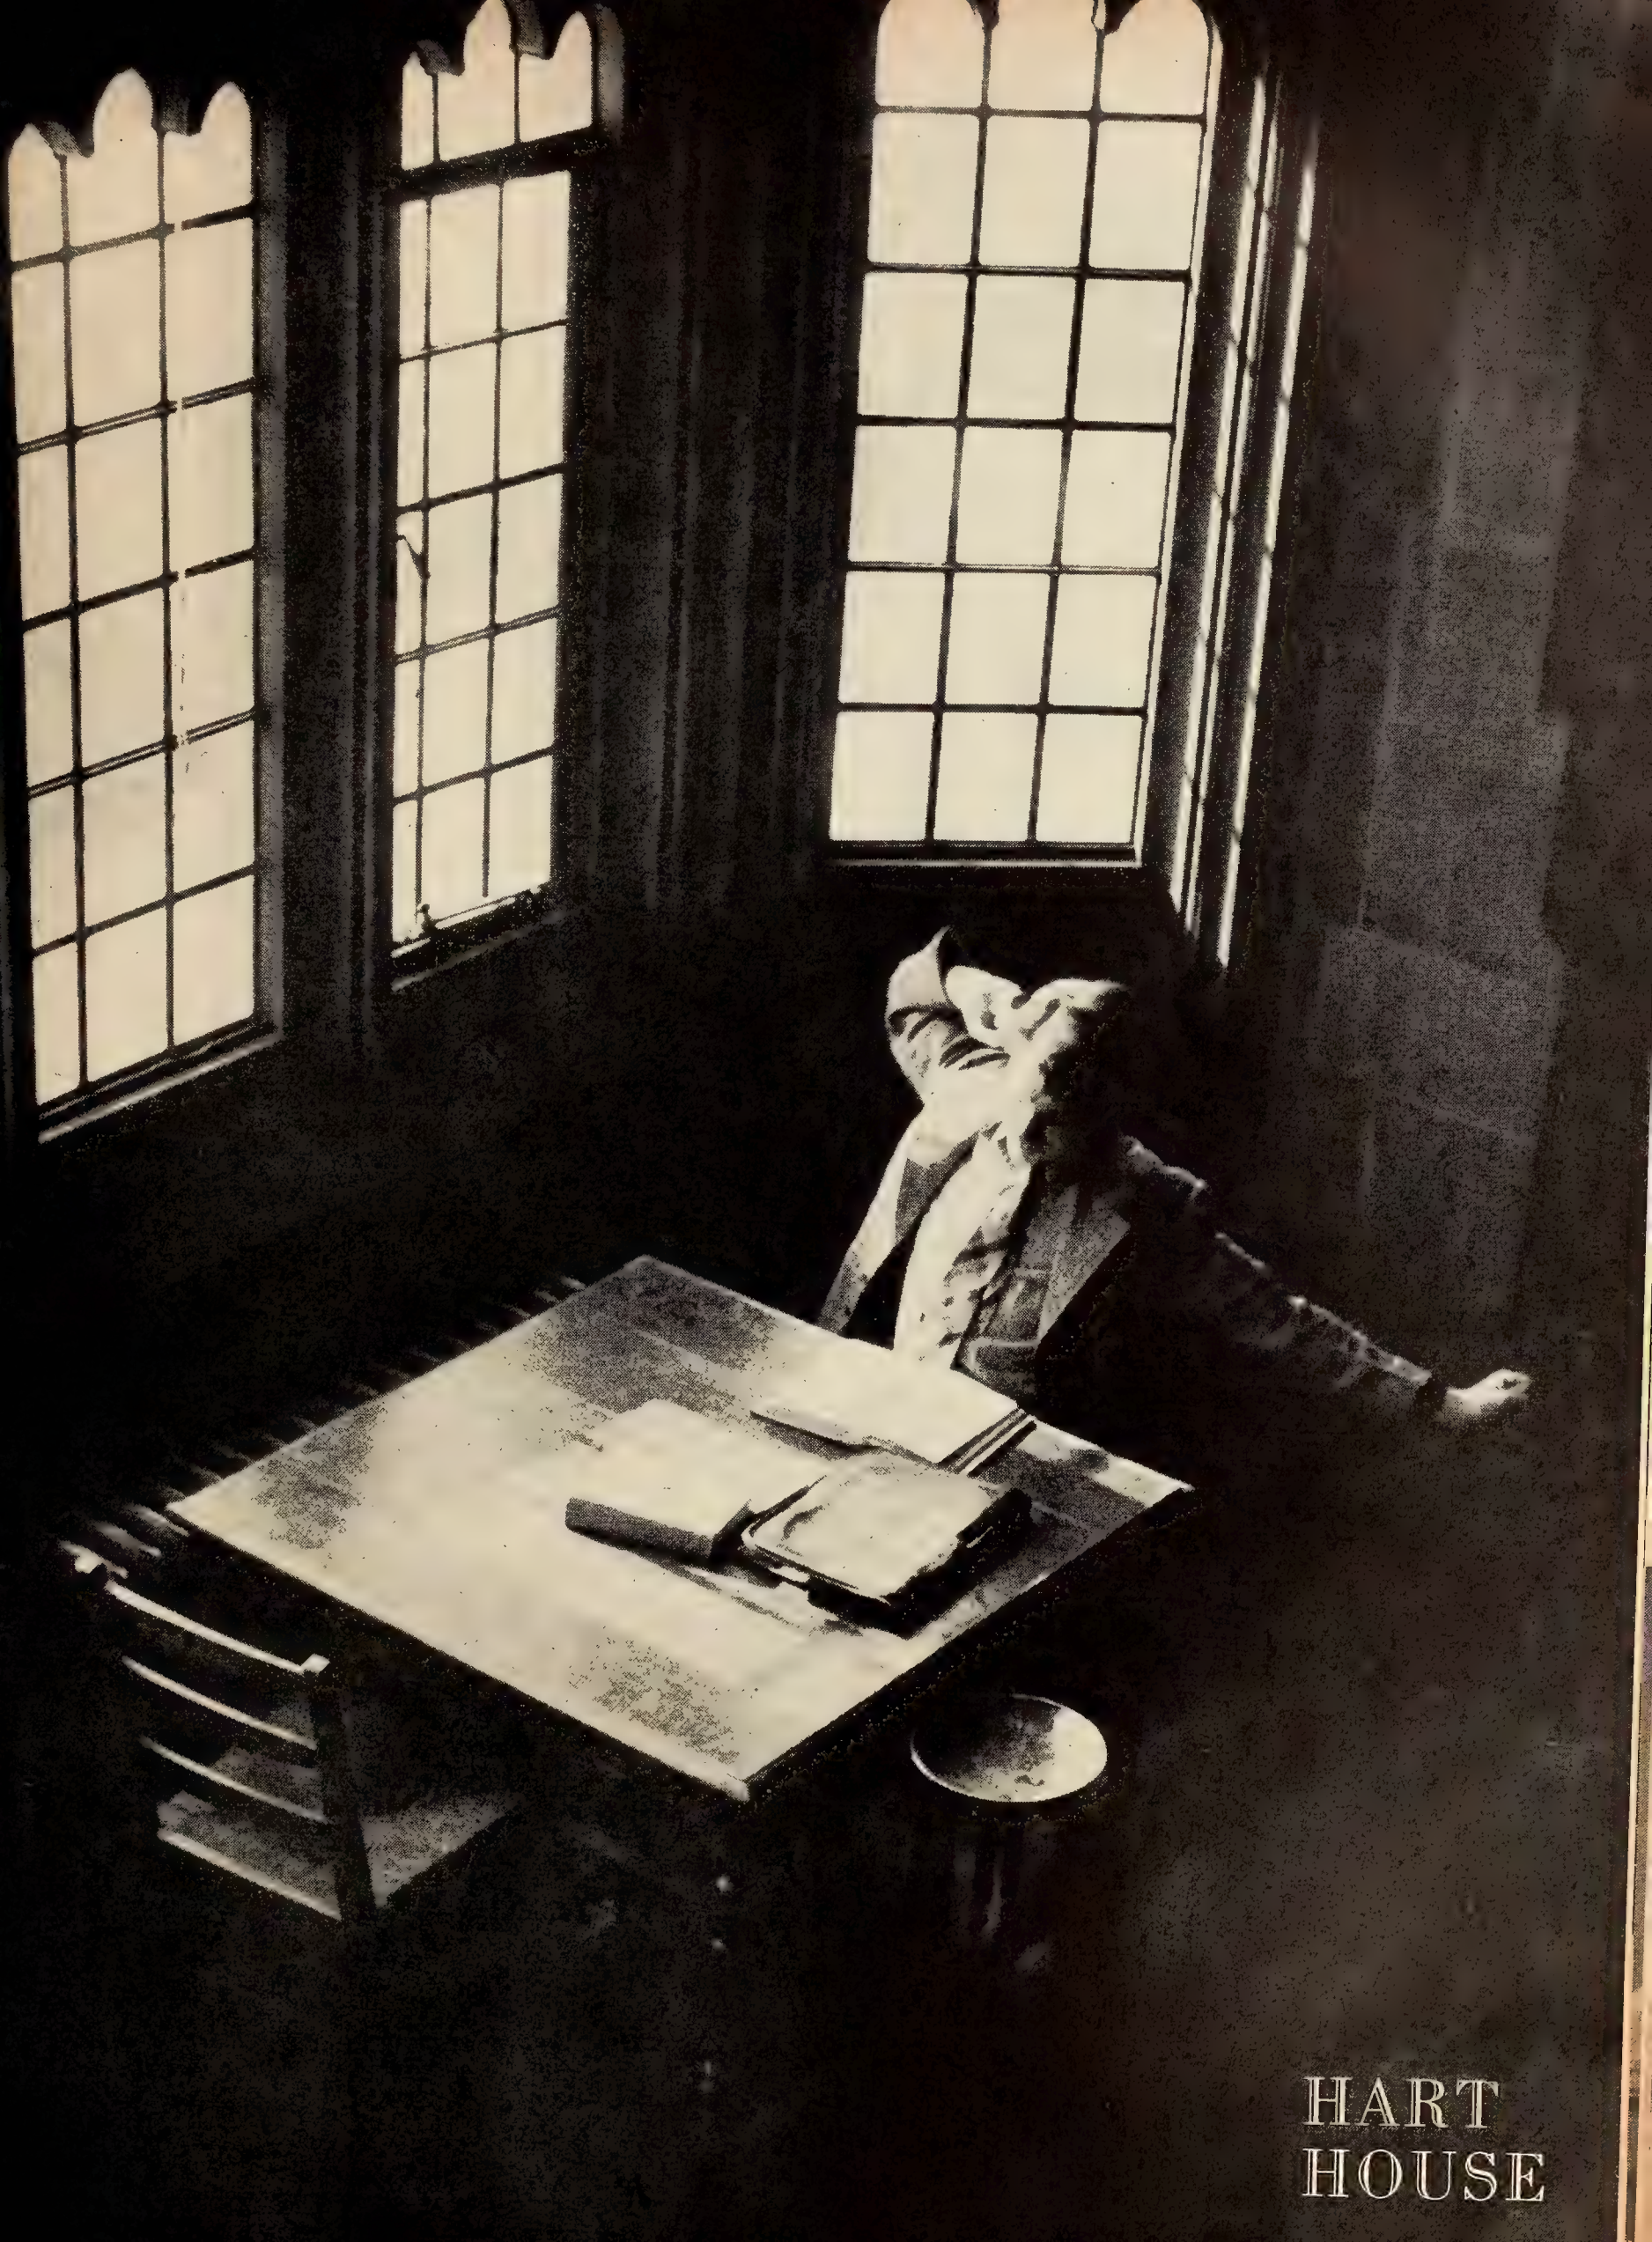

In collaboration with the Canadian Committee, the local committee provided a channel through which students could go to the Seminar held in Germany during July and August. Educational tours and courses in European and Asiatic countries were arranged.

Sub-committees were also set up to look after research and external relations. A considerable amount of progress was made by the group which was arranging for the establishment of an international house; a correspondence scheme was put forth and was highly successful.

Coming to the relief side of International Student Service, a campaign was carried on in the second week in February with the original objective being one dollar from each student. The campaign was carried on in the different faculties and colleges; films were shown at noon-hour; skating-parties and tea-dances were held; finally a grand show "Eyes on I.S.S." was produced in Convocation Hall. Although the campaign did not reach the amount anticipated, it could, nevertheless, be called a successful drive.

Because its scope is so wide and all inclusive, it is impossible to adequately cover a year of International Student Service. Yet what the local committee did this year was an attempt at a concrete expression of what International Student Service is; when the need for relief is gone, then I.S.S. can concentrate on the fulfillment of its other principles and untold benefits in international experiences will accrue to generations of students, yet unborn.

HART HOUSE

After a short visit to Canada in 1924, Mr. Nicholas Ignatieff made his permanent home here in 1925. For some years he followed his chosen profession, engineering, in Northern Ontario, the Peace River country, and Southern Alberta. He developed an intense interest in the problems of land settlement, and by 1932 spent much of his time in the study of these matters. Several imaginative experiments marked his five years on the staff of Upper Canada College. He was determined that the boys under his charge should learn at first hand of the immensity of their land and of the problems created by its geography, and so he organized and led expeditions into unsettled regions of British Columbia and Saskatchewan.

Born in Kiev, the son of Count Ignatieff, Minister of Education in the Czar's last cabinet, Mr. Ignatieff received his education in England at St. Paul's School and the University of London, where he took his degree in Engineering.

At the outbreak of war he served overseas with the 1st Canadian Engineer Battalion, and later at the headquarters of the First Canadian Division. In 1941 he was ordered to report to the War Office, where he was engaged in Military Intelligence, becoming in due course head of his section. For his war services he was awarded the M.B.E. and the United States Medal of Freedom.

During his first year as Warden Mr. Ignatieff has maintained the high standards of Hart House. He enjoys the confidence and respect of its members, and in his new task, their every wish for continuing success.

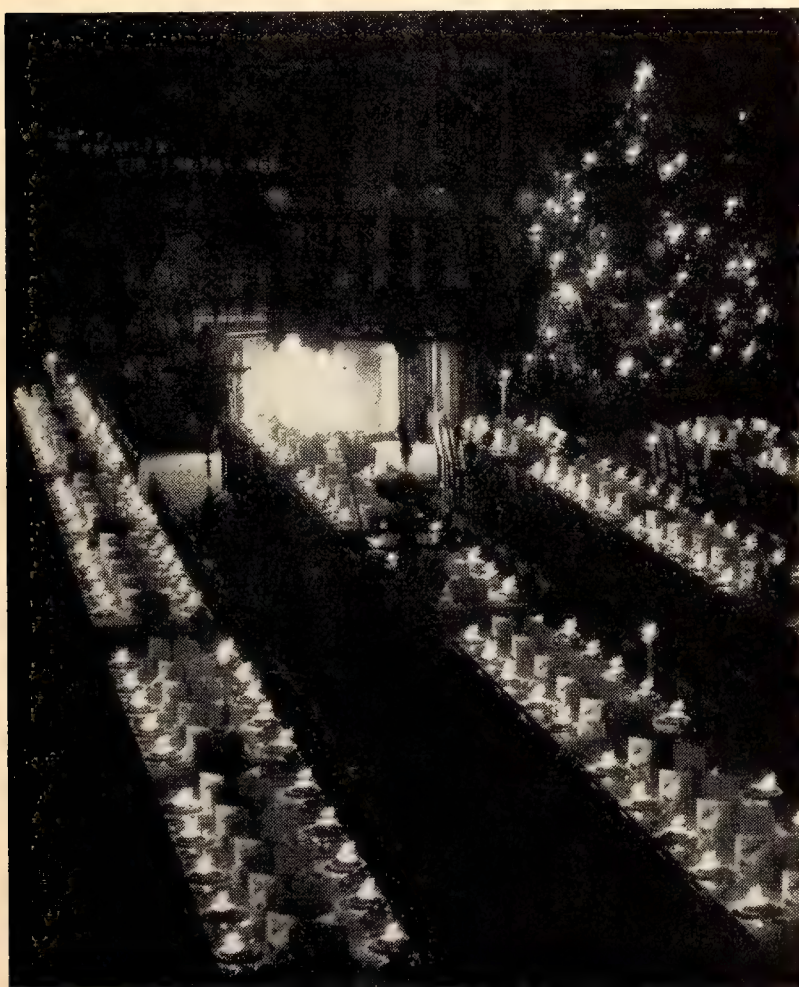

Music

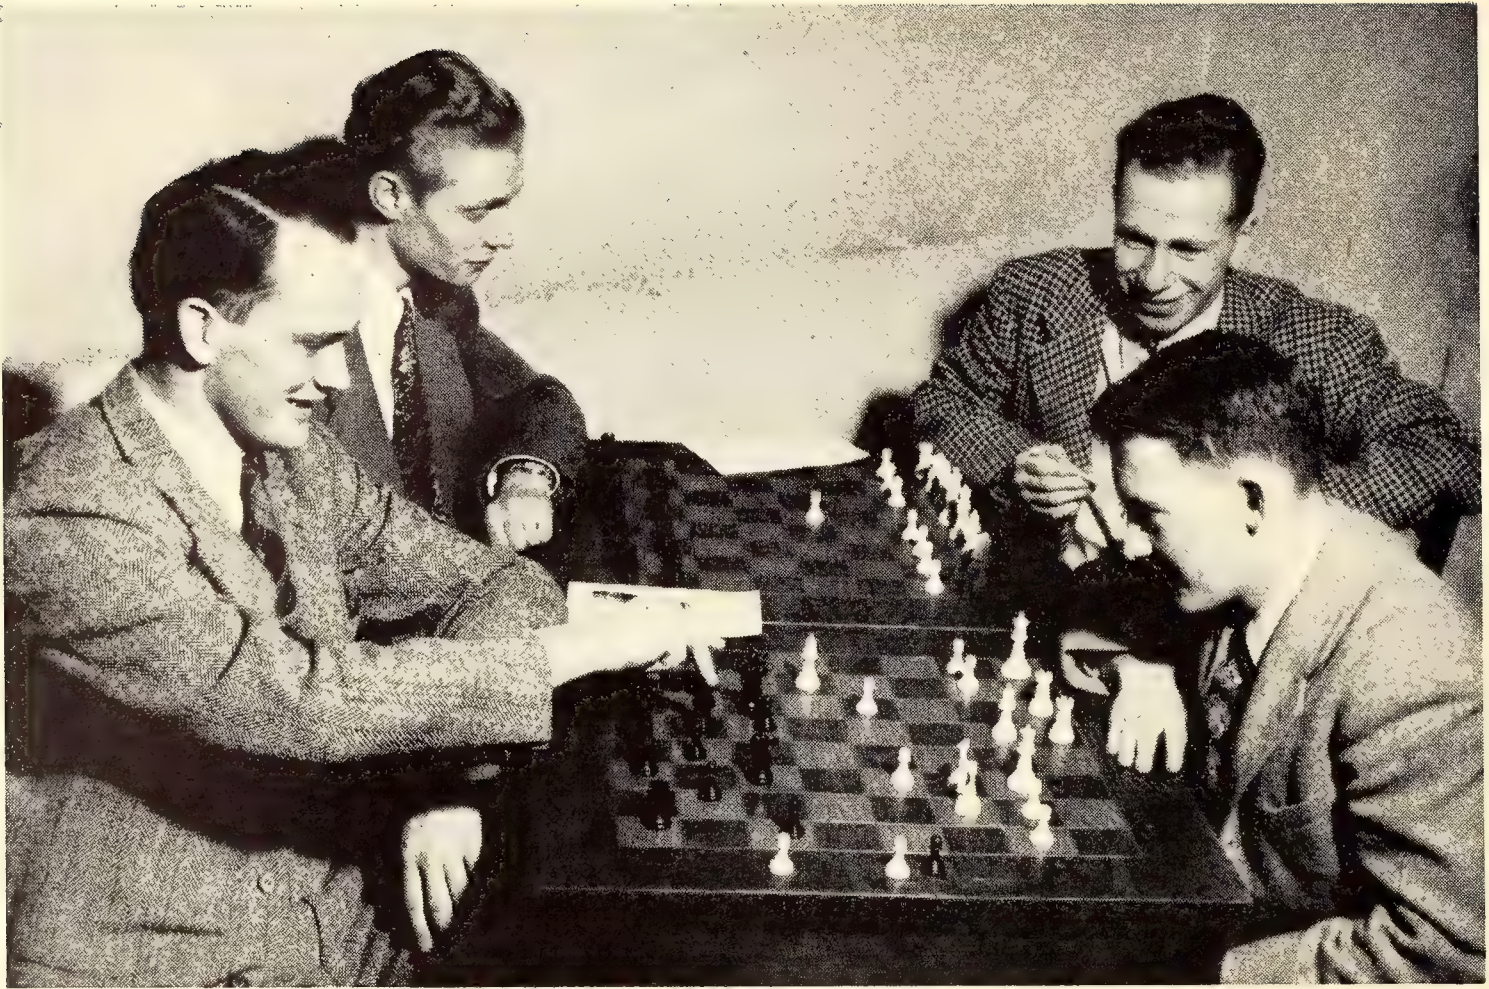

Perhaps Hart House is best known as a centre of fine music. The Great Hall is as crowded at Sunday Evening Concerts today as it was in the earlier years of the House; the Friday Recitals are still known for the perfection of their setting, the quiet, informal atmosphere, so pleasant for hearing chamber music, attracts the discerning lover of fine music; the Tuesday recitals continue to draw out the talent of undergraduates who, perhaps too modest to display their abilities, would never be discovered by their fellow students; and the rollicking Friday sing-songs provide the occasion when one and all can forget the oppressive cares of the university world in a pleasant song or two after lunch.

But a new source of musical enjoyment was born in Hart House this year. The long-awaited Record Room became an actuality for the many who eagerly watched the construction and installation of the record player and the opening of the room; the machine, built by K. A. Turner, a former Secretary of the Music Committee, was all that was hoped for. It marked 1948 as an important year in the annals of the House.

HART HOUSE CHESS CLUB, U. of T.

Chess Club

The Chess Club had a very active season. Teams were entered in the three sections of the Toronto inter-club championships, winning in the Minor and Intermediate leagues and tying in the Major for the Melliship shield. Buffalo, Montreal, Hamilton, and Ajax, were also visited and successes scored against McGill, McMaster, and the Ajax Chess Club, the latter two engagements including return matches at Hart House. The students were the winners in the traditional student-staff match, and were victorious against the Junior Chess League. The undergraduate championship went to Ron Rodgers, while in the inter-faculty tournament S.P.S. proved the best of four teams. A pyramid competition involving ninety-seven members was won in the fall term by Ed Bousfield, in the spring by David Fox. Various simultaneous, rapid transit, and noon hour events were also conducted during the year. Perhaps the most notable innovation is the correspondence match with Oxford University, England, which is expected to take about six years to complete.

Without doubt chess is increasing in popularity.

Keeping abreast with latest discoveries in the world of photography Camera Club members have forged ahead working with colour film. And the Camera Club has purchased special equipment for this colour work. A reorganization of the limited space of the club rooms was necessary but even finer photographs will inevitably result.

The first inter-university camera salon was held at the University of British Columbia this year and Hart House entries were conspicuous by their excellence. Hart House will play host next November to the second annual salon.

Archery Club

The Hart House Archery Club is three years old. Started by a group of half a dozen inexperienced but enthusiastic bowmen, it has grown to a membership of twenty-five in which some of the best shots in Canada are included. The members shoot in the rifle range on Monday and Thursday evenings and on Friday afternoons.

The tournament record of the Hart House club during the year was very good. The executive arranged for monthly tournaments in the C.O.T.C. Drill Hall, which were open to all archers in the city, and at these events the representatives of the university were ever in the front ranks of the score leaders. The club also entered competition in the Eastern Canadian Mail Match which was won handily from the former champions.

A trophy has been donated by the Graduate members, and it is hoped that competition for it will encourage better shooting by all. The club members are proud of their record this year, and in the coming year, with an infusion of new blood, hope to go on to even greater success.

Art

The Hart House collection of Canadian paintings which adorn the halls and common rooms of this stately Gothic building is becoming more and more widely known and recognised as an outstanding collection. So much so that the magazine "Canadian Art" published an article about the pictures in its December 1947 issue and printed seven black and white reproductions and one colour plate of the paintings. In addition, the Art Committee obtained a complete set of reproductions in the form of coloured transparent slides which were lent for lecture purposes. The art classes, for members, were crowded to capacity this year and the excellence of some of the work inspired the beginning of a permanent collection of paintings and sketches from these strictly amateur classes. It is hoped that the collection will eventually be used as a basis for the exchange of exhibitions with other universities.

One outstanding addition to the paintings of the House was the acquisition of a portrait of Hart Massey, in memory of whom Hart House was named, which now hangs in the Great Hall.

Revolver Club

The members of the Hart House Revolver club may be seen in the range any Tuesday or Wednesday evening, some firing targets, others comparing guns, and all of them obviously bitten by the "gun bug". This sport is like a disease, to which once a man has fallen victim he can never give up. Perhaps this state of affairs is desirable for it is only by years of practice that good shots are made.

There are about fifty members in the club, many of whom are graduates. During the past year they shot in tournaments with other clubs in the city and in the Canadian Small Bore Association Matches, and in all cases gave good account of their prowess. In addition to tournament trophies, many members have won coffee spoons bearing the club crest, for having achieved a high average score during practice.

Each year the club welcomes undergraduates into its ranks. Few of them will become outstanding marksmen, but the training gained in Hart House has enabled many to hold their own in national competitions in later years. Members of the club believe that this training programme is just as important as the compilation of trophies, and that "it is a worthwhile contribution to the marksman's world."

Debates

For the first time in many years five Hart House debates instead of the usual four were held this year. A very active committee aroused great interest in the debates and brought colourful personalities like Tim Buck, the Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, and the Hon. John Bracken, to meet the praise or criticism of undergraduate parliamentarians.

And for the first time in the history of Hart House two teams including one graduate member, travelled to another university, Tulane, Texas, to meet the best debaters of the United States under a different system. They returned after an exciting long weekend having represented Hart House well, but convinced that the parliamentary system of debating in Hart House is the best.

Table Tennis Club

The Table Tennis Club was founded in February, as a protege of the House Committee. The membership rapidly rose to forty, and by the end of the season members were showing marked improvement in their play. Games were played on five tables in the lunch room on Saturday afternoons, and the committee hopes to arrange for more frequent meets next year.

There was only one tournament held this year. That event was a round robin match among members of the club, but plans are already under way to enter a team in regional and possibly national events this coming year.

Glee Club

The ever popular Glee Club had another good year of singing under the enjoyable leadership of Dr. Charles Peaker.

As well as the now traditional pre-Christmas coast-to-coast broadcasts of carols from the Great Hall and the last Sunday Evening Concert of the series the Glee Club gave a concert for the public of the city. This was the concert in Eaton Auditorium on 12th December, when the Club sang two groups of carols and Christmas songs to a most appreciative audience. It was the first time in some years that the Glee Club had performed outside of University circles.

Squash Racquets

"It is too bad that there are only three squash courts in the University of Toronto." That is a statement heard frequently in Hart House and it indicates how popular the game has become. Indeed it is difficult to find a day when all the courts are not busy every period of the day.

And the standard of play has been as high as ever before with Hart House bringing five trophies to rest in the House. The graduate team won the Ontario title for the third time in succession, and Jack Leibel, a graduate member, won the senior individual championship of Ontario. But the three remaining championships were won by undergraduates, namely: the Ontario Intermediate by Lew McFarland, and the Ontario and Dominion Junior titles by Dave Higginbotham.

Further, the undergraduate team, captained by Lew McFarland of P.H.E., soundly defeated McGill in Montreal.

And lastly, for the first time in seventeen years the undergraduate team defeated teams representing the graduates and the faculty of the university for the Douglas Jennings trophy.

Bridge Club

The Bridge Club has come of age. This year the Bridge Club held an election to choose members for the first Bridge Committee, which will run the affairs of the club during the coming year. There was another first this year when the Hart House team won the Intercollegiate Championship at Kingston.

The members of the club, about 250 in number, met every Thursday evening to play duplicate bridge. A slight entry fee was charged, which covered the cost of prizes awarded to winners of the weekly games.

The committee has already laid plans for the future. Late this year an agreement was reached whereby members may affiliate with the Ontario Bridge League. Moreover, next year's Intercollegiate Tournament is scheduled for the University of Toronto.

In short, one might say, that the yearling (the club was founded a year ago), is beginning to mature, and by next year should be feeling its oats!

"Ah yes — a Double Life."

Doubling for life are Susie Davidson, Araby Lockhart, Harvey Applebaum, Al Goodman.

"Bliss" — emphasizing Deanna Nesbit.

U. C. FOLLIES

The U.C. Follies held in the Hart House Theatre, November 14-15, proved to be a fast pace-setter for the other college shows.

In its traditional manner it was saturated with college humour and college-girl legs. The Follies has always claimed to have more legs and colour than any other campus show. As usual the plot was tissue-paper thin to make room for the local talent turnout.

Written by Goodman-Rasky-Applebaum-Nashman the show starred Harvey Applebaum, who also produced and directed, and Al Goodman, who proved to be the newest comic discovery at the University of Toronto. The twin Falstaffs, according to the plot, had to leave college because of the raised tuition and athletic fees. They then break out into song, telling how things would be run if they were the president (The Smith Brothers). The story then turns to be a fantasy on the changes they would make.

The two-bit twins appear in jointed zoot suits throughout. The first major change is the Junior Common Room, which is naturally too common. This is followed by the final entrance of women into Hart House—one in every locker. Included in this change are co-educational shower-rooms and mixed wrestling. Here the comedienues, Araby Lockhart and Suzie Davidson are introduced, one wearing the new and the other the old look. In the final scene the presidents remove all the old professors and introduce the new applicants, who oddly enough are members of the tall chorus, appearing in various states of dress and undress.

DAFFYDIL NITE

A NEW LOOK, AN OLD TRADITION!

Daffydil, the number one entertainment of the campus, this year climaxed the three years of outstanding success since Daffydil's renovation. In the form of a satirical history of Daffydil, the show was a riotous hit with the audience from the moment they were ushered to their seats by a discordant brass band to the end of a fast moving finale.

Starting with the birth of Daffydil at the "Casey Bar" in 1895, Daffydil was followed through the years to its ill-fated banishment in 1939. A glimpse of 1898 found Daffydil in the depths of melodrama; 1920 provided amusing scenes of present day professors, and 1930 found Daffydil doing "missionary work" deep in darkest Africa.

The show was ably supported by the glee club and special artists, along with a dazzling chorus line. However, the real show-stoppers were the entre-acts. Utilizing all the psychological possibilities for mass hysteria they produced everything from a roaring Frankenstein, to a bomb-brandishing cloaked communistic revolutionary.

Great Reputations or The Best Year of our Bob.

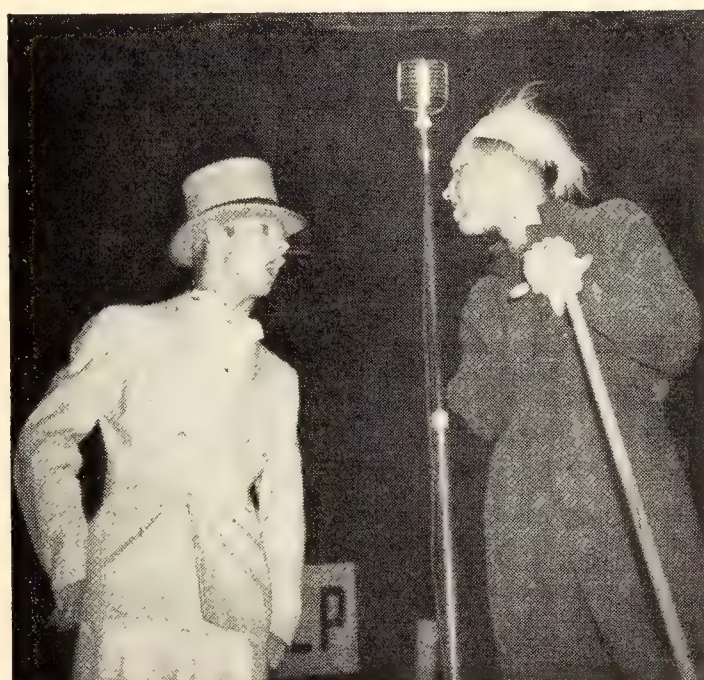

Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of October fourteenth and fifteenth, Harbord Collegiate saw the presentation of another Bob which marked the seventy-fifth anniversary of this much appreciated Vic tradition.

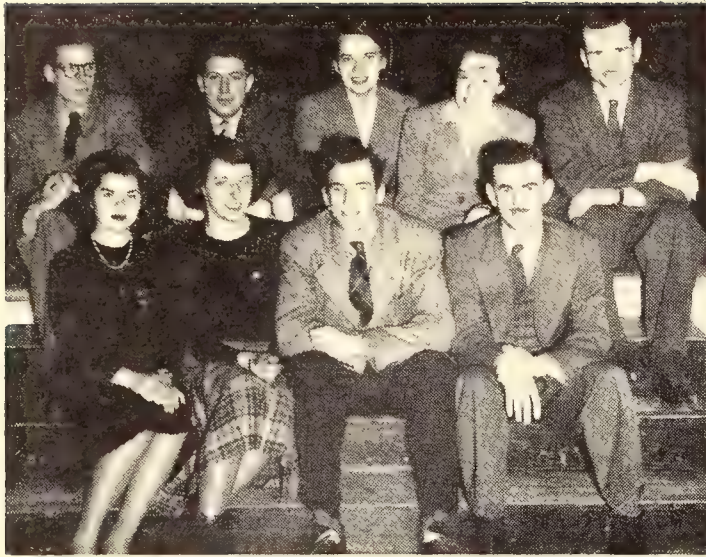

Under the able direction of Reid Scott, who put time and effort unstintingly into this year's production, there emerged a three-act Bob which admirably welcomed the Class of 5T1 to Victoria College.

The Bob of 4T8 ushered in the Vic freshmen with the harmonious strains of 'Hogtown Blues', 'Mabel, the Chic from Vic', and of course the unforgettable 'walcum talcum' number. Long playing time again presented itself as an inevitable characteristic of a Vic Bob. But the time and effort put into the task by the cast and assistants working under the usual pressure has been recognized by all. Our thanks to Bob Beare for an undying tradition that will always be a part of Vic!

The Victoria College Bob this year reached an unprecedented audience, resulting from a college enrolment exceeding twenty-five hundred. Above, the black face chorus give out with Victoria in Black, while on the right, Warren Gingell and Jack Pearse from Act I The Bob Tale in Four Rabbit Scenes. Below, four gentlemen friends of Molson our hero of Act III unravel Vic's version of The Molson Tory.

U. C. PLAYERS' GUILD

The members in the Guild this year, though not numerically as great as some previous years, have shown a higher degree of interest and activity. The "Play Production Group", launched last year under the able direction of our Staff-Advisor, Vincent Tovell, successfully staged two evenings of one-act plays. The first bill of one-act plays took place before Christmas, when Maeterlinck's "THE INTRUDER", directed by Raymond Baker, Robert Gard's "RAISING THE DEVIL", directed by Hal Walkley, and Barrie's "A WELL REMEMBERED VOICE", directed by Murray Davis, were presented. This last play was chosen to represent the college in the University Drama Festival, in February.

The new year saw the initiation of what is hoped will become a tradition on the campus, when the U. C. Players' Guild were accorded the privilege of presenting the two winning plays from the Robin Godfrey Memorial contest. This encourages original student-written one-act plays, and thus stimulates creative writing. It was with great pleasure that the Guild presented Grant Huffman's prize-winning "HELLO AND GOODBYE", directed by Donald Davis, and Bill Gagnon's runner-up "FRAIL VESSEL", directed by Alex Dixon. A third play, "WHO EVIL THINKS", written by Bill Petty of McGill University, and directed by June Gillespie, was also presented. It is hoped that future years will see a continuance of these student-written, student-directed, and student-acted plays which stimulate writers, directors, and actors among the undergraduates, and fulfil the true purpose of the Players' Guild.

The major dramatic production by the Guild this year was Jean Anouilh's new "ANTIGONE", directed by Vincent Tovell. It was an acclaimed success and showed the high calibre of acting technique which has developed within the Guild.

The "Cast Party" which included all those connected with any of the Guild's productions during the year, was held on February 14th in the Junior Common Room. It is gratifying to note that the attendance at this party comprised nearly the entire membership, and is indicative of the new spirit of participation in Guild activities.

Although the "Play Production Group" was necessarily abandoned this year due to academic pressure, there have been successful groups in "Stage Make-up", which have been held under the direction of Vincent Tovell and Donald Davis.

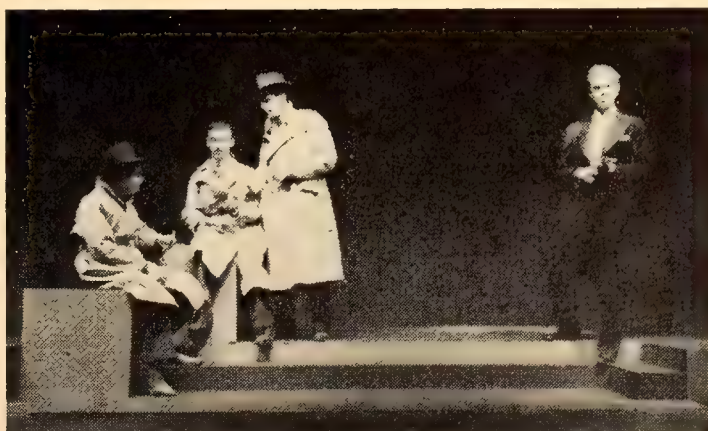

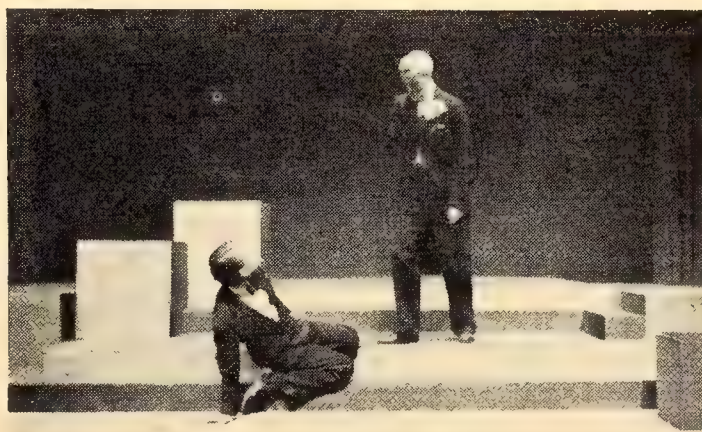

As the ranks have been swelled by many promising new actors and actresses, the Players' Guild looks forward to an extremely successful season in the coming academic year.

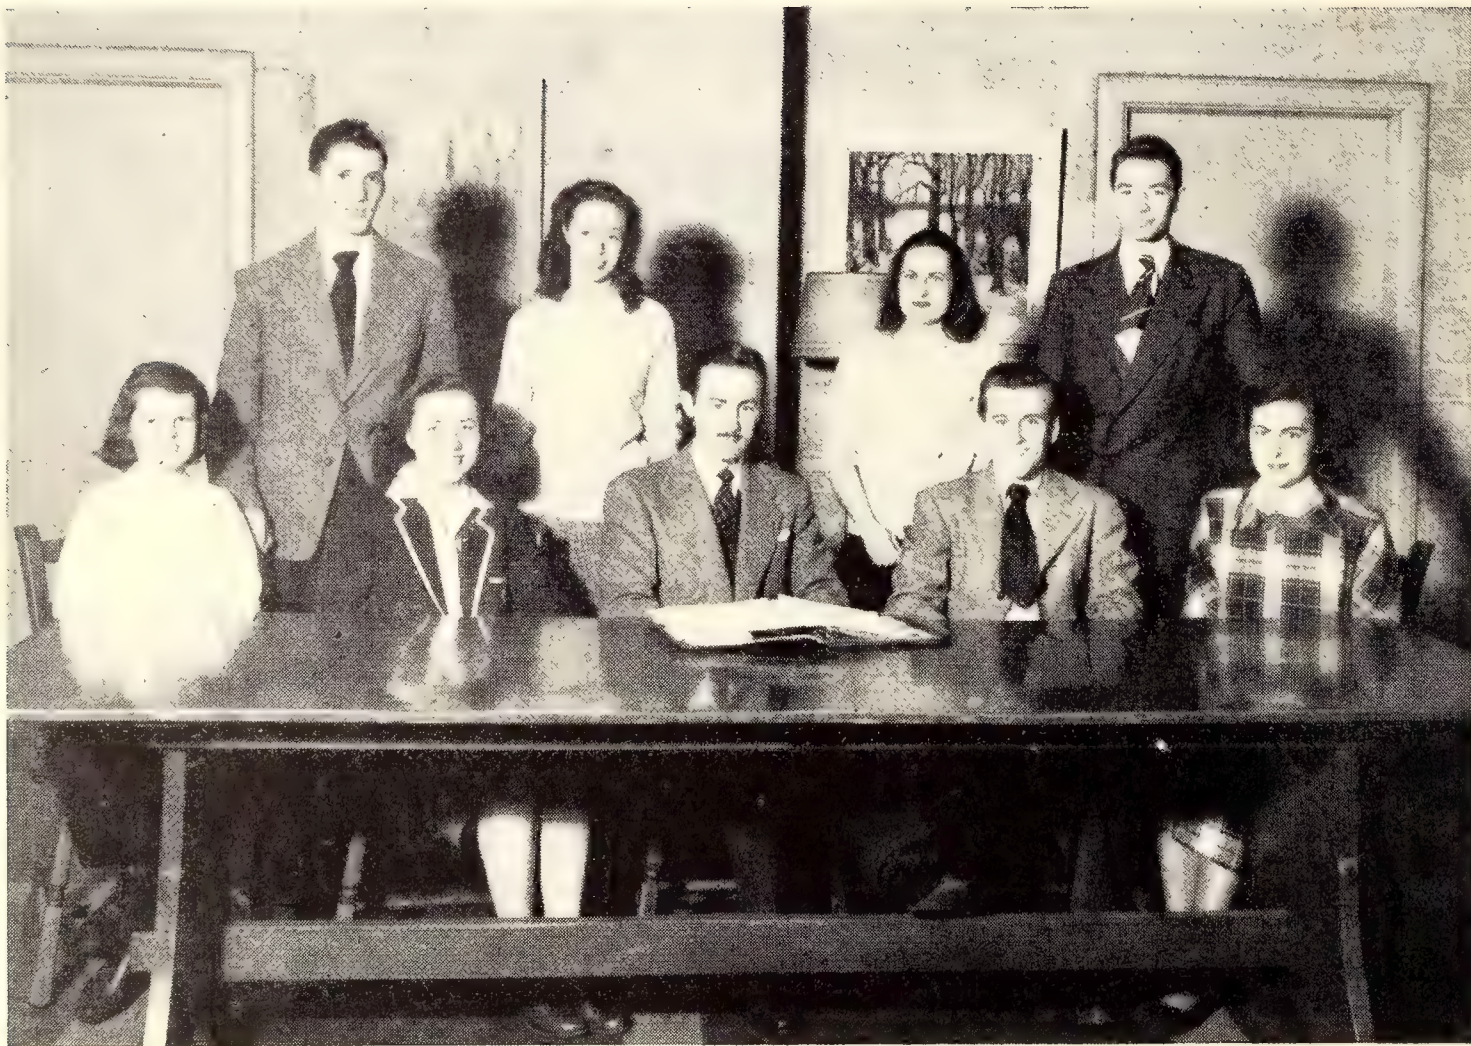

Director Don Davis supervises a rehearsal of the Robin Godfrey prize play "Hello and Goodbye".

As their major production of the 1947-48 season the Players' Guild presented Jean Anouilh's famous tragedy "Antigone" in Hart House Theatre on February 5, 6, and 7. Presented for the first time to Toronto audiences, the play was a startling success, and was undoubtedly the high point of the Guild's activities for this year. Excellently directed by Vincent Tovell, the cast included Bea Goldberg as Antigone, Murray Davis as Chorus, John Walker as Creon, Chris Taylor as Haemon, Louise Fein as Ismene, Loretta Proctor as Nurse, Ted Follows as Messenger, and Eric House, Alvin Shaw, and Duncan Green as the three guards. The scenes from the play on this page reveal the stark, effective simplicity of the setting, designed by the director, and constructed under the supervision of the stage manager Bob Sutherland. The production as a whole was one of the most effective in Hart House this year, and fully realized the deeply tragic effect of Anouilh's modernization of the ancient Greek theme.

ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE MUSIC AND DRAMA SOCIETY

First Row: M. DOWNER, J. O'SHAUGHNESSY, Secretary; J. G. POUPORE, President, J. WIACEK, Treasurer; T. MULLOY.

Absent: C. JACKMAN, Vice-President.

The Music and Drama Society at St. Michael's provides regular Sunday musicales in Brennan Hall as well as evenings of drama from time to time during the University year.

The helpful assistance of talented undergraduates and friends has enabled the executive of the Society to provide a variety of enjoyable musical programmes, and we trust, added to the musical appreciation already existent in the College.

On the dramatic side of the picture, the Society has presented three one-act plays—The Monsignor's Hour by Emmett Lavery, In The Shadow of The Glen by John M. Synge and the modern morality play Lucifer At Large by Frank Ford, the latter being entered in the University of Toronto Drama Festival in February, 1948.

It is with some degree of satisfaction therefore, that the Music and Drama Society of St. Michael's recalls its achievements during the year that is past and looks confidently toward larger opportunities and greater successes in the coming year.

VICTORIA COLLEGE DRAMATIC SOCIETY EXECUTIVE

The Major production of the year was a highly successful presentation of Rudolph Besier's The Barretts of Wimpole Street, directed by John Mantley. In addition to this annual production of a three-act play, three open meetings were held, at which shorter productions were presented. In conjunction with Trinity and St. Michael's College, an evening of one-act plays was held in Hart House Theatre. The Society also competed in, and won the Campus Drama Festival.

The first open meeting was the occasion for a production of The Marriage Proposal by Anton Checkhov, and, at two following open meetings in October and January, members and their friends were entertained with one-act plays directed and acted by the students. At the October meeting the Honorary president of the Society, Mr. A. Hare, gave a brief criticism of the plays, and in January, Mr. Vincent Tovell of University College, gave a talk on the so-called Penthouse technique.

The evening of one-act plays given in Hart House Theatre on January 8 was singularly successful. Vic's contribution was The Happy Journey by Thornton Wilder. This play, entered in the Campus Drama Festival held in February, was winner of the Cody Award.

WYMILWOOD CONCERT COMMITTEE

Second Row: D. MOIR, H. HAAS, M. BOND, P. HAIG, G. EDMONDS.

First Row: R. FRUIN, Secretary; L. WATSON, President; J. POTTER, Treasurer.

Absent: MISS J. MACPHERSON AND PROFESSOR J. A. SURERUS, Faculty Representatives.

The campus-wide expansion of 1947-48 was reflected in the musical life of Victoria college. What began as small Sunday evening gatherings, have become concerts drawing large university audiences. Every second Sunday evening during the college year finds Wymilwood literally overflowing with enthusiastic music lovers.

The Wymilwood Concerts Committee, with the able assistance of Miss Macpherson and Professor Surerus, has presented a concert series surpassing the high standard maintained in previous years.

Guest artists during the year included Lillian Smith, soprano, Geza De Kresz, violinist, accompanied by Norah Drewett, pianist; the Royal Conservatory Senior String Quartet; Madame Emmy Heim, interpreter of German Lieder, accompanied by Sir Ernest MacMillan; Greta Kraus and Ernesto Vinci in a programme of harpsichord and vocal music and Lorne Watson, pianist, chairman of the Wymilwood Committee.

Of particular interest to Victoria students were the evening of Christmas Carols and two student concerts.

The informality and friendliness which add to the enjoyment of Wymilwood concerts has not disappeared with the expanding programme. Light refreshments are served at the conclusion of the concerts and the audience has the opportunity to meet the artists.

VICTORIA COLLEGE MUSIC CLUB

Second Row: BOB GEISLER, Stage Manager; BERT SUTCLIFFE, Business Manager; GEORGE EDMONDS, Publicity Manager.

First Row: PAT LACEY, Secretary; DORIS BLACK, Associate President; ROY WATSON, President; DOUG MCCONNEY, Vice-President; JEAN EVANS, Social Directress.

“The Pirates of Penzance”, presented by the Victoria College Music Club in January was an outstanding success. Ferocious pirates, lovely maidens, and trembling policemen won the hearts of the audience. Following the production such snatches as “I am the very model of a modern major-general”, and “Poor wandering one” echoed through the halls and common rooms of the College.

Gilbert and Sullivan operettas continue as part of Vic’s tradition, and in years to come will be among her graduates’ happiest memories.

First Row: S. BAKER, B. MCCREE, J. NAYLOR, N. CROCKER, L. LLOYD, D. LAIRD.

The Medical Glee Club is composed of a group of students who like to sing. Outstanding talent is not a necessary admission requirement for the club, but moderate interest is desirable. Each year the club undergoes a swelling of the ranks prior to "Daffydil Nite" and then experiences a subsequent diminution. However, no one who has seen Daffydil will deny that the Glee Club's selections contribute greatly to the show.

Don Cushman, the club's director has great ideas for next year. Plans for a musical show are being drawn up. It is the purpose of the club to stimulate an interest in music and to provide an outlet for musical activity.

The club appreciates greatly the support of Dr. Van Wyck, the honorary President, and Dr. Grant, the honorary Treasurer.

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA AND ALL-VARSITY MIXED CHORUS

This has been one of the University Symphony's biggest years. For the past three years, its conductor has been Hans Gruber, who came to Canada from Czechoslovakia in 1939, graduated from the U. of T. in 1947 and is now in graduate studies. It was due to Mr. Gruber's happy combination of foresight and what one critic called "laudable audacity" that the Shostakovitch 5th Symphony was chosen for this year. In spite of, or, perhaps because of the difficulty of the work, the Orchestra met its challenge with what was everywhere hailed as a sterling performance.

The Orchestra's other major work was Beethoven's 3rd piano concerto with Allan Blumenthal as soloist. All together, Allan played the concerto seven times in public.

HANS GRUBER

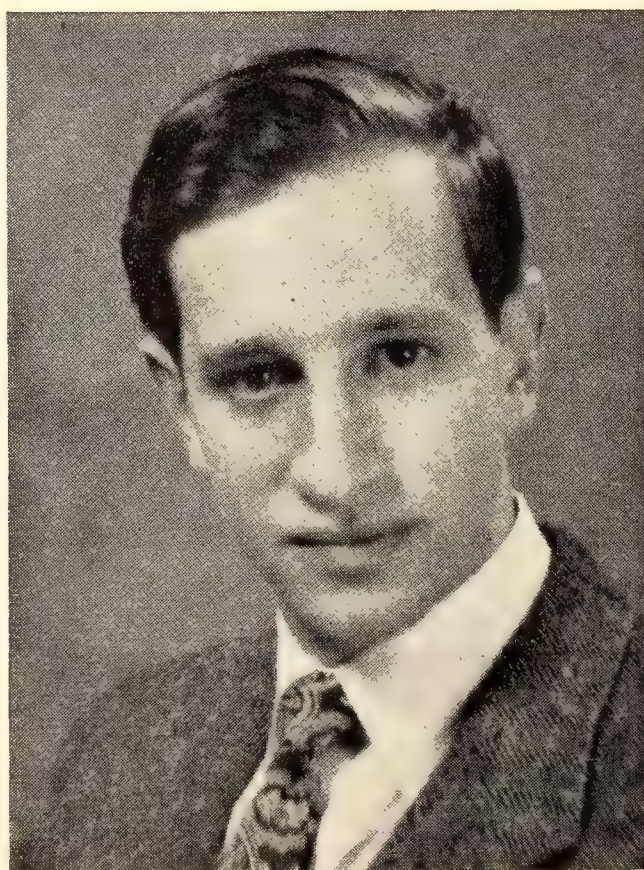

TERESA MULLOY

Concertmistress, University Symphony Orchestra.

His handling of the difficult part was described by critics as "highly competent" and "most effective". In the spring of 1947, Brock McElheran suggested the formation of a mixed chorus for all faculties. The idea was taken up by Hans Gruber, and received support from Mr. E. A. Macdonald and the S.A.C.

The conductor was encouraged by a tremendous response to attempt the seldom heard Mozart Requiem Mass, written for Chorus, Orchestra and four solo voices. The Requiem was first performed at Ajax with piano accompaniment by Gordon Marigold.

All together the Orchestra and Chorus gave thirteen concerts in January, February and March. First came the Ajax performance of the Requiem, then three nights of the Requiem in Convocation Hall. Then, the Orchestra went to Ajax, and both groups went to McMaster. It took five buses to hold 230 people, and the instruments. After three performances of the orchestral programme, it was repeated in Kingston. The season ended on March 7 with a special performance of the Concerto and the Requiem in Convocation Hall.

Pierre Boutet, Freda Antrobus, Greta Maxwell, Robert Doree, soloists with the Chorus and Orchestra in Mozart's Requiem Mass.

SCHOOL DINNER COMMITTEE

This year the boys in the back room got together and decided that School's Social functions were going to be different, better and brighter.

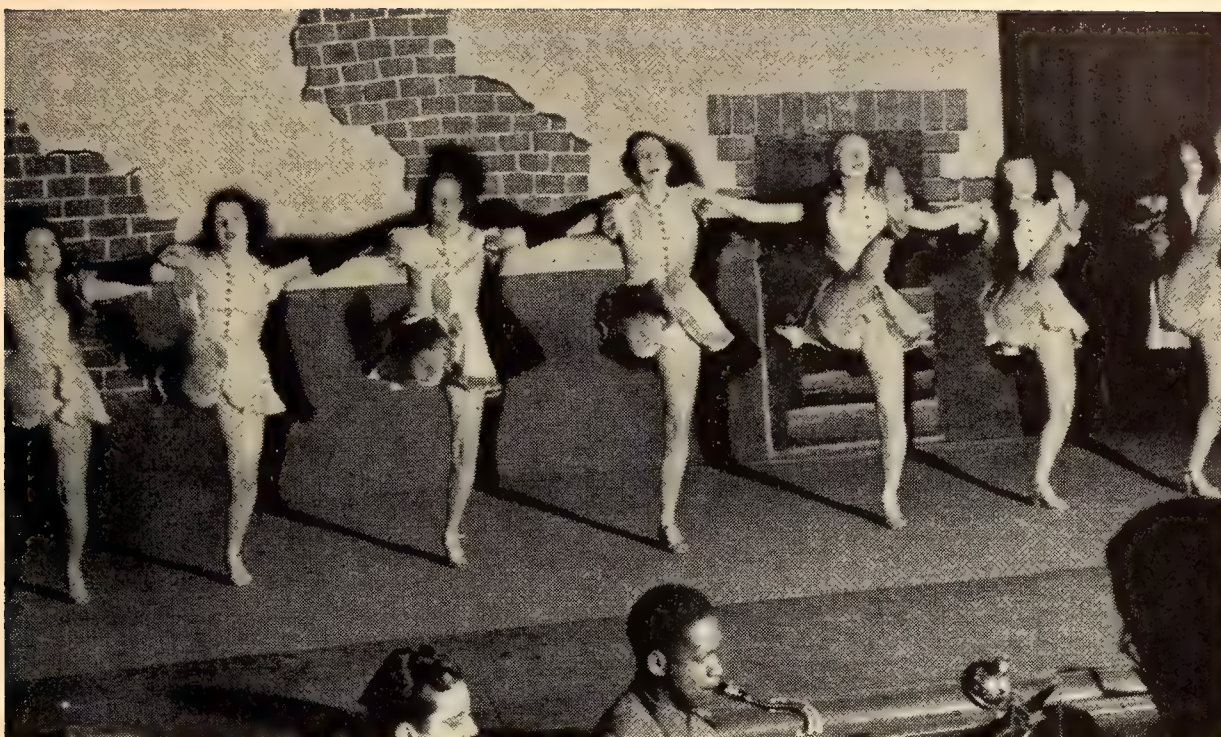

So with School Dinner in the offing they dug up not one but two new jokes and saluted them with forty blasts from the School Cannon while auctioning off the U.C. flag—which was flown at half mast for the occasion.

Retiring into the back room they mulled things over and came forth with a blue print for a dinner that broke all precedents. The bus trip to Ajax alone was worth the price of admission, with the singing of all the old familiar songs and the usual scintillating conversation. By the time of arrival at the banquet hall the promised steaks had turned into turkey but nobody minded for hunger had done its work well. With belts eased out a notch or two everyone sat back while scholarships were presented.

Then General A. G. L. MacNaughton, one of the great Canadians of our day, delivered an address on atomic energy which was noteworthy for clear, sane, constructive thought, characteristics which are too seldom evident in dealing with that controversial matter.

Then the committee's bright ideas really materialized in the form of a Smoker at the Rouge Hill Golf Club. Just ask anyone who was there if the free beer and smokes, the entertainment of Lou Skuce's musical cartoons, the good company didn't make the 58th School Dinner so memorable that it even lived up to the promises made at the Auction.

SKULE NITE

The boys began meeting in corners and developing the theme of the skit. By December, the girls were energetically practising their dance. Down in the basement some wild-eyed engineers were assembling a machine which could do anything but write lab reports. Then came the night—Skule Nite, that is.

Poor little Hubert—brow-beaten by professors and kicked around by demies, works on his machine. Then he discovers that the pill it turns out will make him big, strong and handsome. He takes over in the Romeo and Juliet scene, and proceeds to modernize things, with music and a chorus of lovelies. But the effect of the pill wears off, and poor Hubert is again his meek and miserable self.

That is until the football game with Meat Ball U. Taking one of his magic pills he strode onto the field, powerful and assured, to win the game with sparkling skill, but the effect of the pill wears off, and Hubert is again forlorn.

But Hubert wins in the end, for with a little screech for lubrication, his machine turns out D.V.A. cheques every day,

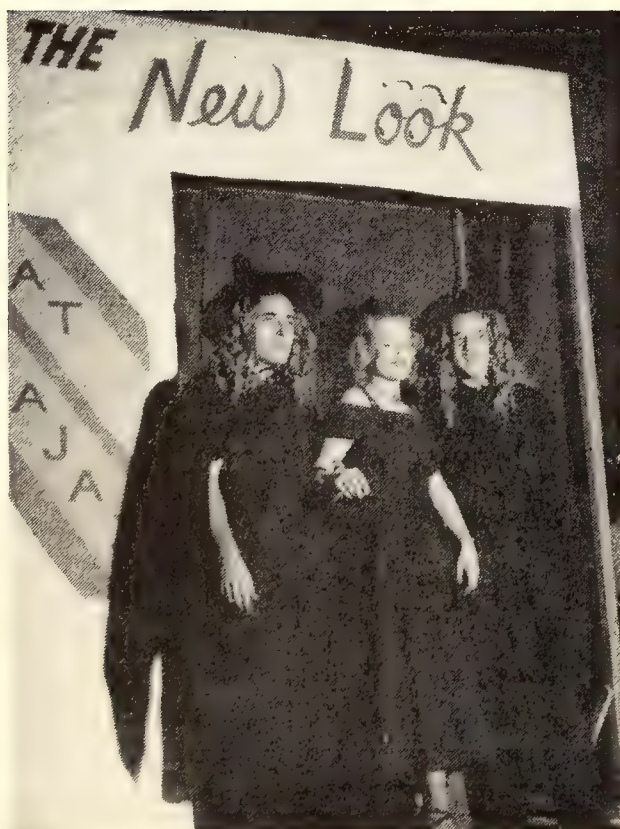

“School is just a paradise
D.V.A. has paid the price
So put forty more on ice
For this distinguished engineer.”

This great show was directed by Bill Flanagan and Bruce MacLeod to whom a great deal of credit must go. The Skule Nite quartet of Graham Kempt, Art Trott, Joe Elder, and Bob Thompson, competed for honours with the Ajax foursome of Mat McLaughlin, Mickey McCloy, Mike Stoyanoff and Garth McDowell. The backstage crew did a marvellous job and much of the credit must be given to them.

DENTANTICS OF 1947

Under the direction of Myron R. Millar, and capably supported by the music of Wally Rennick, the dancing of Barbara Williams and thirteen beautiful chorus girls, and a superb cast of seventy, Dentantics this year hit an all-time high.

Current subjects such as the "New Look" were handled in a skit entitled "The Society for the Concentrated Observation of the Female Limb". Other feature attractions were the vocals by Barney Mass, and Merk and the Amalgamators, the Dental skit, the magic violin of Mary Ann Paul, and the torch singing of Grace Hurton.

"We want a skirt, just like the skirt
They wore in 'thirty-eight.
Not too low for the poise,
Higher for the boys
Who took them out on dates—
A real old-fashioned skirt
Without the length,
One that makes a strong man lose his strength—".

SCHOOL AT-HOME

Before anyone had a chance to addle his brains too seriously with thought, along came the School-At-Home to give an opportunity for a little action. And what a chance it was for action . . . Mix up Oscar Peterson, Johnny Holmes, a bar, several hundred engineers and a like number of beautiful gals and stir well in the ballroom of the Royal York and you've got a combination that can't be beaten. Everyone who was there will long remember the music, the bar, the decoration, the Ajax boys and their weird machines (What a way to wake up!) and the Chem. Bar. Chemistry has its points—practical chemistry anyway.

AERONAUTICAL CLUB EXECUTIVE

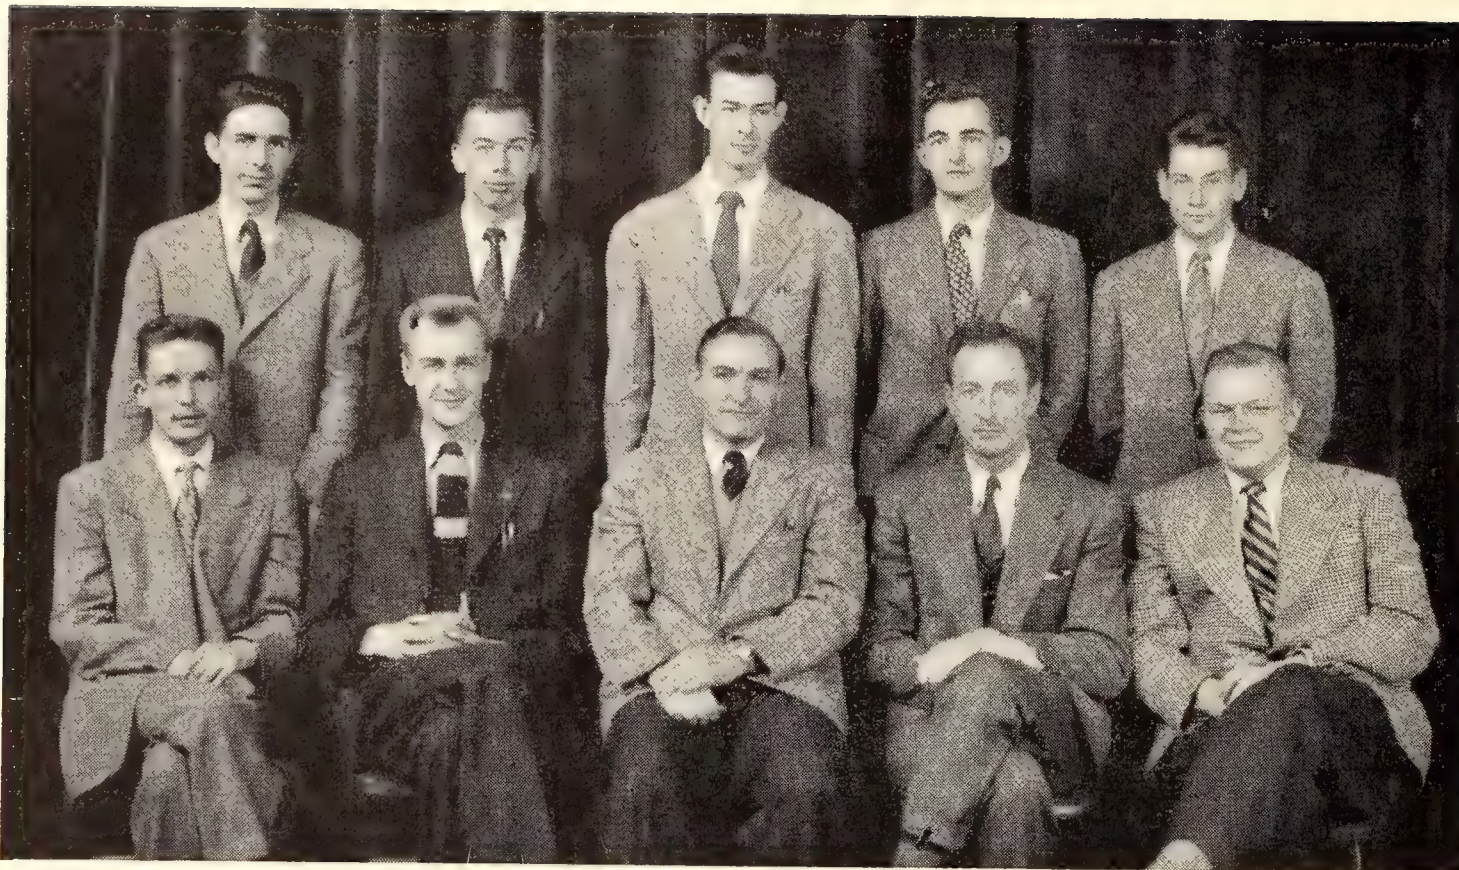

T. R. LOUDON, W. A. GOODALL, W. G. CARTER, G. W. REID, W. H. BATEMAN.

Initially the Club executive proposed to cover in its meeting four aspects of the field of Aeronautics, Aviation taken as a whole, Design, Production and Finance.

The outstanding event of the year was a field trip to the National Research Council at Ottawa, which took three days. Leaving Toronto on the evening of November 27th, the next day was spent by the Club being shown through the entire Mechanical Division of N.R.C. which embraces aeronautical research.

A short field-trip to the Aluminum Company of Canada was also included in the year's activities.

A very important feature in connection with the Aeronautical course was the inauguration, last fall, of the student branch of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences. This Club will coordinate its activities with those of the Aeronautical Club and will make available the added attraction . . . of the monthly journal of the I.A.S. which contains invaluable information on current developments in aviation. The parent organization of the I.A.S. is in the United States and has in its membership, both in Canada and the U.S.A., engineers of great repute.

The most important highlight of the year was the exhibition "Architecture and You". A sub-committee of the executive, consisting of both staff and students and headed by Wally Kyro, the exhibition manager, worked all fall preparing the material for the show.

After a series of last minute changes, the Club held its first "stag". It gave the Toronto members a grand opportunity to meet the Ajax members. In February the Club held the "Architects Ball" in the "Club Top Hat". We were pleased to see how this affair has grown in importance over the past two years, and we hope it will shortly become one of the "musts" of campus social life.

Many field trips were taken by the various years individually; second year visited Hamilton and both second and third year visited various manufacturers about Toronto. Fourth year spent a day with the Toronto Brick Company. The fifth year was unusually fortunate this year, to be able to take a week-long field trip to New York and Boston to visit some of the modern architecture for which the New England states are so famous. Later in the year a two-day trip to London, Tillsonburg, Simcoe, and Hamilton, was sponsored by the Brewers' Warehousing Company for the study of their retail stores.

Now in its fourteenth year as an organized Club at S.P.S. the Toronto Student Branch of the A.S.M.E. has progressed to be the largest in Canada. It is partially supported financially by the parent society in New York.

During these years members have expanded their scope of understanding through the many club activities, the monthly issues of Mechanical Engineering and the various technical publications which this year have been obtainable only for those of the graduating class.

Through co-operation with the Mechanical Club joint dinners and meetings were held at which guest speakers addressed members on problems pertinent to engineering.

Further meetings are planned which include a joint dinner meeting with the Mechanical Club and a speaking competition among the student members for cash prizes and the privilege of representing this branch at the Annual Student Branch Convention in the spring.

CERAMICS CLUB EXECUTIVE

W. G. COULTER, PROF. P. M. CORBETT, J. C. RUNNALLS, T. RITCHIE.

The first social evening of the Ceramics Club took the form of a banquet and dance at the Flyer's Club on October 24. Professor L. J. Rogers, well-known analyst, spoke of his activities in connection with the Attorney-General's Department. Ken Stephenson arranged a very novel dance program. The evening proved to be a very sociable one.

Dr. C. J. Keenig, the chief Research Engineer of Ohio State Experimental Station was guest speaker on February 12, when the club met at Ajax. A film was shown at this meeting concerning the development of the American Nepheline Co's. operations at Lakefield, Ontario.

It was decided that alternate club meetings would take place at Ajax, to ensure the full participation of the Ajax students in their Club activities.

During the first term, many field trips were arranged. They included tours of such ceramic plants as Cooksville Brick and Tile Co., Dominion Glass Co., Hamilton, Frigidaire Products of Canada, Leaside, and Moffat's Ltd., Weston.

CIVIL CLUB EXECUTIVE

Back Row: J. M. HOWES, J. M. DUFF, C. B. DAVIS.

Front Row: W. D. McMURTRY, PROF. C. MORRISON, F. L. BLACKHALL, K. W. SHORT.

The Toronto Branch of the Civil Club found it difficult to co-relate its activities with the Ajax Club and as a result the functions of the club which are of a broad nature and not necessarily linked with the course of study were designed for the third and fourth year students.

The first meeting was November 18th, an informal smoker at the Navy Club. Here the class of 4T9, new arrivals to the Toronto Campus were welcomed by the Graduating Class under the leadership of W. D. McMurry, the club chairman.

At a Dinner meeting in Hart House, Professor Rogers gave a very interesting talk on "Crime Detection", illustrating his outline with a number of exhibits. Professor Morrison, the Honorary Chairman discussed the objectives and advantages of membership in the Engineering Institute of Canada and the Association of Professional Engineers of Ontario.

The final meeting of the year took place in Hart House Debates Room on February 17th, following a dinner in the Great Hall. Mr. J. R. Askin of the Abitibi Pulp and Paper Co. was guest speaker, the subject of his address being "The Pulp and Paper Industry in Canada".

Movies of the development of a pulp and paper townsite illustrated some of the many engineering problems involved in the industry.

ELECTRICAL CLUB EXECUTIVE

Back Row: D. C. FAIRLEY, D. N. GILLESPIE.

Front Row: R. B. McCARTER, W. H. C. BECKETT, PROF. L. S. LAUCHLAND, R. C. SHORT.

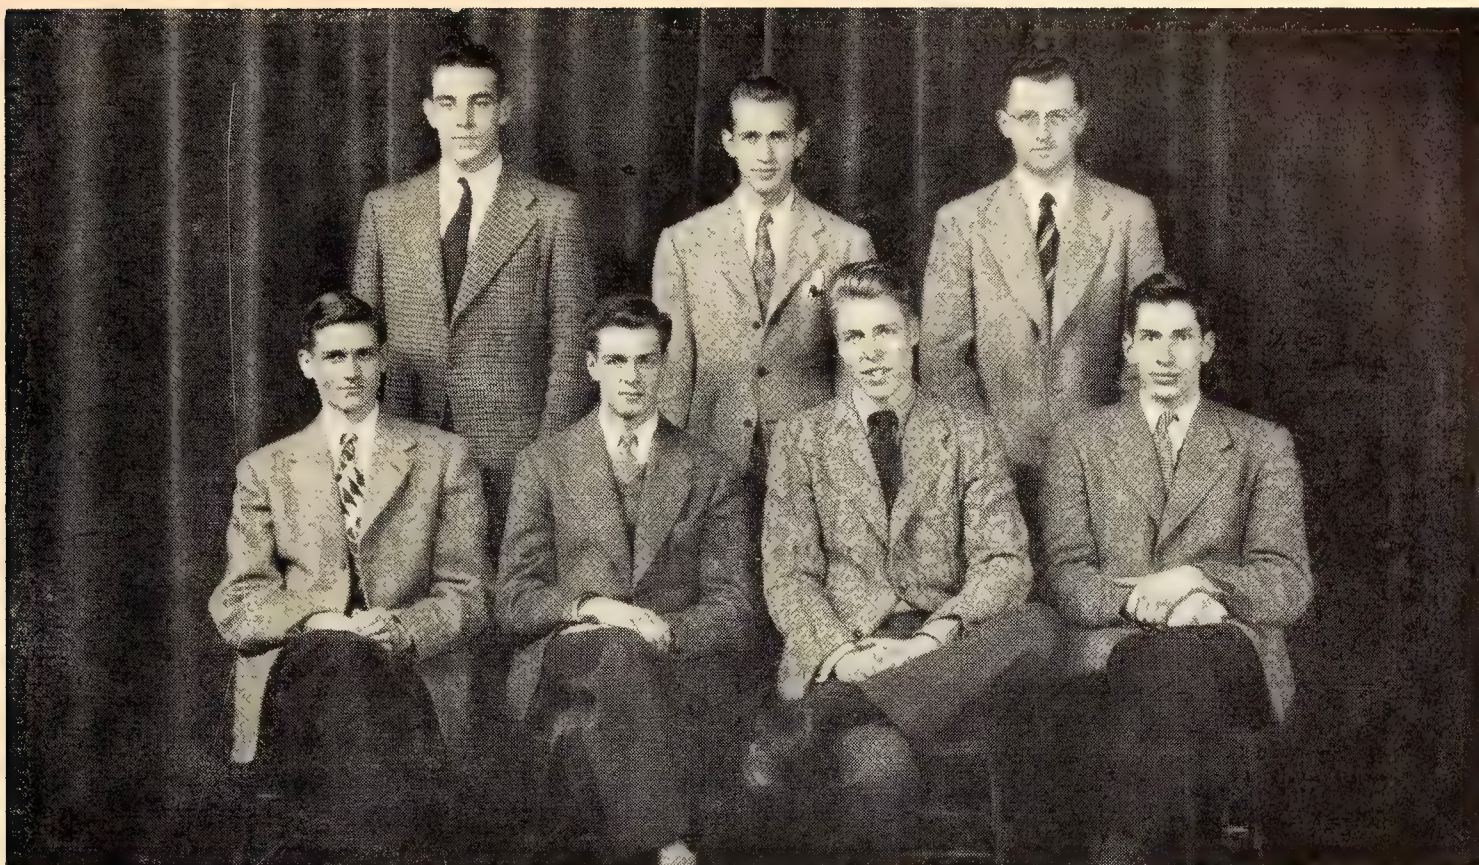

It was found necessary this year to divide the third year into three groups for the inspection trip to the Canadian Westinghouse and Steel Company of Canada plants. This trip put an end to the student difficulty of trying to visualize the types of transformer windings or the method of assembling coils on the armature of a rotating machine. At the Steel Company they saw the widest employment of direct current machines where their use solved technical obstacles unsurmountable with alternating current apparatus. Fourth year students inspected the new hydroelectric development at De Cew Falls, and the generator station at Queenston.

In January there were two "unofficial" field trips for the men in their final year — one to Crouse Hinds where demonstrations of dust-proof, vapour-proof, and explosion-proof lighting fixtures and switch gear were given; the other to Ferranti Electric where each stage in the manufacture of distribution and power transformers and of regulators was explained.

Early in February Student Papers were delivered before a joint meeting of the Student Branch and the Toronto Section of the A.I.E.E. Later in the month the I.R.E. held their annual Student's night.

The grand climax to the Club's activities came on March 3rd, when a most successful supper dance for the Toronto section wound up the year's business and social functions.

ENGINEERING AND BUSINESS CLUB EXECUTIVE

Front Row: J. H. MATHERS, F. A. BROWNRIDGE, H. D. CONOVER, T. S. MEDLAND.

Back Row: D. H. COPP, J. D. MOSSOP, G. S. LEGATE.

This year the club activities have been centred on field trips which have been organized on free afternoons. The fourth year group had one out of town trip to the Steel Co. of Canada in Hamilton, where they saw steel production from the raw product to the finished article. Other trips were taken to a number of Toronto plants, including the General Electric Co. of Canada, O'Keefes, Canada Wire and Cable Co., Frigidaire Products of Canada Ltd., and Gutta Percha and Rubber Ltd.

The third year group was very ably administered by the Vice-Chairman, Tom Medland. In spite of the extra difficulties due to the large number of members they had some very successful trips, which included visits to Massey Harris Co. Ltd., Okeefe's and Viceroy Manufacturing Co. An evening meeting was held February 25th, in Hart House, two Time and Motion Study movies as well as the Algoma Bridge Collapse film were shown.

The crowning social event of the Club was a big party and dance on the evening of the last exam.

ENGINEERING PHYSICS CLUB EXECUTIVE

R. J. UFFEN, COLONEL J. TUZO WILSON, H. V. FULLERTON, M. G. RYAN, R. F. HARRIS.

The opening meeting was a Film Night held in the Hart House Debates Room. Three National Film Board documentaries were shown: "Power Valley"—the story of hydro-electric power development in the St. Maurice Valley, "West Wind" in colour, the life and paintings of Tom Thomson, and "Man—One Family"—a British film debunking the theory of racial superiority.

At the next meeting, Dr. D. Y. Solandt of the Physiology Department gave an illustrated address on "Biophysics". The Club members took a keen interest in the subject, so that many questions were asked after the talk.

Geophysics Options visited the H.E.P.C.

development at De Cew Falls. Options 5s and 5c later shared a field trip to the Meteorological Offices on Bloor Street, where they saw the radiosonde lab.

The Refrigeration Option organized a student body of the American Society of Refrigeration Engineers, and a trip to Buffalo was planned in conjunction with the A.S.R.E. A trip to O.A.C. proved most interesting, especially regarding the low temperature physiology work there.

The final Joint Dinner Meeting took place in March. The entire Ajax Engineering Physics Club was invited, together with members of the Staff.

Numerous field trips were held by the various options.

INDUSTRIAL CHEMICAL CLUB EXECUTIVE

Back Row: E. N. BANKS, Third Year Representative; R. W. VOLLETT, Third Year Representative.

Front Row: H. R. JENKINS, E. K. BRICKENDEN, PROF. E. A. SMITH, J. A. WALKER, D. B. MUTTON.

The activities of the club started on November 5, 1947 at the Rideau Hotel where the Annual Smoker was held. Enough said! On December 9, Dr. Joslyn Rogers of the University of Toronto was guest speaker at a dinner meeting held at Hart House, where he gave us a very interesting talk on criminology.

The annual field trips commenced this year with the Toronto-Chatham-Sarnia tour on October 30-31. On the 30th we visited the Dominion Sugar Refinery at Chatham and in Sarnia, the Port Huron Night Clubs. Room 101 of a certain hotel will probably stand out long in the memories of 4T8 Chemicals. Recuperating, the next day we visited Polymer and Imperial Oil at Sarnia.

The final Chemical Club Banquet was held on March 3 at Diana Sweets where Dean R. O. Hurst, Ontario College of Pharmacy, gave a very humorous talk entitled "Cleo was right".

The Chemical Club contribution to the bar at the School-at-Home was a sight well worth seeing and many took advantage of the fact by coming back half-a-dozen times.

MECHANICAL CLUB EXECUTIVE

Back Row: B. C. FRENCH, W. D. BOLSTER.

Front Row: G. W. SCHMIDT, E. A. ALLCUTT, H. DEDERER, COL. H. G. THOMPSON, P. A. CHAREST.

Absent: F. V. REDDY.

This year's activities were carried out with the close cooperation of the Student Branch of the A.S.M.E.

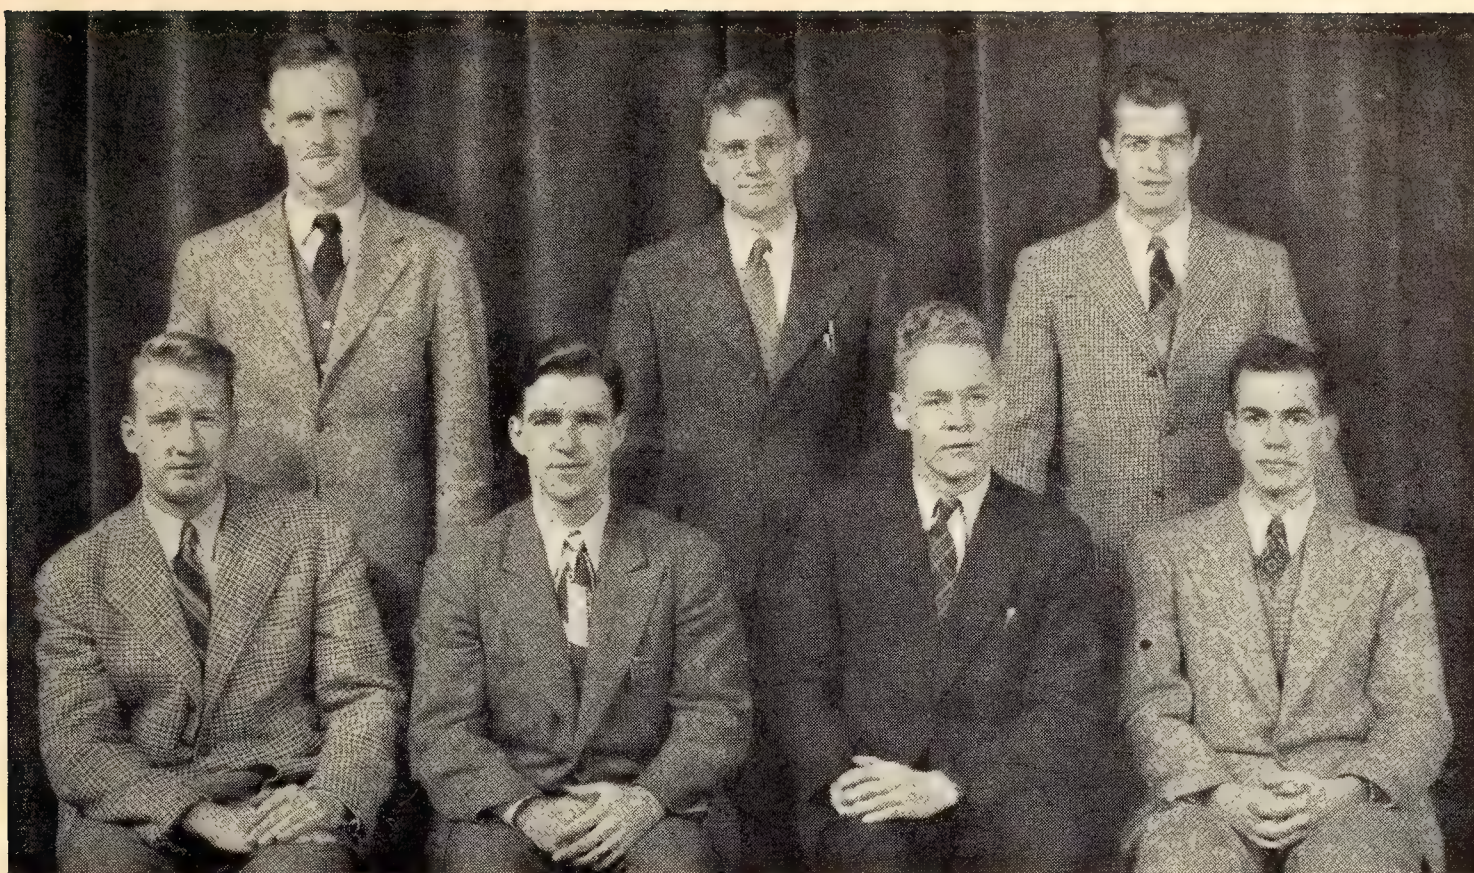

Proceedings were opened on November 24th with a dinner meeting in Hart House. A splendid talk on "Steam Power Plant Equipment and its Operation" was given by the guest speaker Mr. John G. Hall, Toronto manager of Combustion Engineering Corp.

On Tuesday, January 20th after a dinner in the Great Hall, Mr. David Boyd, Works manager of The John Inglis Co. gave a talk on "Shop Engineering."

On March the 2nd, the Great Hall was the scene of the Annual Mechanical Club dinner. After an appetizing dinner, Col. H. G.

Thompson of Aluminate Chemicals addressed the meeting. The topic was "Engineering Maintenance Problems in the Army and the Formation of the R.C.E.M.E." Col. Thompson was the Honorary Chairman of the Club during the year and his services were greatly appreciated.

Field trips were arranged on two occasions for the Senior Students. The first trip was to De Cew Falls power development project on October 8th. Remember that dinner. On November 5th, the Dominion Foundries and Steel, the Steel Co. of Canada, both in Hamilton, and John Bertram and Sons plant in Dundas were highly successful.

MINING AND METALLURGICAL CLUB EXECUTIVE

Back Row: K. BROKENSHIRE, E. N. ELEY, B. W. GILBERT.

Front Row: F. A. GODFREY, H. B. SPENCE, R. STEVENSON, B. LAING.

The first dinner meeting of the Club was held in Hart House; the guest speaker was Mr. E. J. Carlyle, Executive Director of the C.I.M.M. In addition, a colour movie on the operations of the Anaconda Brass Company's open pit in Chichiquamata was shown.

As is the annual custom, the fourth year attended a dinner meeting of the Toronto Branch of the C.I.M.M. Dr. Camsell, President of the Institute, addressed the meeting.

The usual smoker, held early in the fall was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed.

A dinner meeting was planned for February when it was hoped to have Mr. Diamond of C.M.S. as the guest speaker.

Mr. Van Smith of the American Cyanamid Company kindly accepted the Honorary Chairmanship of the Club this year.

COLEMAN GEOLOGY CLUB

Second Row: F. CLIFTON, W. MOORE, K. CONN.

First Row: W. LITTLE, Vice-President; PROFESSOR A. MACLEAN, Honorary President;
H. E. NEAL, President.

Absent: C. GRAVENOR, Secretary-Treasurer; T. BOLTON, Graduate Representative.

The Coleman Geology Club was named after the late Professor A. P. Coleman, who was, for many years, head of the Department of Geology at the University.

Members of the club come primarily from the courses which include Geology. However, the membership is not restricted and this past year many of the students and staff from other courses participated.

Meetings were held at the Museum and at Hart House. Films and speeches were presented by guest speakers who were well qualified in their respective fields. These talks, combined with the opportunity for students of various courses to meet and exchange ideas, made this year the most successful in the history of the club.

BIOLOGY CLUB

Third Row: A. H. LAWRIE, Graduate Representative; F. S. COOK, Second Year Representative; G. MACKENZIE, First Year Representative.

Absent: Miss P. BLAKE, Secretary.

An attempt to introduce variety in the program of the Biology Club this year resulted in a field trip to the Gundy estate, an excursion which ended in the manner of most rural expeditions: sunburn and burrs.

An opportunity for discussion was provided at the January meeting with an open debate on Evolution versus Civilization.

A variety of subjects pertinent to the essential character of the Club, characterized the regular meetings.

"Movie Night" ended the activities of the year. Coloured movies taken by Dr. Ford-Walker on the Atlantic coast showed how "real live" lobsters and starfish look and act in their home surroundings. Exciting shots of moose families by R. D. Robinson and Kodachromes completed the programme.

At the last meeting Dr. Walker and Dr. Coleman, heads of the Zoology and Botany Departments respectively, both of whom are retiring this year, described their early biological careers.

FRENCH CLUB PLAY Le Barbier De Seville

D. Ney as Figaro, J. Walker as Don Basile,
D. Shaw as Almaviva.

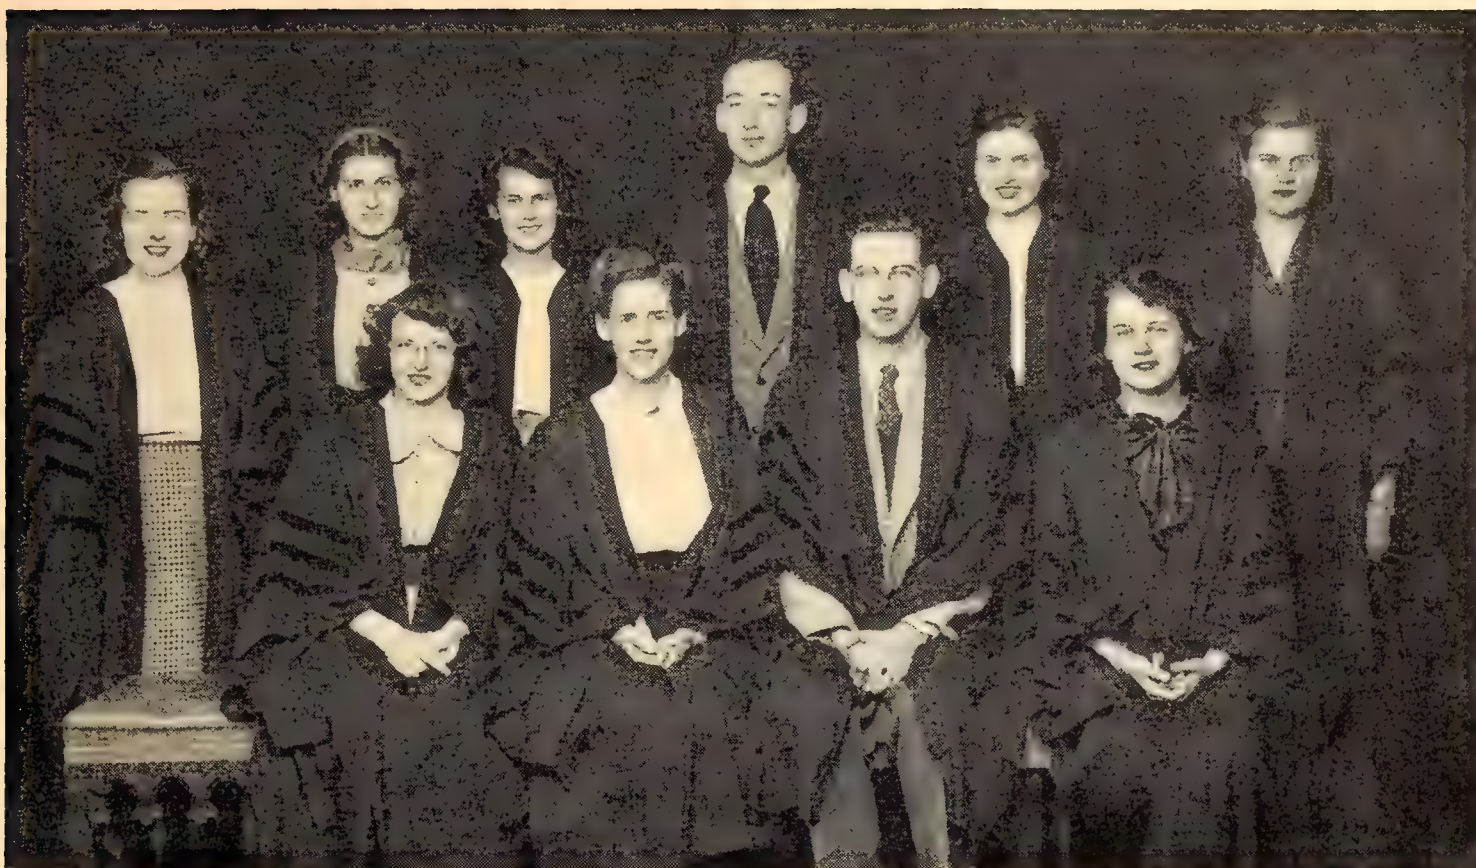

For La Societe Francaise, the '47-'48 season marked a number of innovations. They began with the President's declaration that the French Club of the Royal College should be regarded as their own by the students in the professional faculties or schools interested in things French. This policy was given concrete expression when one of the leading roles in the annual play was taken by a student in S.P.S.

The play, Beaumarchais' "Le Barbier de Seville", itself marked a departure from the Moliere tradition of recent years and proved a complete success when presented on December 31 at Hart House Theatre under the direction of Professor R. D. C. Finch with the assistance of Miss J. Gillespie, both of the University College French Department.

The monthly programmes showed a new trend in the extensive use made of the stage. A Courteline play, "La Paix Chez Soi", a roundtable discussion on "What Toronto Lacks", and a musicale, "Evening of the Music of French Composers" were presented before Christmas. The January meeting "Soiree Parisienne" emphasized the social rather than the cultural side, when a vaudeville show of edifying and amusing acts compressed a month of evenings in Paris into one multicoloured capsule. A medieval farce, "La Farce du Cuvier" was presented as the club's contribution to the annual joint meeting of the four French Clubs at the University. The year was brought to a close with a Moliere evening when scenes from his plays were presented by puppets and "live" actors with the co-operation of members of the French Department. Sing-songs, refreshments, and dancing completed all programmes.

La Societe Francaise, however, retained its traditional objectives, those of providing an opportunity for students to acquire fluency in French conversation as well as to train the ear, and to acquaint themselves with French life, customs, and culture and for those with a dramatic leaning, to take part in the frequent theatrical programmes for which the club is developing an increasing inclination.

Inset: MARG. BULMER, ROSS DAVIDSON.

Fun and variety combined with useful extra-curricular education was the keynote of the Spanish Club's programme for the year.

At the first meeting, crowded with curious freshmen as well as old members, two films on South America were shown. Dancing afterwards was climaxed by rumba lessons given by Miss Francis Goering of Buenos Aires. Miss Carla van Lente was elected President, Miss Pam Franklin, Secretary, Miss Margaret Bulmer, Social Directress, Miss Sheila McDougall, Treasurer, and Art Ball, Second Year Representative.

Bill Kilbourne, Jim Eayers and Keith MacMillan spoke at the second meeting on their recent tour of South America. Due to illness Senor Darillo Brugal, Dominican Consul, was unable to be the guest of honour.

Another meeting featured Spanish songs by Jewel Burns of the U.C. Follies. The speaker was Luis Ros of Mexico who addressed the Club in Spanish.

The major event of the season was a Mardi Gras convened by Mr. Bill Taylor and held in Brennan Hall. A large crowd, tutored by Arthur Murray dancers, samba-ed to Chico and los Rumberos.

Emphasizing the close relation between the Spanish Club and the Department of Spanish a "Cervantes Night", planned by Professor Juan Cano of the Spanish Department was the final event of the year.

The Classics Club of Victoria College is a society which has been formed to stimulate and foster an interest in the Classics. The members feel that the literature and history of the Greeks and Romans can still exert a valuable influence in our modern world.

The Club held five meetings this year. In October the Honorary President, Mr. H. G. Robertson gave a paper on Greek humour and an address on Greek music. During the year entertainment was provided by the U.C.-Trinity Society.

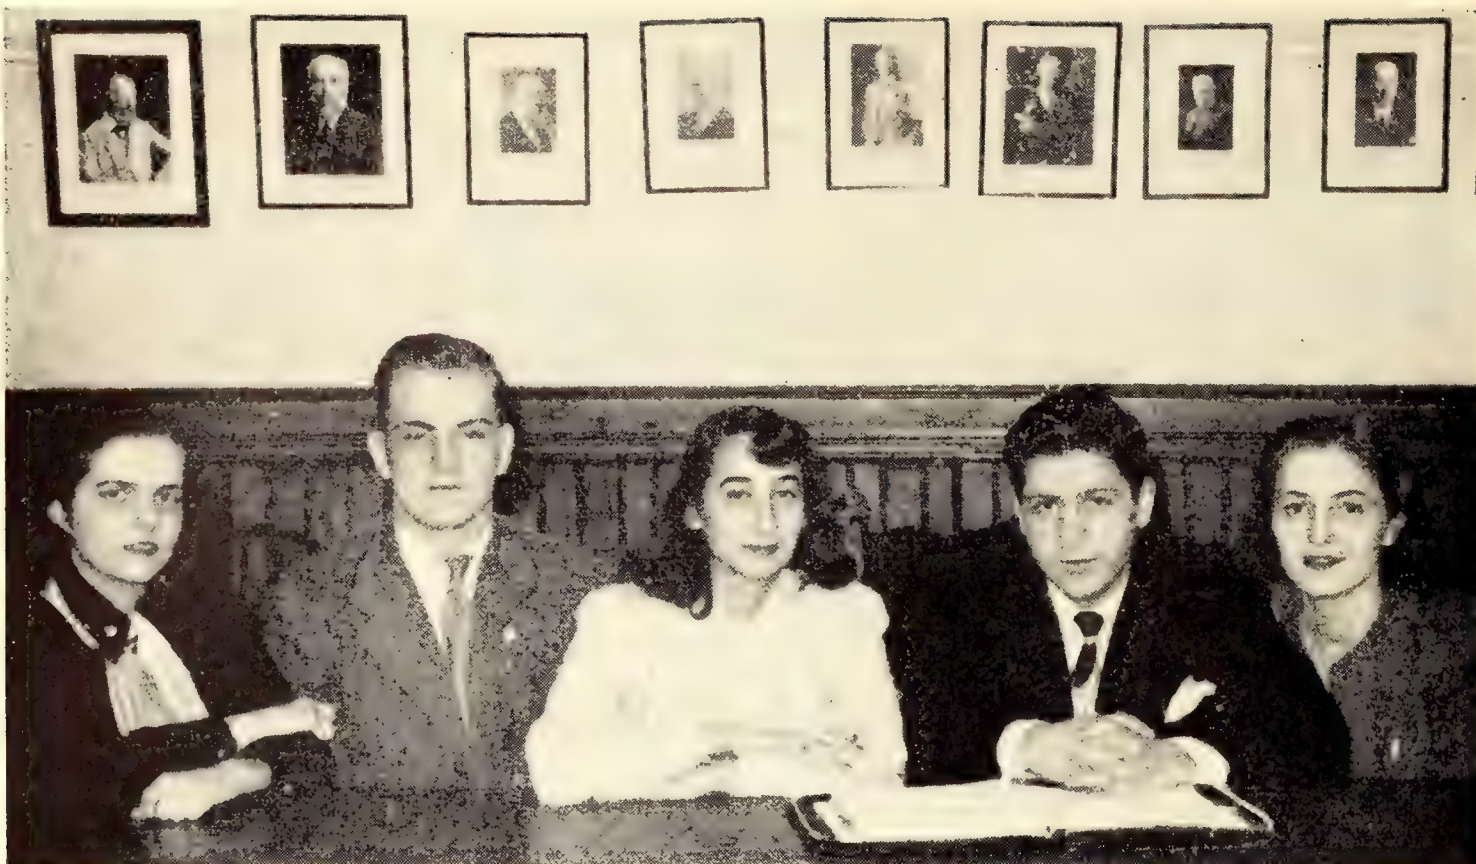

The December meeting will be long remembered for the Christmas carols and a Socratic dialogue on Socrates. A guest speaker, Dr. H. Innis of the Economics department gave a learned paper on the place of communication in civilization. Freshmen provided the programme which gave a glimpse of later Roman writers.

The final social event of the year was a banquet at which the new executive was welcomed with a toast.

The strongest attraction of the Classics Club is the informal nature of its meetings which are always held in the friendly atmosphere of the professors' homes. The whole time is not spent in deep classical study, as often the "dignitas Romana" is relaxed to enable the members to indulge in games and present skits — of course with a classical flavour.

This year's society had an enjoyable and profitable year as it pursued the study of the classical thought and way of life.

The year '47-'48 has proven to be one of marked success for the Household Economics Club. The ball began rolling with a tea for the Freshies. They saw the hallowed halls of the "L.M" and even saw such retreats as the Home Suite. Later in the fall, the girls threw a "come-single-go-home-double" dance called the Harvest Hop. It was a great success because for weeks afterwards we heard enthusiastic comments about it.

With the new year, more serious thoughts concerning careers and futures haunted the mind of many House Ec'ers, particularly those in fourth year. To give us a picture of the available openings for graduates in House Economics, Miss Kay Watson was the guest at the January meeting. In February, Miss Carol Good presented a spring fashion show for the club to show us the newest of the new look.

The crowning achievement of the year was the first annual "House Ec At Home", held at Casa Loma. Amazing amounts of hidden talent were unearthed in the form of song writers, vocalists and pianists, with the result that the song "House Ec, Perfection Check" received its premier.

All in all, the club was a tremendous success, due to the energetic and co-operative executive.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS ORGANIZATION

Third Row: HORACE BELLAMEY, Assistant Social Director; PAUL TAKAHASHI, Vice-President; AMEEN KHAN TAREEN, Publicity Manager.

Second Row: LES PAYNE, Treasurer; BOB SHEWARD, President.

First Row: KAY KNIGHT, Secretary; JACK THOMAS, Social Director; JENNY VOLPE, Assistant Social Directress; BETTINA BRADLEY, Social Directress.

Social entertainments constitute the prime activity of the Organization with special emphasis placed on investigating the cultures of unfamiliar lands. Members belonging to certain nationalities staged the evening programmes in manners typical of their homelands.

West Indian night represented the exotic islands of the south. Hungarian dancers on their night presented scenes from central Europe. The beauty of the Oriental dances was interpreted by dancing girls. The Indian and Pakistan members took a particularly active part in all meetings.

Nor is the Canadian aspect of cultural achievement omitted. Sleigh-riding, skating, Christmas and New Year parties were part of the scheme. One of the major events of the season was the Costume Ball at the Oak Room where over a hundred and fifty members in their national dress danced to congas, minuets and waltzes.

The keynote of all the social gatherings was a care-free spirit of fun and good-fellowship. The more seriously-minded clubs of the campus discussed and debated racial problems, but this Organization believes that when internationalism is practised these problems cease to exist.

TRINITY COLLEGE ARTS AND LETTERS CLUB

Continuing its policy of inviting interesting and thought-stimulating speakers, the Arts and Letters Club heard talks given by both faculty members and outside guests on subjects ranging from Greek drama to George Santayana. Outstanding speakers were Rev. W. P. Jenkins on Unitarianism, Dr. A. R. Barker on Erasmus, and Robert Gill on drama and its effect on stage design.

The Creative Writing Group again flourished under the able leadership of Wey Robinson. It covered one of the branches of arts and letters which was not dealt with at the general meetings.

A Record Hour was started for both the men and women of the College and Wednesday afternoon meetings drew a sizeable crowd.

One of the really great achievements was the dance which the Club held in Strachan Hall on New Year's Eve. It was the first one of its kind to be undertaken in the College and was enthusiastically greeted.

Next year the Arts and Letters Club hopes to take on some of the prestige and importance of the older organizations of the College.

MEDICAL ARTS AND LETTERS

Second Row: D. MILNE, G. SECORD, R. SHEPHERD.

First Row: D. B. CAMPBELL, Chairman; MARY THORNHILL, G. E. D. SNELL.

In fulfillment of its purpose, the club discussed a wide variety of subjects relative to Arts and Letters. Music, art and travel talks received intelligent appreciation from large audiences at Wymilwood.

Speakers included such arresting campus personalities as Professor H. B. Van Wyck, Professor J. Markowitz, Warden Nicholas Ignatieff and A. Y. Jackson, well known Canadian artist.

A friendly interest in all the activities of the organization was shown by the honorary chairman, Professor William Boyd.

Canada's junior medical association this year entrusted five U. of T. undergraduates with the guidance of its activities. Last November, the General Council, consisting of delegates from the Canadian Medical Association at Dalhousie, Montreal, McGill, Queen's, Toronto, Western, Ottawa, Manitoba and Alberta, saw fit to choose University of Toronto slate as its incoming National Executive. Roger Hines was elected as President, L. E. Horne as Vice-President, A. Hardman as Treasurer, D. B. McConachie as National Director of Public Relations, and Joan Vale as Secretary. To follow in the wake of the excellent accomplishments of past executives and to perform the special services detailed by the General Council are tasks which the Toronto group is eager to perform.

Of particular note is the invaluable assistance and encouragement being given to this Association by the executive of the Canadian Medical Association and Canadian Hospital Councils. Since affiliation with the C.M.A., C.A.S.V. has sent two voting members to the annual meeting of the General Council of the C.M.A. In this way, the medical students of Canada are enabled to participate, to a greater extent than in the past, in the medical affairs of the Dominion. Furthermore the C.M.A. is represented by a voting delegate at the Annual General Council of C.A.M.S.I. In Kingston last November, Dr. J. S. Delahaye of the C.M.A., acting in this capacity, was of estimable aid in the task of formulating plans for future C.A.M.S.I. services.

On March 29, 1947, St. Michael's College Co-operative was incorporated.

Much organization and persistent effort preceded the establishing of the Co-op on the S.M.C. campus. Tom Critelli and his faithful helpers had the Tuck-Shop ready to open; double blue ribbons were cut, and the Co-op was in business.

Under the able management of Ken and Marc LeFebvre, the venture has prospered well. A Board of Directors composed of four St. Joseph and Loretto ladies and five S.M.C. men shape its policy. The Co-op is, and promises always to be, a strongly positive force in S.M.C. activities.

An argument arises over the scoring of a target. Harvey Riome looks on as John Brick, the official scorer, says, "Nothing doing," to Bill Taylor's insistent clamour of "It's a Bull!"

Dave Bartlett, one of the best shots in the club, squints down the sights of a Winchester "52" bull gun. These rifles, of which the club owns two, are said to be the latest thing in small-bore rifle design, and are used by most crack riflemen on the Continent.

LT.-COL. W. L. SAGAR, Officer Commanding,
who is a Professor of Civil Engineering.

The University of Toronto Contingent of the Canadian Officers Training Corps through two wars has, in common with contingents at other universities, supplied so many officers for the Canadian Army, that the Corps is now officially recognized as the principal source of officers for both the Reserve and Active Forces.

Over three hundred officer cadets of this contingent take practical training each summer for sixteen weeks at Royal Schools across Canada from Valcartier, P.Q., to Chilliwack, B. C. Certain faculties give credit for summer training as part of required practical experience, in such Corps as the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals and the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers.

The social life of the contingent is again reviving, marked in 1948 by the COTC Ball, held in Hart House;—"the year's most colorful event".

Lt.-Col. W. L. Sagar, is the Commanding Officer. Capt. J. H. Potts, (U.C. '49) is Adjutant. Two Active Force Officers, Major H. W. F. Appleton, E.D., (U.C. '32), and Major G. MacLean Logan, are attached as Resident Staff Officers.

Theoretical Phase of Training — Series of Lectures and various social functions. A group of Officer Cadets and their ladies at the Annual COTC Ball.

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO DEBATING UNION

Second Row: REID SCOTT, JOHN G. HADWEN, MARGUERITE DELANEY, HARRY BORDANARO, BILL DIMMA.

First Row: JOAN MACDONALD, CAROL TROW, JOAN THOMAS, MARIE BOND, SUSAN DECKER.

The University of Toronto Debating Union was formed to strengthen the interest in debating on the campus. Sponsored by the S.A.C. it had as its chairman, Joan Thomas, S.A.C. Debates Commissioner.

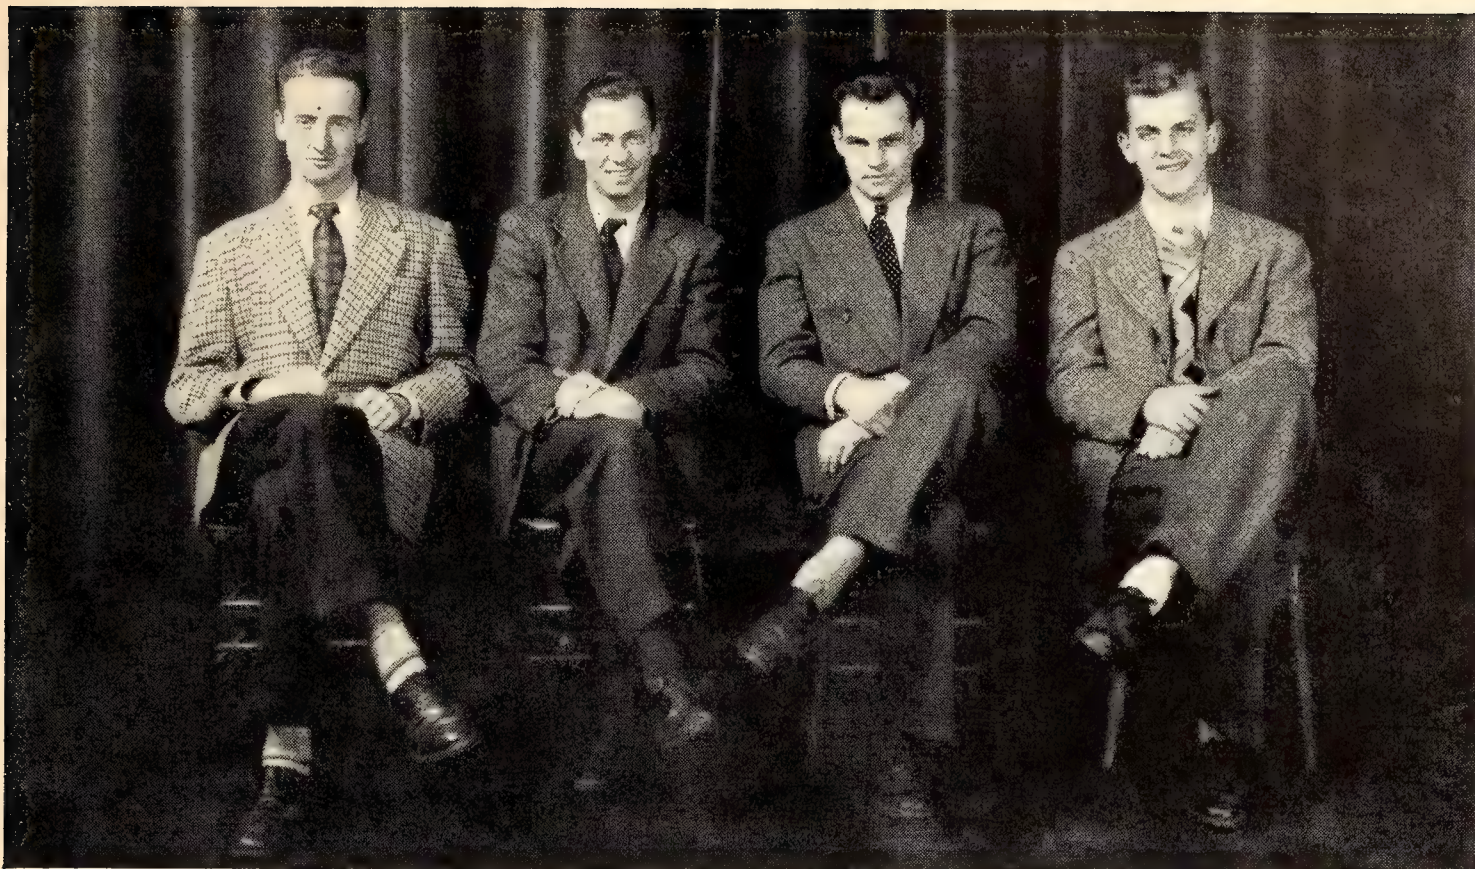

The year's activities were opened with a debate on the nationalization of basic industries, when the U.T.D.U. played host to a debating team from Oxford University. This debate afforded students a chance to see Parliamentary Debating at its best.

Queen's and Varsity exchanged teams for simultaneous debates at both Universities on the topic "Resolved that Canada cannot endure as a nation half English, half French". A "home and home" debate was held with McGill on the resolution, "Resolved that socialism leads inevitably to totalitarianism", and the closing debate of the year was with an Osgoode Hall team. The topic was "Resolved that a Federal world government be established now". This debate was sponsored by the United Nations Association of Toronto.

The Mock Parliament which began as an experiment last year, became an interesting and important campus activity this year. Under the guidance of the U.T.D.U., four parliaments were held, giving each of the main University Political Organizations a chance to act as government. Bills and amendments were submitted and discussed by members of all Political Clubs, as well as by interested "independent" speakers from the floor. The Parliaments afford excellent training in Parliamentary Debating, and bring important political issues to the fore.

With opportunities open for political and non-political debates, the U.T.D.U. confidently looks forward to an even better year of debating next year.

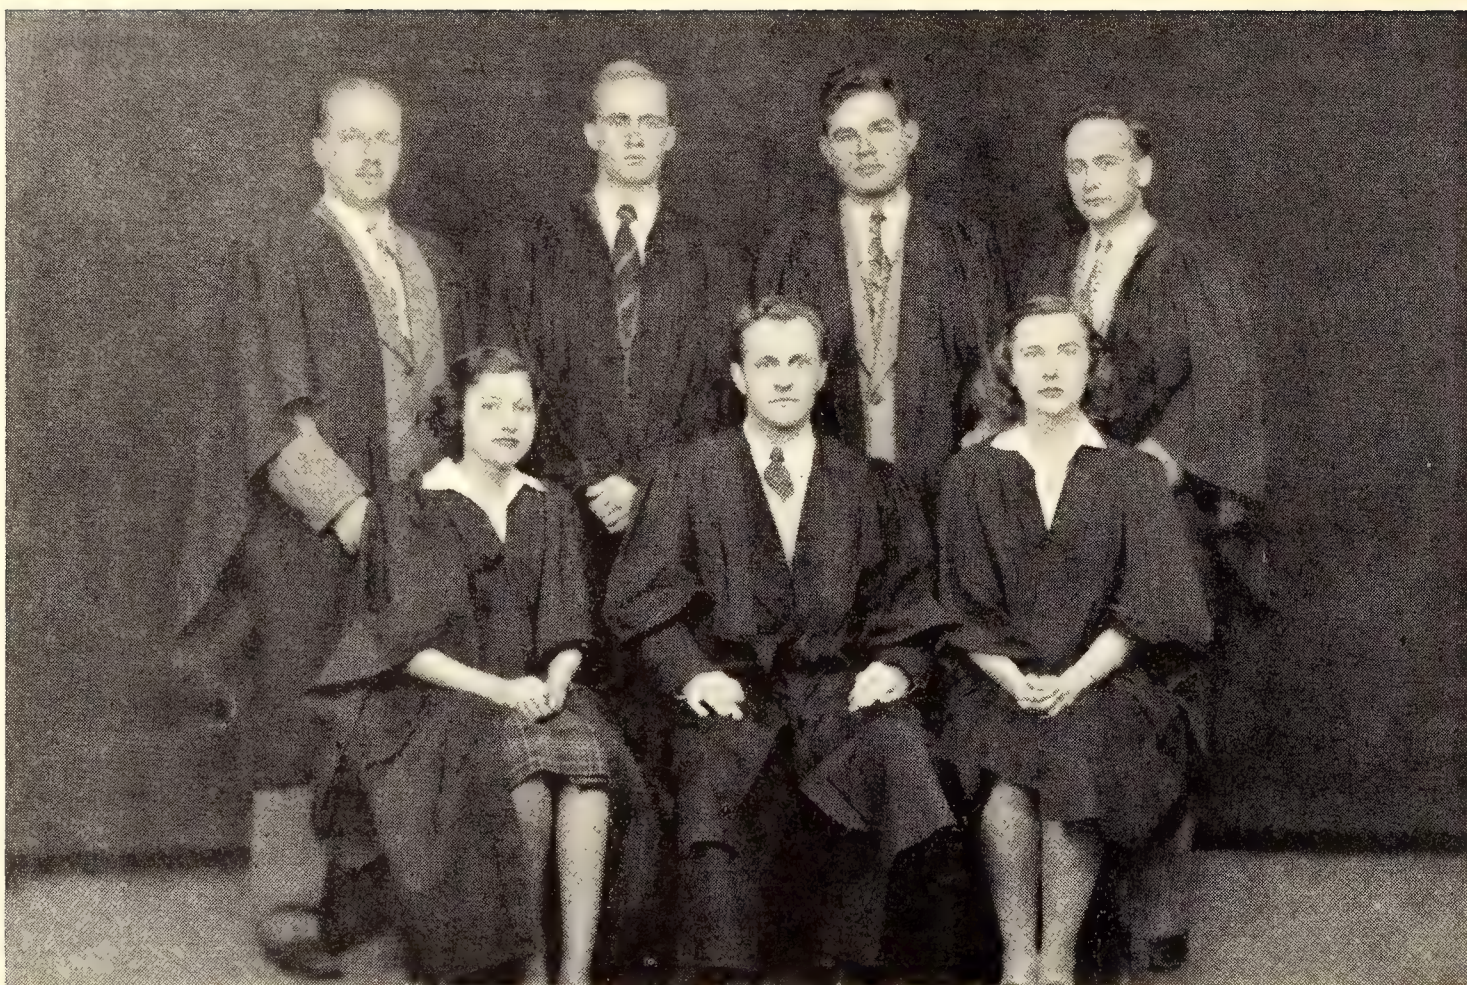

DEBATES CLUB EXECUTIVE

W. A. DIMMA, J. STANBOROUGH, JOHN MILLS, R. LOVE.

The S.P.S. Debates Club has attempted this year to renew interest in public speaking and debating among engineers. In this aim, it has fostered two inter-faculty debates, an Intercollegiate debate, and a play-down inter-year debate for a trophy donated some years ago for presentation to the best debating team in School. In November, two Schoolmen participated in a debate against two Victoria girls, which proved extremely hilarious. On December 5, a debate was held with McGill at both Toronto and Montreal on the subject of professional unions. All labs and lectures in Engineering were cancelled for this event, and a fairly large crowd attended. Jack MacKenzie and Hal Humphrey of fourth year debated for Toronto here, while John Wilkie and Ken McNaught journeyed to Montreal for the debate there.

Toronto broke even, winning in Toronto and losing in Montreal. In early February, Skule crossed words with the U.C. Parliament on the subject—Arts prepared a man better for life than Engineering. Jack MacKenzie and John Mills teamed up to prove beyond a doubt (to some) that Engineering is a far superior course for any sane human being. At the time of writing, the play-down debate has not been run off, but it looks very much like it will aid considerably in promoting further debating interest. Small trophies will be awarded to each of the members of the winning team.

The executive of the Club, Jack Stanborough, John Mills and Bob Love have all helped to put the Club back on a sound basis, and it is hoped this growth and renewed interest will continue into '48-49.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE PARLIAMENT COMMITTEE

Second Row: M. M. GOLDBERG, Leader of the Opposition; P. J. A. DANIEL, Third Year President; M. D. BRADY, Deputy Speaker; D. R. TOLMIE, Prime Minister.

Within the paneled walls of the Junior Common Room students assembled fortnightly, to speak their pieces on the topics of the day.

The first session of the University College Parliamentary Club was opened by the speech from the throne delivered by the Governor-General, Dr. Taylor. He outlined in moving and memorable words the opportunities for enlightenment and development which the Parliament afforded, and the types of subject which merited the concern of every embryo scholar and every citizen. Then followed the debate on the issue which disturbed the University at the beginning of the term—the responsibility of the Athletic Directorate to the student body. The controversy which had attended the levy of an admission charge to home football games had marked it as an apparent natural for contention among the parliamentarians.

As the year progressed, resolutions ran the gamut in content. After very lively dispute in special sessions an amended constitution was adopted which was designed to improve parliamentary procedure in conformity with enlarged enrollment and changed circumstances at the University. Budding politicians had their day in the debate on American economic aid to Europe. The fair sex was featured as the centre of interest in a blithe resolution which proclaimed that the sole function of the co-ed was to brighten the life of the college male. The girls were given the benefit of the doubt as to their intellectual pursuits by the defeat of this motion. From St. Michael's College a team inspired by a mass of supporters came to conquer on the issue of material values as compared to ethical values. The attendance on this occasion bulged the walls of the parliament.

The Parliament Committee had striven hard to select suitable resolutions and many significant subjects were analyzed.

Although tempers sometimes were frayed, the give and take on the floor was conducted without a great deal of rancor. This was one valuable training for the larger experiences of life.

It seems likely that the year will conclude with the usual honorary titles bestowed upon egregious parliamentarians, to the delight of the onlookers. Last year's Order of the Big Stick conferred upon Mr. Speaker indicates what is to come.

In later years, real honors may repose on those who distinguished themselves and impressed their fellow-students in these assemblies.

The Victoria College Debating Parliament which is affiliated with the V.C.U. and the University Debating Union organizes about six undergraduate debates a year.

The Fall term this year proved beyond reproach that "War Between the United States and Russia can be Prevented", "There is a place on the Campus for Idealists", and, "We All Hate (or should hate) Toronto".

The highlights of the year come with the Faculty debates at which the professors "opened their mouths and removed all doubt"—as to what should be thought of them.

The first debate after Christmas saw the Vic Parliament as host to the Osgoode Debates Society. The Government's motion, "That Only the Marshall Plan Can Save Europe for Democracy" went down before the argument of the "legal eagles". "Specialization at University is Inevitable and Necessary" was another question debated in the Spring term.

Members of the Debating Parliament Executive also took part in Inter-faculty and Inter-collegiate debates as well as Mock Parliaments organized by the University Debating Union.

TRINITY COLLEGE LITERARY INSTITUTE

Second Row: T. R. H. BOX, Representative to the Board of Stewards; M. A. MacKENZIE, Debates Secretary; T. H. SYMONS, First Year Representative; D. C. CORBETT, Deputy Speaker; E. SAUNDERS, Assistant Treasurer; D. M. HUTCHEON, Treasurer; A. E. MILLWARD, Curator.

First Row: G. A. H. PEARSON, Vice-President; J. G. HADWEN, Speaker; J. ORDONEZ, Keeper of the Mace; W. M. KILBOURN, President; J. P. BOYS, Leader of the Opposition.

Absent: J. B. LAWSON, Secretary; W. L. B. HEATH, Clerk of the House.

The first debate of the year, "Resolved that the United Nations has been a failure" gave the Lit. critical views on the United Nations by Professor Underhill and Professor Wilkinson of the Department of History and by Mr. G. Pearson and Mr. P. Boys respectively, of Trinity. The final victory rested with the opposition.

At a subsequent debate the freshmen of Trinity proved that the future of the Lit. rests in able hands.

The motion "Resolved that labour unions have the right to act extra-legally when they consider labour laws unjust" was ably debated by Mr. Gilbert Jackson and Mr. Cleve Kidd. They were supported by two men of the college, Mr. M. Macklem and Mr. J. Graham. Carried by the affirmative, this debate was attended by Canada's leading authority in the field of Labour Law, Professor J. Finkelman of the University of Toronto School of Law whose presence placed it among the year's best debates.

The first term ended with the resignation of the Government Council under the capable leadership of Mr. W. M. Kilbourn. The new government, elected by the retiring Council, was placed in the surprised hands of Mr. J. T. Skells.

The climax of the winter term came on January twenty-fourth with a Lit. dinner in honour of Mr. Lester B. Pearson, Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs. Mr. Pearson, who was Chairman of the United Nations Assembly, addressed a capacity audience with a very enlightening talk on the Palestine situation.

This term also saw an attack upon one of Trinity's oldest traditions when the motion "Resolved that Episcopon should be abolished" was debated. Letters from former graduates discussing the merits and objections to the retention of the institution poured in from all parts of Canada. The motion was carried after many rhetorical masterpieces had been heard by a filled house. Repercussions from the result were felt around the college for several weeks. The motion was supported by Mr. A. Wallace and the President, Mr. J. T. Skells. It was opposed by Mr. D. H. Scott and Mr. C. Tate.

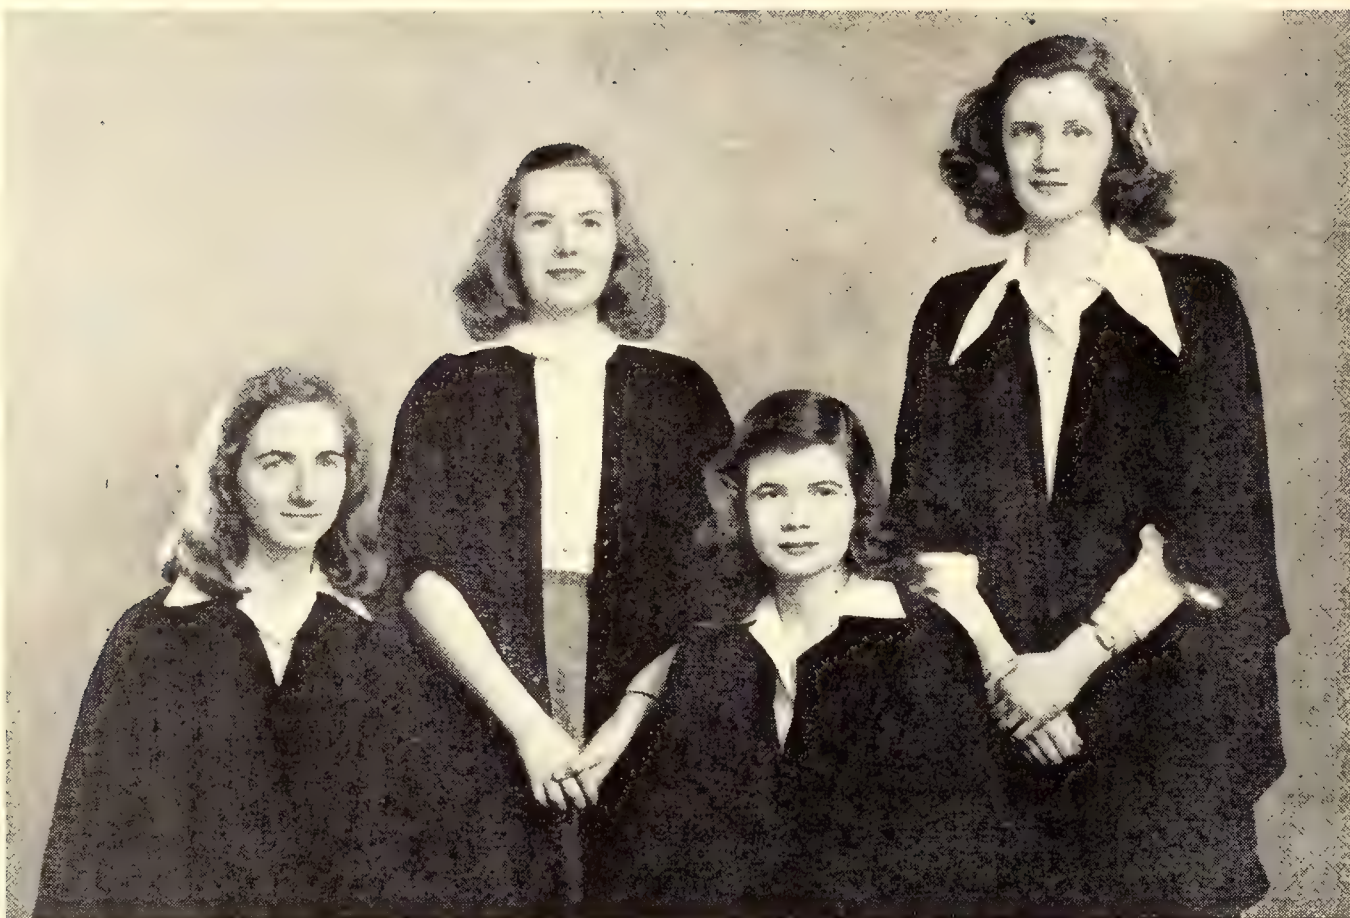

A joint debate with the University College Literary Society upon the motion "Resolved that only a denominational college can fulfil the aims of a liberal education" proved highly interesting and resulted in the motion being carried. The final debate of the year was held with the St. Hilda's Literary Society on the motion "Resolved that women should be given equal opportunities with men in business and the professions". Women now have equal opportunities with men in the stated fields as far as Trinity is concerned.

The Lit's annual formal dance, the Conversat, rose to new and greater heights as a result of the intermission show "What, No Crumpets!" which was produced and directed by two men of the college, Mr. K. MacMillan and Mr. R. Bryden. This play, presented several times on the radio and on the stage received great praise from all who heard or saw it.

The Constitution of the Lit. underwent a revision and emerged as a document which provides for the needs of a growing and serious student body. Pendants were awarded to Mr. D. C. Corbett, Mr. W. R. Donkin, Mr. J. G. Hadwen, and Mr. J. T. Skells for their outstanding contributions to the administrative and literary functions of the Lit. during their undergraduate years.

The record of this year's activities of the Trinity College Literary Institute is one which appears to bear out the saying that things improve with age. New records have been made which will serve to illuminate the pages of the long history of the Institute. The Lit. activities this year ended on an even higher plane than that upon which they started and although some debates were not well attended, the student debating standard continued to improve throughout the year. Thus the constitutional object of the Institute, "the encouragement of public speaking" has been achieved.

Newman Club, the answer to the stress of our time, has prepared an extensive spiritual, intellectual and social program in effort to make every Newmanite a good Christian, and a wise and capable leader in society.

The French Club affects a better understanding and appreciation of our great French-speaking brother Canadians. The Discussion Group, by having leading citizens talk on present-day questions familiarizes students with the various aspects of modern Canadian politics which are later discussed in the light of Catholic principles.

The Poet's Corner promotes an appreciation of Canadian culture and art as well as providing an opportunity to meet on mutual ground its non-Catholic contemporaries.

The Debating Club, the Legion of Mary, the Music Appreciation Group, and the Drama Class are clubs within Newman Club. Through these no phase of life is ignored or left unpolished by the Newman spirit—a spirit which extends even to occupied Germany where Catholic German students in the British Zone are being temporarily and spiritually aided by all Newmanites.

Toronto's Newman Club boasts the pleasure of having as its President, John McDonough who also holds the Presidentship of the whole Canadian Federation of Newman Clubs. It is indeed an honour for Newmanites as well as for the University of Toronto.

The Varsity Christian Fellowship is a chapter of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, which originated in the Universities of Great Britain in 1877. The organization now embraces groups of Christian students throughout the world. Closely affiliated with the I.V.C.F. in Canada is the Inter-School Christian Fellowship, with branches in many secondary schools.

The Fellowship is founded on the firm conviction that God has revealed Himself in the life, death, and resurrection of His Son, Jesus Christ. It emphasizes the necessity of personal faith in Him, through which there is forgiveness of sin and a new and joyful life-purpose in the will of God. The aim of the Fellowship is to make this faith significant in a practical way, and to bear witness to the reality and power of the Saviour in every relationship of life.

VICTORIA COLLEGE—VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

First Row: J. GRAHAM, I. TAYLOR, I. PRICE, G. BROWNING.

Reliance upon God in prayer is the dynamic factor behind all of the Fellowship activities of the campus. Bible Studies, Mission Meetings and Forums presented opportunities for the study of the Christian Faith. The theme of the Fall Week-end Conference held at Uxbridge was "The Person of the Lord Jesus Christ".

Two Sunday Morning Services were held in Convocation Hall. Dr. F. Kiss, Professor of Anatomy, U. of Budapest, spoke at the first of these in November. At the second one in February Rev. G. Gregson spoke on the subject "Can I Know God?"

Sunday Evening Firesides provided informal times of fellowship. Social events included a Reunion Hike at the first of the term and a skating-party in February.

Contributions were given by the students for relief and student mission work in Europe. A week-end Missionary Conferette in February brought the challenge of missions before the students with the theme "Therefore Go".

Hillel is the B'nai B'rith Student Organization in American and Canadian colleges. Its purpose is to create an increased awareness and appreciation among university students of Jewish traditions and culture, to train the Jewish leaders of the future, and to build inter-faith good will. Its program includes religious, social, cultural, welfare and inter-faith activities.

The cultural undertakings are basic to the Foundation's aspirations. This year has seen classes in Jewish Literature, Elementary Hebrew, Yiddish and a Chug Irvi. A dramatic group, Onegai Shabbat, and Musicales helped foster an appreciation of the more joyous aspects of Jewish tradition. Discussion groups, such as the "Student Seminar in Jewish History", emphasize the individual participation of each student.

At large mass gatherings of Hillel members, Jewish thought and art was presented and interpreted by prominent authorities and artists. Ludwig Lewisohn, Dr. Horace Kallen, and Chajes and Kozenn visited Toronto Hillel for this purpose.

In religious work the opportunity for evolving a distinctive and beautiful service through the work of students was hampered by the lack of a Hillel home. The religious facilities offered by Toronto synagogues were gratefully accepted, and various congregations extended invitations to the Foundation to worship in their midst.

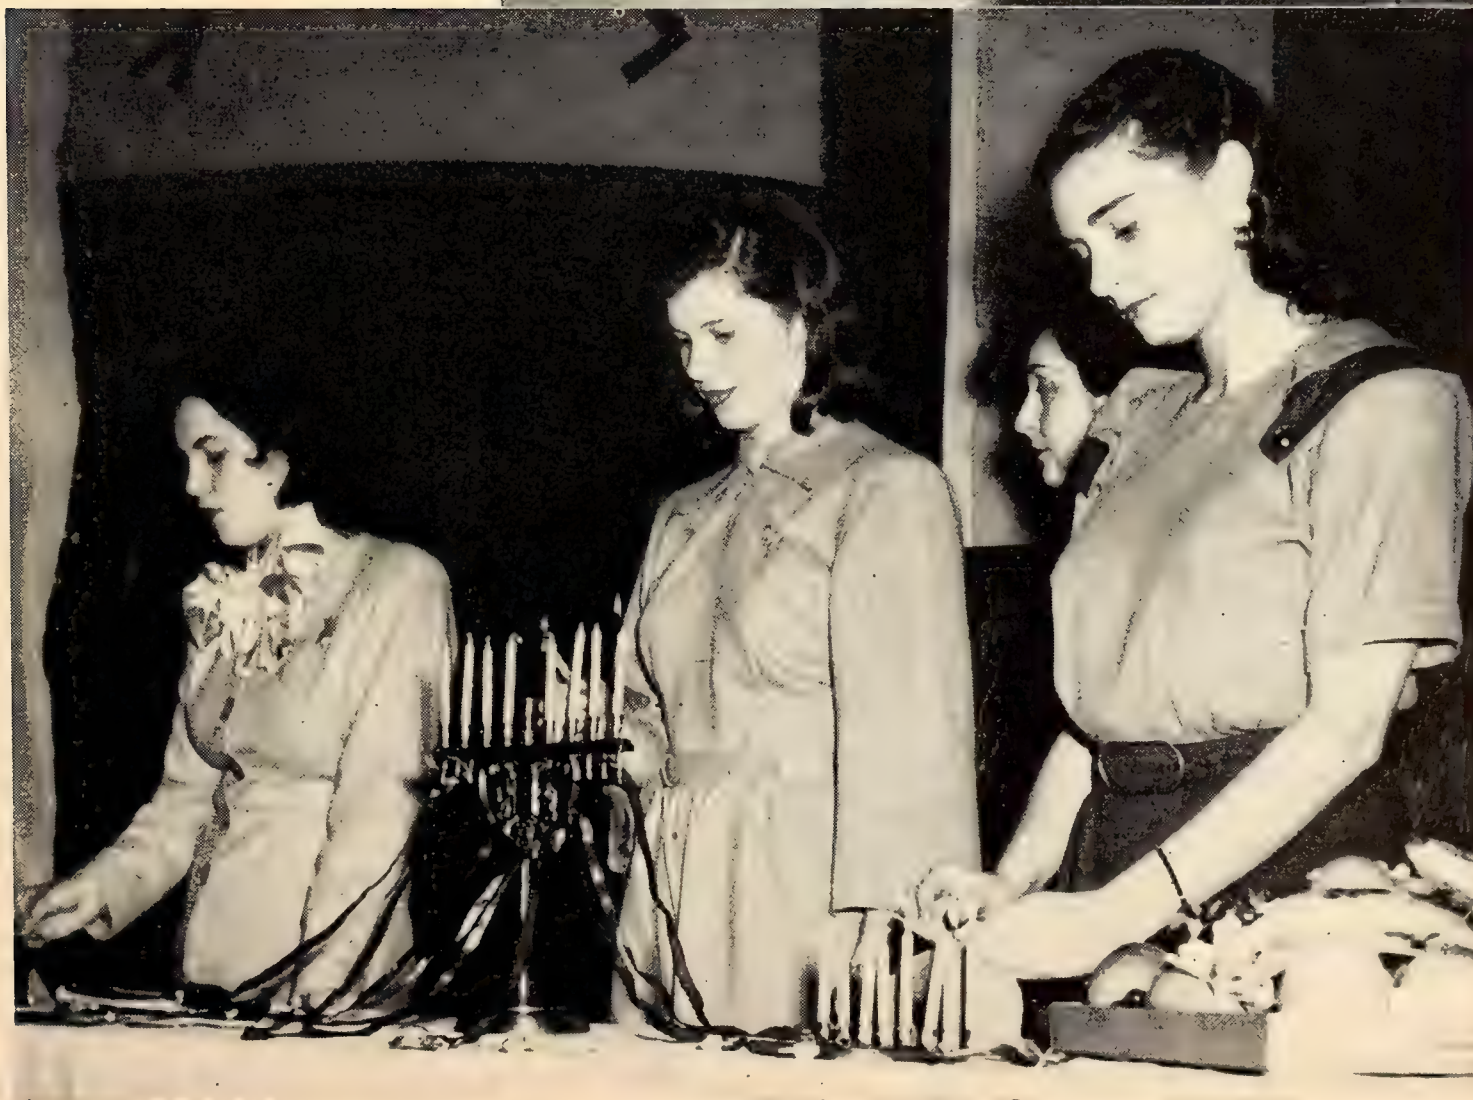

Social functions were not neglected. Beginning with the opening meeting and culminating in the Annual Chanukah Dance, they offered to members a splendid opportunity for entertainment and good fellowship.

One of the guiding principles in the Hillel technique is the stimulation of organizational democracy. Thus the students elect their own executive which implements the Hillel program and supervises with the assistance of committees all functions of the year.

In its stated aim, the Student Christian Movement is "a fellowship of students whose purpose is to seek truth, to understand Christianity in the light of present day needs and to discover what loyalty to God implies in the modern world". The S.C.M. on this campus endeavours to realize this aim through a three-fold programme.

The first aspect of this programme is study. In the year 1947-48, there have been twelve active study groups organized on a central basis by the University S. C. M. Subjects of the study groups are varied, including a study of the Records of the Life of Jesus, Old Testament, Christian Doctrine, Men and Women Relations, Christians examine Canadian Politics. These groups enable students through guidance and discussion, to obtain a clearer relation between the faith and real situations in the world today. Weekend camps and Sunday evening firesides complete the study programme with further opportunity to meet for informal discussion and fellowship. Fireside topics have included—China Today, What Do I Believe About the Bible?, Labor-Management Relations.

The second aspect of the programme is action. Under the guidance of the relief committee, one thousand pounds of used clothing for Europe was collected in October. As an agency for C.A.R.E. on the campus, the S.C.M. has promoted the sending of food to France, especially to French Pastors and their families. The labor-management committee has undertaken a study of both labor and management problems following the direction of National Council, 1947. The Movement believes that only by relating our faith to all aspects of our lives, including social and political questions, can we claim to be fully Christian.

Necessary as a starting point for all the Movement's work, is prayer and worship. Regular services of worship are held each month. The Chapel Committee sponsors services twice daily in the Hart House Chapel. Early in the fall term, a retreat was held, the purpose being to bring ourselves and the Movement as a whole into closer communion with God.

Stemming from the University-wide organization are the various faculty S.C.M.'s which conduct a similar three-fold program. The Trinity group has held a successful study on Christian Criticism of the Communist Manifesto. Victoria S.C.M. has been active in reaching students by means of educational films weekly in the noon hour.

To understand the importance of the Student Christian Movement in the university, it is necessary to note the national and international links. The Movement has units in all Canadian universities which are co-ordinated by a National Council, meeting yearly and a National Executive, meeting monthly. In the international picture, the Canadian Movement sent 200 delegates to the North American Student Missionary Conference held at Kansas University at Christmas time. Christian students the world over are kept in continual contact through the World's Student Christian Federation.

Working in close conjunction with its counterpart on the Queen's Park Campus, the Ajax Engineering Society has had a full time-table for the past year.

Beginning the year's activities with the Freshman Reception, they set out to provide the best in every endeavour. They played host to General A. G. McNaughton at the annual School Dinner, helped make Skule Nite the best yet. They took the Engineer's Ball to their "Little Red Skule" and in so doing, arranged one of the finest School dances ever held.

The Clubs have enjoyed an active season, having sponsored many prominent men in their respective engineering fields, as speakers at their meetings, through the year.

This year deserved a gilt edged page in Skule's Annals.

This year the social and sport life of East House revolved around the combined activities of the three houses.

Inter-house sports got off to an early start and gathered momentum as the year passed. East House sports were under the able direction of Ed Kryzanowski.

A strong basketball, volleyball, ping-pong and hockey competition raged all year between the three houses. Participation was so full in most of the sports that no one took time out to keep the scores; as a result the three houses share the championship honours.

Bill Gagnon, an American student, and one of the twenty-one new members in the house this year, brought us honour by taking second prize in the Godfrey Award for play-writing. His play, Frail Vessel, was produced by the University College Players' Guild.

East House enjoyed "an epidemic" a few weeks before Christmas. This very popular disease is commonly called "Good Will Towards Men", and its symptoms are a general softening of the heart and a strong feeling of generosity. Consequently, East House gave up its traditional Christmas stag party and combined with North House and South House in staging a very successful party for a group of children in the city.

Another year has rolled around for North House and its inmates. Although beset with the problems of almost a one hundred per cent increase in population, North House has shown the way, as in the past, with a very successful school year. When fifty men are willing to smile for the birdie at 8.00 a.m., that's news.

The year got off to an uproarious start with the initiation of several O.T. freshies. A few weeks later the house joined forces with East and South Houses to entertain the gals of O.T. and P.T. in the Women's Union. Early in December the three houses again collaborated for a gay Christmas party in Hart House.

The highlight of the year's social activities was a Christmas party for 90 children from the Children's Aid Society. Many members of the three houses contributed their time and money to make it a very successful affair.

A sleighing party, several skating parties and a number of Saturday night dances rounded out the social activities for the year.

The Inter-House Athletic Shield is again decorating the common room. Although at the time of writing it is too soon to make any predictions for this year, hopes are high that the shield is home to stay.

The House spirit has been augmented by a wide variety of activities which included the Fall initiations, into which the freshmen entered sportingly if rather unwillingly, informal Saturday night dances, post-rugby game dances, four annual House dances, a Christmas Party, a House Banquet, and last, but not least, the monthly House Meetings.

Perhaps the most outstanding social event of the year was the "73 Coming-of-Age Party" held in October to celebrate the twenty-first birthday of this the original University College Men's Residence, founded through the efforts of Dean C. N. Cochrane. The Dance Committee provided the House with a function to be long and pleasantly remembered.

In the field of Athletics, "73" took a very active part during the year, having in its midst the College Athletic Director. Teams entered in basketball, volleyball and baseball successfully maintained the honour of the House.

No account of the past year's activities would be complete without a word of gratitude to the Dean, Dr. C. T. Bissell, whose guidance and advice have always been most helpful, and to the Tutor, Mr. D. B. Savan, whose Wednesday evening "bull-sessions" provided a bright spot in every week.

Holwood is more than a University College men's residence. It is in essence a unique species of fraternity. Here is found the belief that there are two classes of people—Holwood men and human beings. This is not isolationism, but rather a healthy nationalism, a pride in excelling in the quality and quantity of contribution to the University life. It is shown in the large proportion of Holwood men engaged in music, debating and reporting. It is seen in Holwood's exceptional collection of athletes.

This year has been the peak year in Holwood's three-year history. There are rumblings from the Dean's office of changes to come. There is talk of amalgamation with 73 St. George St. in a new residence designed along conventional lines. But the University "will much note and long remember" Holwood House.

The Joint House Committee, composed of twenty-five house chairmen, has not been faced with any major problem this year, such as confronted its predecessors. This could be considered a tribute to those sterling chairmen who have gone before, or it might be an indication that the present Committee has kept matters well under control.

The Executive Committee consisted of Messrs. R. T. Richardson, Chairman; E. M. Powell, Vice-Chairman; J. H. McQuiston, Secretary-Treasurer; R. L. Gray, Social Representative and J. Bell, Member. To this group was added Mr. E. F. K. Carson to represent the Joint House Committee on the newly formed Cafeteria Committee.

In its three sessions of existence, the Joint House Committee has found the solution to a great variety of residence problems, and shown beyond a doubt that students if wisely chosen, are able to handle domestic and disciplinary matters in a most satisfactory manner.

Undergrad policy for 1947-48 featured a clear-cut division between the literary magazine and the college yearbook. Two issues were devoted to creative writing and art, while the third surveyed U.C.'s extra-curricular activities for the year.

With "Taste, Scope and Clarity" as their avowed watchwords, the literary editors strove for popular appeal consistent with artistic excellence. The modest format dictated by rising prices was balanced, they hoped, by a new diversity in the contents.

Feeling that a literary magazine need not rely solely on a restricted group, the editors worked strenuously to introduce new names in all fields of creative writing. In addition, a critical and advisory board was established in conjunction with the Undergrad in order to fulfil the magazine's primary objective—that of student self-expression.

This year the editors of Acta Victoriana tried to avoid making the magazine either a purely literary journal or a mere gazette of college activities. Recognizing that there are in general these two fields of interest, the editors have tried to provide for both within the covers of each issue. Only thus, they feel, can a magazine have any organic unity as a college publication.

The magazine is published six times during the year, and this year has accented several features, such as reports from the V.C.U., longer critical articles and illustrations integrated with text. An essay contest, with prizes donated by the Board of Regents, was held during the year.

The year has, we should say, been a good one; not perhaps as good as we might have wished but the editors are not having too much difficulty these days (indeed, when have they ever had?) patting themselves on the back for their efforts in producing volume LX of the Review. We can offer quite a number of reasons to justify this attitude: our contributors have been regular and consistently good (the work of Messrs. Eayrs, Bryden and Millward put them into the top ranks of undergraduate literati); we have introduced a new crop of contributors to Trinity readers; we have, in our editorials, stimulated a healthy critical interest in some of our oldest traditions; we have tried to inject some life into the College Notes section and we have started the practice of devoting one entire issue to a survey of college activities; and finally, if we can judge by the number of comments (mostly critical of course) that we have received, and by the appearance of RIOT, it seems that our little magazine is being read by larger numbers of students and graduates than usual.

Obviously, we have had our troubles, and mistakes have been made. The Review has, unfortunately, a tendency to be a little disjointed and unbalanced in its material, and we do admit that we are open to charges of being too "highbrow" and "arty". It would have been a good thing to have had more humour, more critical essays and reviews, and more light verse than we had. Our publication, we well know, has by no means completely satisfied either the student body, the graduates or the Board of Management. Indeed, it has not even completely satisfied the editors but what magazine can? Founded for the purpose of printing the work of aspiring undergraduate writers, we are naturally at the mercy of our contributors, and the magazine's appeal is bound to be, to a certain extent, limited.

Despite these shortcomings, the six issues we have produced comprise a volume for which, in our opinion, Trinity need not apologize. At any rate, it has been a pleasure and a privilege to have edited this year's edition of the Review.

TOIKE OIKE STAFF

KEN McNAUGHT, JOHN WILKIE, FRANK SQUIRES.

Toike Oike, the newspaper of the undergraduate engineering student, this year attempted something new in the line of publications. Previous years have seen the same old paper, with the same old jokes, come out at the same infrequent intervals. This year we felt that there were some changes which needed to be made if the paper were to justify its existence.

The first of these was to revise the mast-head to read, "Published every two weeks by the Engineering Society, University of Toronto," instead of "every now and then." Our second change was to make it into a four page, tabloid sized newspaper, thereby presenting to the students a two-weekly resumé of School's activities.

Our aim was the desire to give to School's activities the publicity which their campus-wide success and popularity warranted. We also hoped to contribute in some small way towards more amicable relations between the Toronto campus and Ajax. We had some difficulty in closing the twenty-six mile gap between Toronto and Ajax, and where we failed, we regret it a great deal. However, we hope that next year, with the organization having been carried out in Toronto, we will be able to get all the Ajax news.

How long it will be necessary to continue publication in the manner which we followed this year is governed by many factors. It was obvious from the start of this year that The Varsity, operating on a fairly limited budget, and supplying low advertising rates, would be able to handle only the more startling of School events such as the Chariot Races. We felt that all School events are startling.

TRANSACTIONS AND YEAR BOOK STAFF

R. R. GALPIN, K. E. HUNTER, G. R. MUDDIMAN, M. G. RYAN, L. MAXMONKO.

Insert: H. BLAKELY.

Transactions and Year Book, published by the Engineering Society, contains within its pages a composite picture of an engineer's life at the university. From the serious intellectual efforts as set forth in the Transactions section to the frivolity of School Nite it is all there. With pictures and the printed word the School man's activities are here recorded for the edification of future engineers and as a reminder in years to come of the associations of college days.

This year, to match the largest attendance in history, Transactions has expanded in size and scope. The current edition — the sixty-second—is a large and lusty descendant of its progenitor of 1886.

Any publication exacts hard work from its editorial staff as well as the co-operation of many whose names do not appear in a by-line. To the latter especially we wish to extend our gratitude and appreciation.

This year marked the addition of Bob Masterson to the Varsity coaching staff. He came here after 18 years of active participation in American football and his valuable assistance to Coach Bob Coulter was certainly reflected in the showing of the team this year.

In a pre-season trip to Western Canada the successes of the Blue and White team gave their supporters great expectations for the season. In two games played at the University of Saskatchewan and one at the University of Alberta, Varsity bucked, passed, and kicked their way to three victories scoring 25 points to each point scored by the opposition.

The Intercollegiate schedule opened in the Bloor Bowl against the powerful Western team and here Varsity suffered their only defeat of the season. The next four games garnered Varsity four victories at the expense of McGill and Queens'. During these games, the team displayed flashes of the form which was apparently being reserved for the final game in London. This historic game with Western was the outstanding event of the season. A hard fought battle played on a snow covered field with Varsity carrying the majority of the play ended in a 12-12 tie. Although Western again won the Yates Cup this final exhibition proved the high caliber of the Varsity team.

BRUCE F. CUMMINGS, Applied Science II, winner of the Johnny Copp Memorial Trophy for 1947, awarded by his fellow players as the member of the Senior Football Team adjudged worthiest. Bruce played for Ajax Juniors in 1946-47 when they won their group in the O.R.F.U. Junior division.

This year Jim Follwell coached the intermediate team and was ably assisted by Ed Staley. Although the team did not obtain the championship this year the games were of a high standard.

A total of six games were played and at the end of the season the team was in the position of having won three and lost three contests. The opening game was a defeat at the hands of the Western team. Improving as the season progressed Varsity ended the season by wiping out this one point defeat and easily winning the last game from Western.

The two-game series with O.A.C. and McMaster were similar in that the Varsity team improved as the season progressed. The second game of the season was a defeat inflicted by O.A.C. The next contest witnessed another defeat by the same team but this time the score indicated a closer game. McMaster were twice the victims of Varsity with the second game being quite one-sided.

The team proved to be very capable during the year and as many of the players will be returning next year, U. of T. will have much fine material for both the Intermediate and Senior football teams of the 48-49 season.

Absent: D. CRITCHLEY, A. B. ANTONI.

In 1938 Jack Convey coached and played on the championship U. of T. soccer team. In 1947 Physics Professor Jack Convey coached the undefeated champion soccer team. This year they retained possession of the Blackwood Trophy for the tenth consecutive year.

This year Western University managed to spoil a winning season by drawing 3-3 in the opening game only to lose to Varsity at the season's end. Guelph O.A.C. lost twice while the Toronto team whitewashed McGill in two exhibition games. The senior team also defeated Buffalo State by a 6-0 score. The team this year was an assortment of colleges and countries. Players represented the colleges of S.P.S., Forestry, Trinity, Victoria and others. Besides the home-country players, countries represented were; Bermuda, Trinidad, Burma, Barbadoes, Newfoundland and England. These outsiders added much to the team but the Canadian players also made a fine showing.

Absent: C. J. SMALL, Captain.

Although it lacked the experience and international flavor of the Senior Soccer team, the Intermediates also placed a strong team in the field.

When reviewing the activity of the year from a strictly win-and-loss attitude it is found that the team won two games, played one to a scoreless tie and lost three. The lost games were quite close affairs, two of them being lost by only one goal which indicates that the team made a creditable showing.

What the team lacked in goalmouth finish and experience they made up for by a determined effort to win. Such spirit will be of great assistance for the players in the future. Many of the players on the team are still in their junior years and by obtaining experience at the intermediate level will develop into fine players in later years. As some of the senior members leave the university these intermediates will easily take their places.

During the war years Intercollegiate competition for the English Rugger Championship was abandoned. In 1946, a strong team from McGill University took possession of the title. Previous to this the Blue and White had retained the title for seven consecutive years.

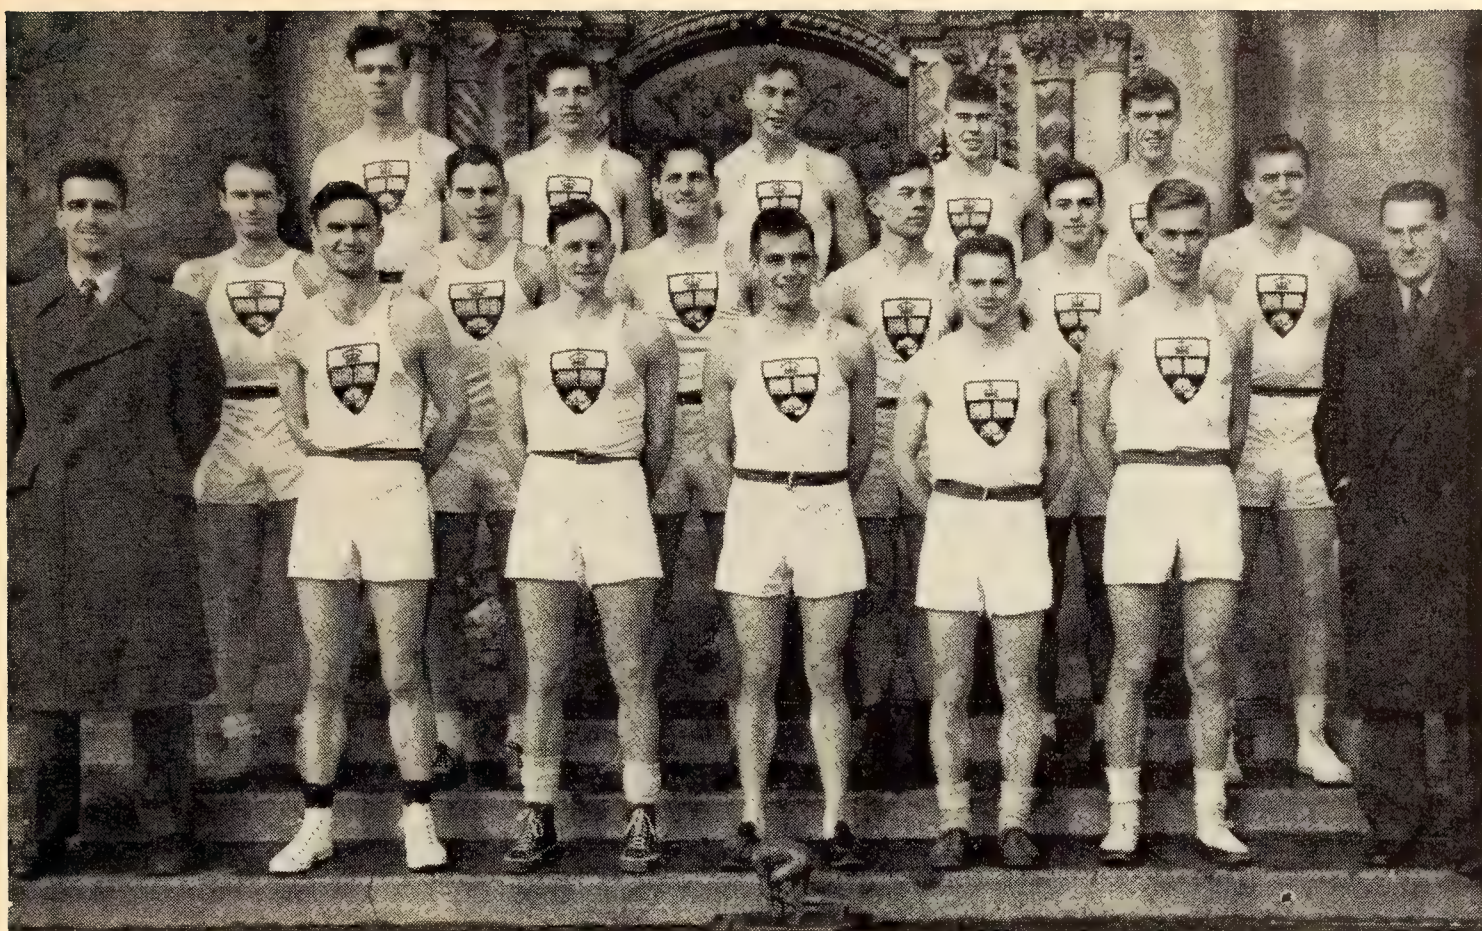

This year it was a well organized and determined Varsity squad which regained the Intercollegiate Rugger championship lost last year to McGill. Many from last year were again with the team and these were bolstered by men from Ireland, Australia, South Africa and other parts of Canada. It should be mentioned that much credit must be given Mr. Bruce Lang, whose coaching skill and past experiences in the game were of a great advantage.

Unfortunately because the game is foreign to this part of Canada student support is to be found lacking. However, this year with Ajax having a team and providing exhibition games more interest was stimulated. There is every reason to believe that such will be the case for the next few years and therefore the game should gain in popularity.

The prospects for the team of 1948 seem very good as only three of this year's team will be absent.

October the twenty-second saw a not too confident University of Toronto team win six firsts of fifteen events at the McGill stadium in Montreal. The team was moderately strong throughout with perhaps an edge on the other teams in the distance events.

Murray Gayman won the pole vault with a leap of twelve feet, while Bill Farlinger showed great promise and finished second in this event. Jack Goering repeated his 1946 win in the javelin throw of a distance of over one hundred and sixty-five feet. Sam Neil picked up a point in the hundred yard dash and a point in the 220 yards and looks like an up-and-comer. In the high jump John Doll and Al Purdy placed first and third respectively. Three points for placing second in the shotput went to John Shore while Ewart Bagg repeated this in the running broad jump. John Rhame placed first in the high hurdles and second in the low hurdles to assure a Toronto victory. George Speers, another newcomer, showing a great deal of strength finished second in the half and the mile runs. Dave Preston and George Doull were unpressed in the three mile event and finished in that order to repeat their previous year's performance. Doull also placed first in a four minute, thirty-eight-second mile.

Final team standing showed Toronto the winner with 62 points; McGill second with 58; Western third with 42; and Queen's fourth with 3 points.

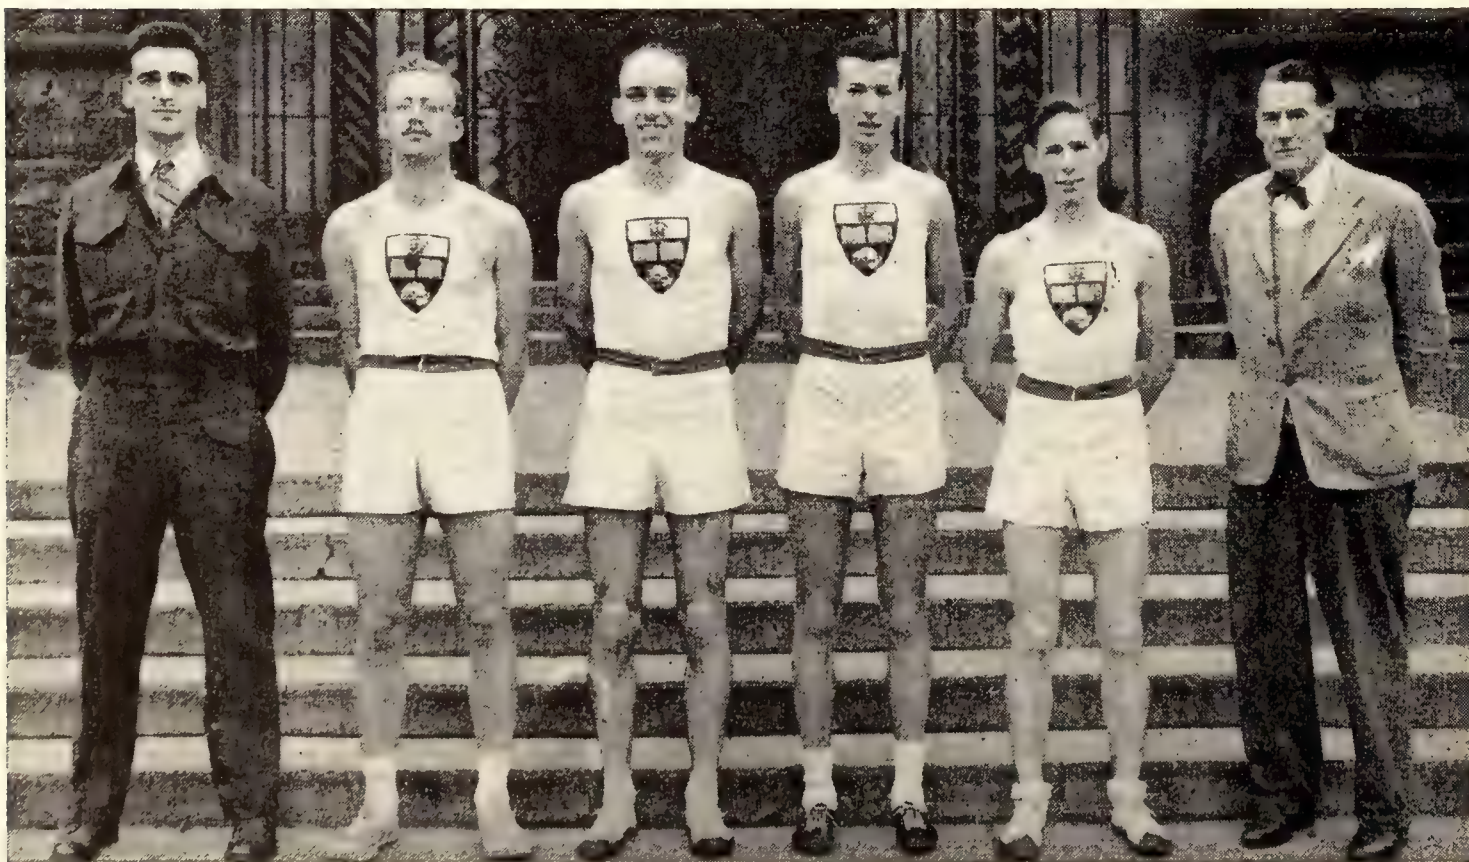

The intermediate team are to be congratulated for their decisive victory over strong teams from Ontario Agricultural and Veterinarians College, McMaster University and the hosts for the meet, University of Western Ontario. A fine clear October twenty-third saw the well-coached Toronto boys take an early lead and maintain it to come out on top with seventy points. O.A.C. placed second with fifty-four points, McMaster was third and Western trailed.

Five firsts and a tie for first in the 220 hurdles garnered 29 points for Toronto. These were supplemented by eight seconds (24 points), six thirds (12 points) and three fourths (3 points). The club placed at least once in every event to indicate a well-balanced team. The win gives impetus to the ambitions of these boys to move up to the senior club next year.

A perfect score was rung up by the Senior Harrier team over the hard five mile grind at High Park on the cold clear morning of November fifteenth. The team showed excellent conditioning and team work to have all five members cross the tape before any of the other teams had a man over.

Dave Preston, captain of the club, set a flying pace to complete the course in the fast time of twenty-seven minutes, forty-four seconds. George Doull, a mighty little man, remained in second place throughout the race and finished the same way. Next came Dunc Greene who showed a good understanding of cross-country technique. Fourth man to finish was Ted Gawinski who showed a real fighting spirit. Jim Wilson, although not including in the scoring, put in a fine burst to edge out a hard running Queen's representative.

Scoring: Toronto, 10 points; Queen's, 33 points; McGill, 43 points.

The 1947-48 season was an epic one for Toronto University both in Track and Field and Harrier for now four trophies emblematic of intercollegiate championships may be seen at Hart House. We are justly proud of this exceptional performance and have nought but praise for the man whose coaching ability and knowledge of the sport made this feat possible, Mr. Hector Phillips.

The five man Toronto club won a very hard fought race over a snow covered course of nearly seven miles at Guelph on November fifteenth. Although our club consisted mainly of novices they ran an excellent race under the guidance of Coach Hector Phillips. Cold winds, snow, and cross-country hazards over such a long course made running very difficult.

The Toronto captain, Dave Barr, pressed the winner most of the race and finished a good second. George McMullen, John Hawtin and Bob McNeil showed excellent team work by finishing fifth, sixth and seventh respectively. All three men ran strongly with McMullen pulling up from behind in good style. Dawn Wanless, the fifth Toronto man, finished the race in ninth place.

Scoring: Toronto, 20 points; O.A.C., O.V.C., 22 points; Western, 44 points; McMaster, 64 points.

SENIOR INTERCOLLEGIATE
GOLF CHAMPIONS 1947-48

E. O. BENTLEY, J. D. MOSSOP,
R. B. SPENCE, A. K. HARVIE.

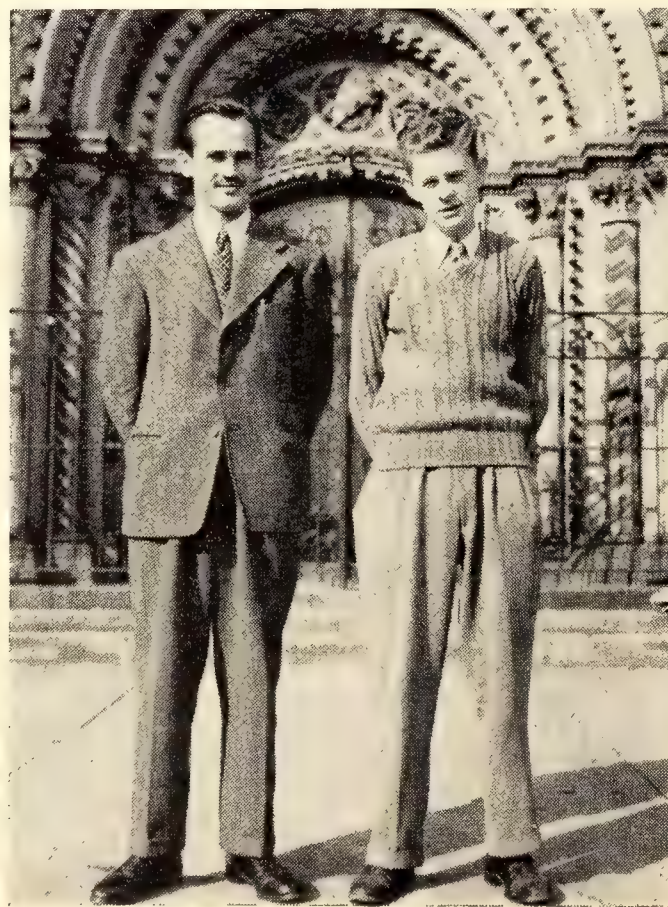

The University of Toronto Golf Teams had a very successful year, going through the entire season without defeat.

The Senior Intercollegiate tournament, played at the course in Kingston, saw the Toronto team emerge as champions with a wide margin over their nearest rivals. The individual scoring honours also went to Toronto with Doug Mossop receiving them.

The Intermediate team were equally as successful in their tournament held at the Rosedale club in Toronto. The individual honours here went to Bill Givens.

A six man team representing Toronto played three exhibition matches with two American Colleges. Buffalo visited Toronto while trips were made to Buffalo and to the University of Niagara Falls. The Toronto team won all of these tournaments by wide margins.

There will be a few changes in the teams next year due to graduations but with the nucleus that remains, good teams will be competing next year. A number of enthusiasts not on the teams this year showed much promise and will doubtless qualify next year.

This year the Senior Tennis team although making a valiant attempt, were unable to take the championship from the McGill powerhouse.

Art Anderson lost in the final in the singles event but teamed up with Bruce Hall to take the doubles crown.

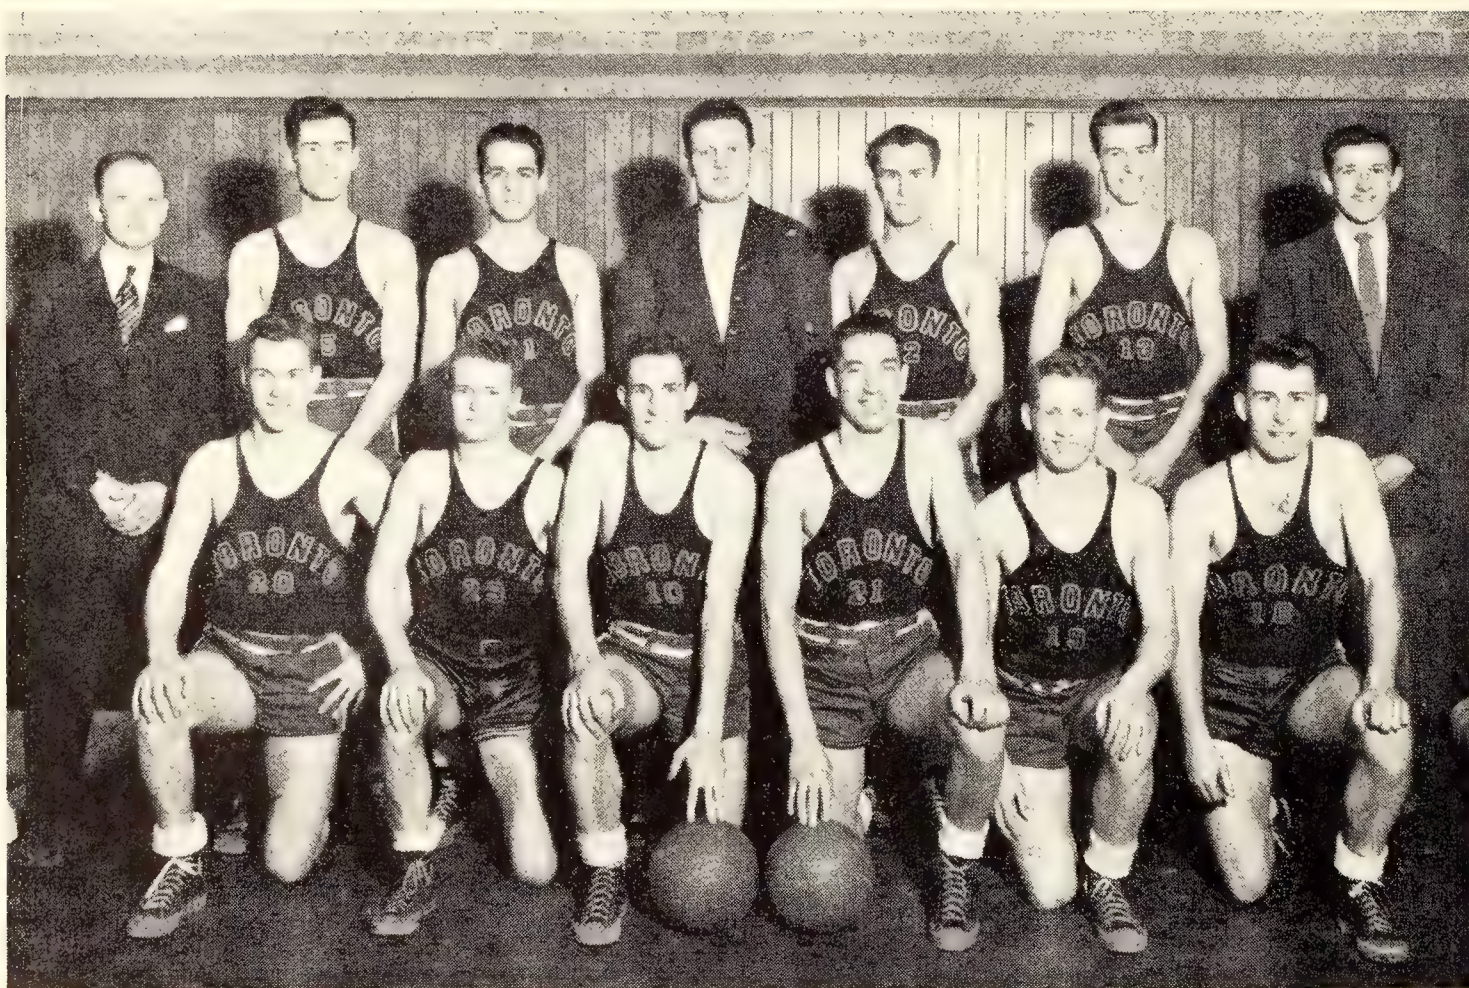

Although the team was unable to beat McGill they did give the best competition to the champions as shown by the final team standing; McGill 20 points, Toronto 14 points, University of Montreal 5 points and Queen's 3 points.

Considering the opposition, the team did very well this year.

The Intermediate players once again succeeded in retaining the Intercollegiate Tennis Championship. This year the competition was very keen and Toronto won a close decision from Western, McMaster and O.A.C.

Rick Punnett and Jim Doran were also successful in returning the doubles championship to Varsity.

The tournament held at London was very pleasant and featured hospitality and good sportsmanship on the part of all competitors.

The 1947-48 season provided the ultimate achievement in basketball supremacy in view of the 50-48 victory gained over the University of Western Ontario, in the last game of the schedule.

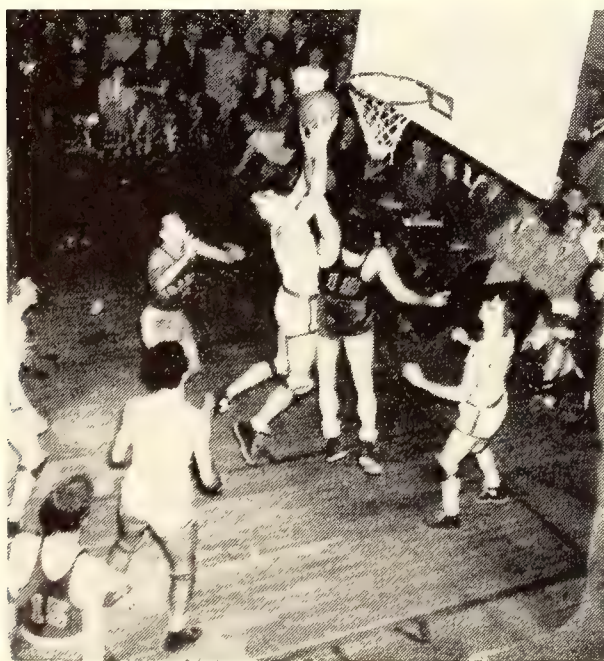

The overall picture of the full basketball season found the Blues victorious in 10 out of their 18 games. It was the privilege of this year's team to engage in the first intercontinental game played at this University. On January 28, a group of South American players, representing the University of Ecuador, invaded Hart House and after a hard fought game where defeated 40-38.

Two veteran Varsity players, Gordy Wallace and Jack Swan have concluded their intercollegiate competitions. Gord has been a fine defensive player while Jack is uncanny under either basket. The team was fortunate in having two experienced and capable guards this year in the persons of Bruce Tettmar and Wally Zeaton. These two players were co-captains of this year's squad.

The future of the basketball club appears very promising in view of the calibre of the freshmen on the team. Jack Gray and Glen Pettinger showed very well in their first year of senior ball. Another freshman, Johnny McManus, came to the University this year with a wealth of senior experience behind him.

With the close of the season the sentiments of those who were associated with basketball are that it was a successful year from the standpoint of team competition, fellowship and sportsmanship. It is our wish that the years to follow may prove as worth-while and satisfying.

CHAMPIONS 1947-48

Second Row: R. P. MASTERSON, Coach; E. H. LUCK, W. G. MUNRO, D. W. TYNDALL, J. B. BLACK, B. D. COULTER, W. G. CASS, Manager.

First Row: A. W. ANDERSON, W. V. STOCKMAN, N. P. VOLPE, Y. SHIMIZU; A. W. WARRICK, W. M. GOUGH.

This was undoubtedly one of the finest Intermediate Basketball squads to play for the University of Toronto in many years.

Their record of 12 wins and three losses is one that makes many teams envious. They exhibited a fast moving, hard running brand of basketball and their excellent condition paid off against many a top notch team.

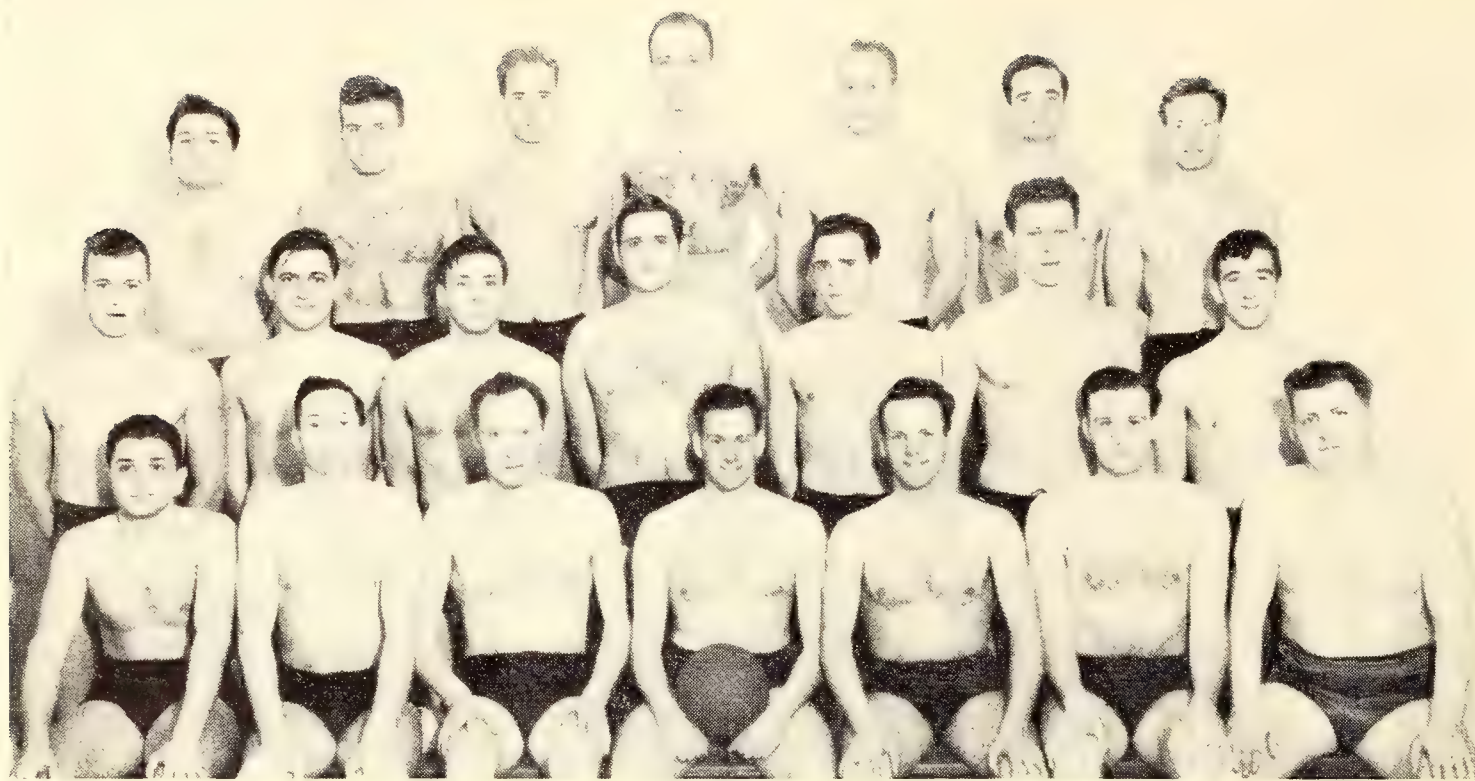

The opening game of the season was against Ajax, who lost 43-41. Then followed two smashing victories over West End Y and Y.M.H.A. Intermediates. The team lost to the Buffalo Junior Varsity team by one basket and to the St. Michael's College Western Course.

Buffalo visited and lost to the team which followed this up with a victory over the Ontario College of Education.

In first Intercollegiate game, the team beat the Ontario Agricultural College. In one of the most interesting games of the season they defeated P.H.E. I by two points. At Western, Toronto won 72-71 in three over-time periods. McMaster lost the next two games to U. of T., and after defeating O.A.C. a second time, the team lost the return game to Western by a score of 52-50 in one over-time period, making them co-champions with Western.

Sir George Williams College, from Montreal, representing the Eastern Division of the Intermediate series, played in Hart House, for the unofficial championship. U. of T. out-classed them by the score of 72-30, thus ending a very successful season.

The senior and intermediate intercollegiate swimming titles were retained at Toronto when the seniors travelled to Queen's and came home with a decided edge over McGill and Queen's, likewise did the intermediates in their trip to Hamilton. Features of the senior championships were Al Marshall in the 200 yard breast stroke. Warren Clayson in the 100 yard free style event won the Neil Buckley Trophy and the championship for that event. Seymour Wigle was the victor in the 100 yard back stroke to win the Sprenger Trophy. These three champions combined to take the 300 yard medley relay and in doing so set up a new intercollegiate record bettering the existing record by nearly five seconds. Fred Sansom, last year's Buckley Trophy winner, confined his effort to the distance events and came home in front in both the 220 yard and 440 yard free style events.

The biggest upset of the meet was provided by Ken Tulley, who defeated Athens of McGill in the 1 metre dividing competition.

The intermediate team was headed by Doug Wigle and Don Jones who broke existing records for the 100 yard back stroke and 220 yard free style events respectively. The medley relay also broke a record and was composed of D. Wigle, L. Rosen and J. Lowndes.

Water polo this year brought many honours to Toronto and saw the intercollegiate team headed by Captain Fred Sansom bring home its second intercollegiate title in fifteen years and its first post-war victory. In defeating McGill 8-2 and Queen's 12-2 the team showed itself to be by far the best team to come out of Varsity in many a year. Not alone satisfied with this honour the same team with a slight addition entered in open competition in the Ontario Water Polo league and wound up unbeaten or untied in the 12 game schedule with the Ontario championship. Still not satisfied they went on to the Canadian finals and brought home the championship when they defeated Central "Y" of Montreal in a two game series 21-4 to become the first university to ever win a Canadian title. This impressive record is one Varsity can be rightly proud of as all the water polo players were graduates of the intramural leagues and with two exceptions none had ever played in open competition previously.

In summing up the record set by the 1947-48 club it shows a complete victory in all intercollegiate competitions and a Canadian water polo title to top it off. This record will be a challenge to future teams and already the talk is to retain all those titles next year and keep Varsity as the top university team in Canada.

The University of Toronto Fencing teams captured both the Intermediate and the Senior Intercollegiate titles.

The Senior team lost exhibition bouts to Wayne University and Lawrence Tech., but defeated the University of Buffalo. In the Intercollegiate tournament, the McGill team was cleanly defeated.

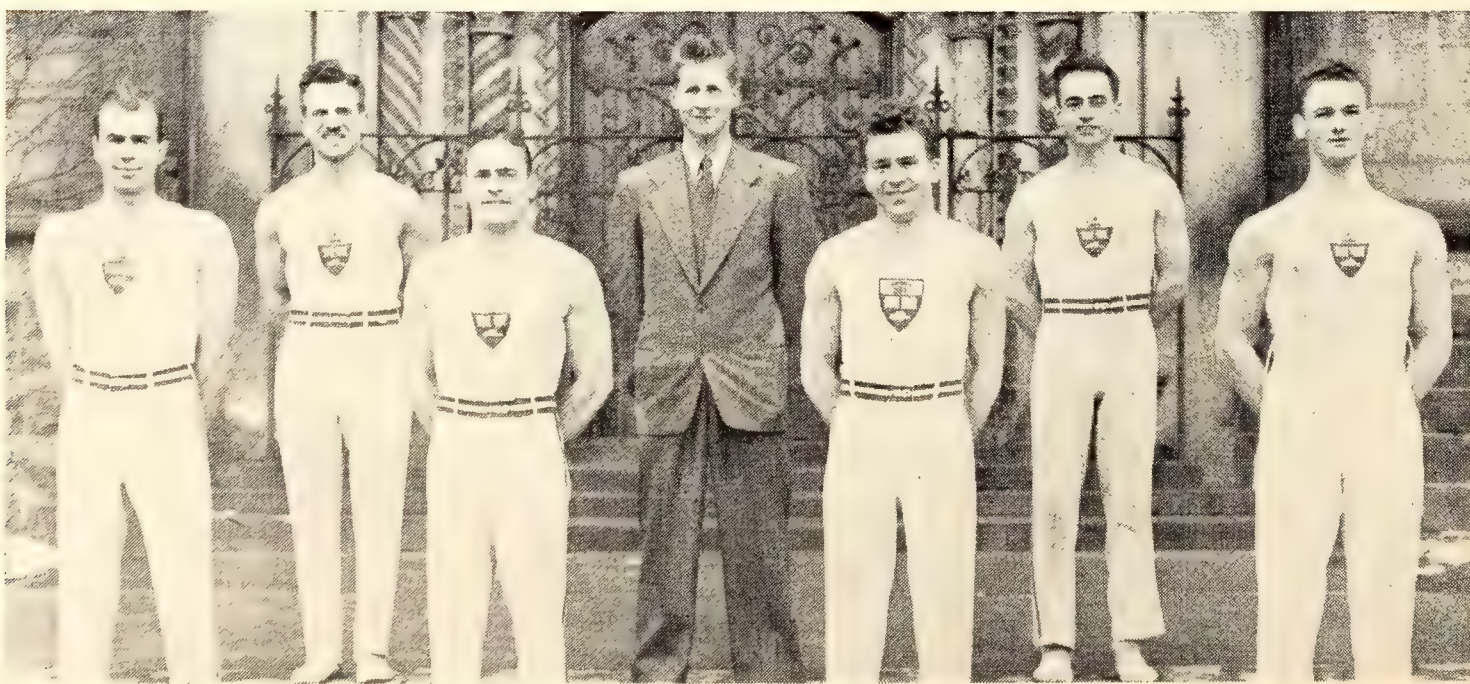

The Intermediate team was faced by O.A.C. and Western but came out on top.

Both teams were under the training of Fencing Master Charles Walters with Orm Reynolds as coach.

In November with MacKeith as Coach, the University Gymnastic team successfully competed in the Senior Dominion Gymnastic competition and won the Bunny Sabbath Trophy. Harold Bee won the Canadian individual championship.

Later the Intercollegiate meet was held and Varsity retained possession of the Caron Trophy with Bee taking the Werry Cup as individual winner.

Mr. Buck took over in January as coach, when Mr. MacKeith left the city.

The ski team started training in November putting in every weekend at Collingwood. This activity was for the big meet which took place in February.

Although bothered with injuries, the team did well and ended the meet in sixth place which retained their place in the I.S.U. Considering that the total entries in this meet totals thirty from Eastern U.S. and Canadian Universities, Toronto placed quite well.

In the downhill run the team finished fourth with Bill Beck running first. In the slalom, Bill Beele was Toronto's top man finishing in eleventh place. Al Collett captured third place in the jumping with his leaps.

The other members of the team also made a creditable showing and Toronto can be well satisfied with the results of the meet and hope that in the future even better standings will be obtained.

Absent: K. G. CROWHURST, D. D. LEONARD.

The Boxing Club had a busy training season, with large classes of novices turning out for instruction and coaching, indicative of the excellent work turned in by coach Tony Canzano and manager Jim Parkin.

Two Inter-club meets were held against O.A.C. and Y.M.C.A. All-Stars, both being won easily by the Varsity team.

The Intermediate Intercollegiate Championship was won by Varsity with champions being declared in four classes. Several promising men were evident in this competition, Roberto Couceiro, H. D. Wells and Rich Priestman.

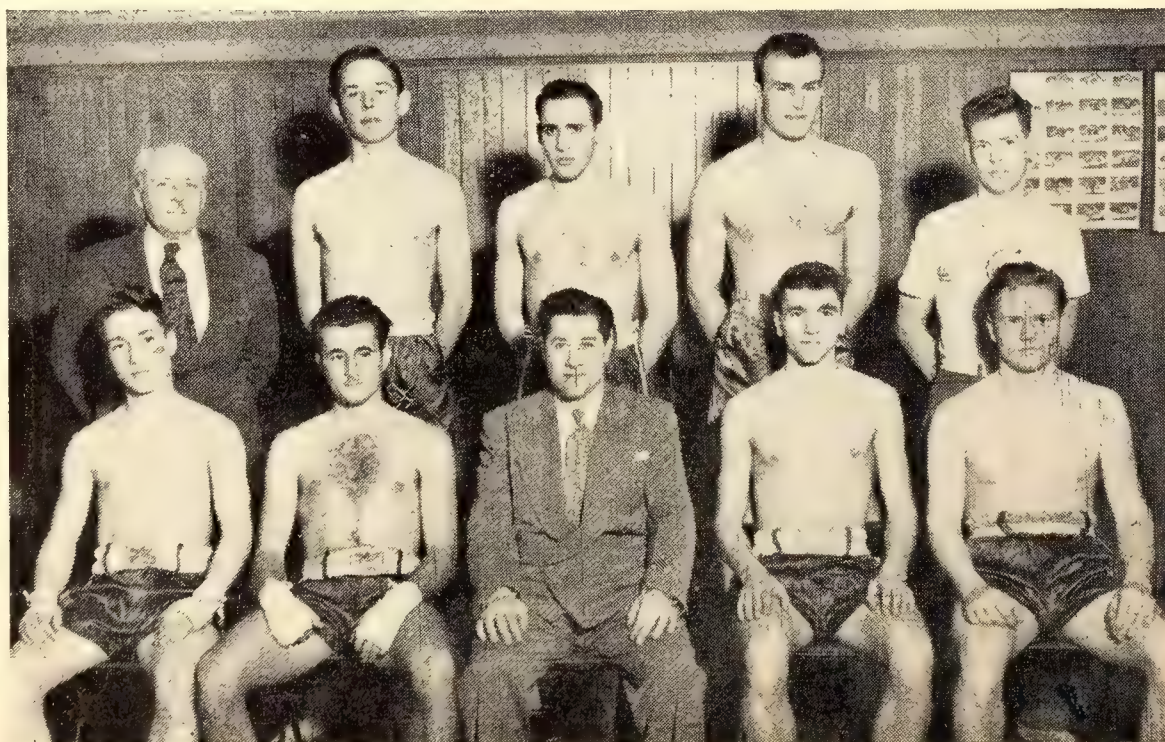

In the Senior Intercollegiate competition at Montreal, the Varsity team placed third to McGill and Queen's. Although not successful on a team basis, all members of the team put up a good show. Our only final winner, Hank Henshall, repeated again from last year, and was probably the classiest boxer of the meet. He was presented with the Massey Trophy, as the best boxer on the team. Other notables included Dave Geary, last year's champion, and Clem Scott.

The team members and Coach are to be congratulated for their hard working efforts during the season.

Under the excellent guidance and training of head coach Morris and assistant coach Bert Life, the Wrestling Club had one of its busiest and most successful seasons. Inter-Club meets were held with the Y.M.H.A., and Ontario Agricultural College, Varsity teams winning both meets handily.

A home and home, International Intercollegiate Series, against the University of Buffalo, although producing perhaps the best competition of the season, was not so successful for the Senior team, Varsity losing both contests by close margins. The Varsity team placed second to West End Y in an O.A.W.F. meet which included six teams.

To culminate the season, the Intermediate team won the Intermediate Intercollegiate Championship, held this year at Toronto, against teams from O.A.C. and Western.

The Senior team travelled to Montreal for the Senior Intercollegiate Championship and came home successful, after beating teams from McGill, Queen's and O.A.C.

This year the Seniors again won the championship and in so doing statistically proved to be the best team ever to represent the U. of T. The only losses in the twelve-game schedule were inflicted by McGill who were able to win two games by scores of 3-2. Toronto won the other two against McGill by wider margins and easily won four games from both Queen's and University of Montreal.

The final game with McGill, played in Toronto, proved to be the most thrilling game of the year. A win for McGill would still leave them with an opportunity to win the championship. Two determined squads therefore took to the ice. The end of regulation time showed the score to be tied at 2-2. In the overtime McGill displayed an undeniable burst of power to score the winning goal.

On March 15 in Boston Arena the Blues climaxed a great season when they blanked Dartmouth in a convincing manner 5-0 and brought back the Thompson Trophy to Toronto. This trophy is emblematic of the International Intercollegiate Hockey Championship.

There were no individual stars on this club except the coach, "Ace" Boiley, who moulded 15 great hockey players into a team which won't be forgotten for a long time.

This season another milestone of progress in hockey for the Blue and White was passed, when an entirely separate Intermediate team was organized.

Senior Coach "Ace" Bailey and Junior Coach Bill Wade selected the team that was to attempt to retain the Intercollegiate Championship won last year. Jack Life was appointed to assist Bill Wade with the coaching.

After a slow start the "Whites" rounded into shape and the pre-season schedule showed a victory over Toronto's Young Rangers, a Junior A entry and a loss to Marlboros of the same league.

The team opened the year with two exhibition games, winning one and losing the second by a close score. Successive victories over Western, O.A.C., and a double victory over the Clinton Hockey Club, of Clinton, N.Y., marked the "Whites" as the team to beat this year for the championship.

Riding on the "Wings of Victory" they swept the remaining games of the Intercollegiate schedule. Thus the University of Toronto retained the championship for the third successive year of post-war hockey.

U. OF T. JUNIOR "B" O.H.A. TEAM 1947-48

Second Row: R. COSGRAVE, Trainer; T. B. CHIPMAN, D. J. WRIGHT, H. A. HYDE, W. WADE, Coach; P. M. KAVANAGH, J. R. DICKSON, J. M. GRANT, I. MACINTOSH, Manager.

First Row: A. CONBOY, T. MCKILLOP, J. W. MACDOUGALL, J. F. ROGERS, Goalkeeper; W. ALLEN, R. HOWSON, P. DUFFY.

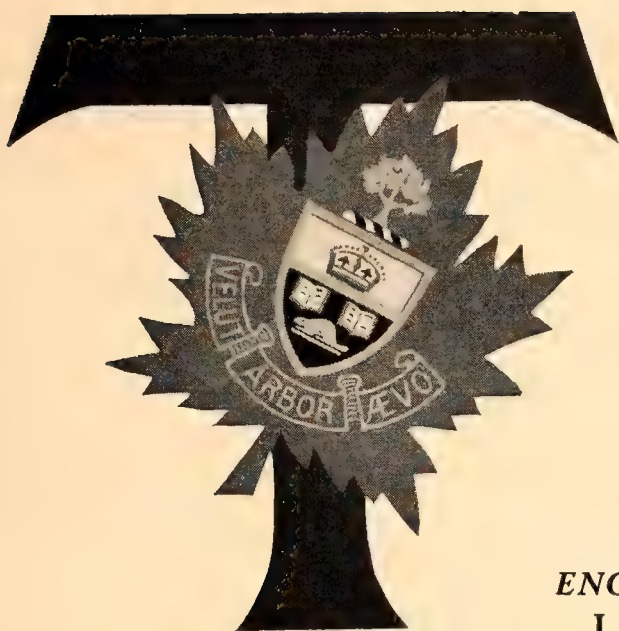

This year, the Varsity Junior "BEES" were entered in a group with St. Michael's College, Scarboro Dukes and Corner Boys. They played a double-header schedule at Varsity Arena every Tuesday night during the season.

The team, captained by "Porky" MacDougall, and coached by Bill Wade, a graduate of last year, and a member of the "Blues" team for three seasons, had quite a successful season. In their 12-game schedule they won 9, tied 1 and lost 2 winning the group championship. In the group play-offs the Juniors were beaten out 2 games to 1, by St. Michael's.

Most of the team will be eligible for Junior series again next year, but it is probable that at least one or two of them will do their playing for the "Blues".

Thanks are due to Bill Wade for the fine job he did in coaching the team, and to the members of the team, for the great spirit they showed throughout the season.

The pages which follow, devoted to the athletic activities of the colleges and faculties, present a picture of the extent and diversification of the Intramural programme. From late September to March, Varsity Stadium and Arena, the playing fields and outdoor hockey cushions and the Hart House Gymnas and pool were, in season, crammed to over-capacity as a record sized student body availed itself of opportunities for wholesome recreation and competition in intramurals. As will be seen from the list of interfaculty championships, a full programme of sports was again sponsored. Player and spectator interest reached a new high. The back campus was crowded daily during the football season while noon hour basketball games drew a full house in the Hart House Gym. The Major and Minor Basketball leagues again created a new record for participation in this sport. Close to one thousand men played on one hundred and five teams.

The T. A. Reed Trophy for the Intramural All Year High Point Championship again provided inspiration for the entire year. St. Michael's College, led by Athletic Director Fritz Viola, won the trophy for the first time in the history of the College and in so doing created a new record for the number of points earned.

The Intramural Sports Committee, chaired by Don Bell, S.P.S., and composed of the athletic presidents of each college and faculty, were the organizing body back of the programme.

Athletic Standing Committees of the Intramural Sports Committee were formed to supervise each intramural activity. To these committees and to the hard working and efficient managers, we are grateful for the operation of an impressively successful programme.

It is satisfying to end this brief history of the 1947-48 intramural season with the thought that the growth of the athletic programme is keeping pace with that of the University as a whole. Despite the strain on inadequate facilities which created many major problems, the interest and co-operation of participants and student executives has been such that this year may be named as one of the most successful to date. The wholesome contribution which competitive athletics, both Intercollegiate and Intramural, can make to an educational institution has been emphasized by the rational manner in which the University of Toronto Athletic Association, and the Associations of the various colleges and faculties, directs and supervises our athletic programme. Athletics are indeed integrated with the educational policy of our University.

Standing: M. BUCHANAN, Volleyball Representative; N. DEARLOVE, Hockey Representative; A. BENNETT, Golf, Tennis and Squash Representative; R. SAUNDERS, First Year Representative.

Absent: H. KERRISON, Track Representative; J. GREY, Boxing and Wrestling Representative; F. SOPLET, Quartermaster.

This year the main effort of the Athletic Board has been to create interest in all branches of sport among the students not so much from a view of competitive success but rather from the more important viewpoint of the total number of men engaged in competition. The move has been reflected in a greatly increased turnout.

This does not mean, however, that U.C. has not won its share of championships. We have won eleven intramural championships which proves without a doubt that U.C. turns out high calibre teams.

Although we did not repeat our excellent performance of the last two years when the Red and White won the T. A. Reed high-point trophy this has been a most successful year for U.C. athletics and bouquets are extended to Ken Jackson and his hard-working Board who supervised activities.

Men of U.C. can be justly proud of their athletic achievements of the season of 1947-1948.

The year of 1947-48 marked another milestone in the Athletic history of Victoria College. Under the fine leadership of President G. J. McKinnon, Vic filed a record number of team entries in all fields of Inter-faculty Athletics and three championships were returned to the college.

Even before lectures officially started, Coach Bernie Taylor had his charges whipping through their paces on the Athletic field at "Little Vic". For these rugby enthusiasts the daily grind was a long stiff affair but they received dividends for their efforts when once again Vic reigned champion of the gridiron and the Mulock Cup was Vic-bound for the thirteenth time.

Just about this time all golf enthusiasts commenced swinging clubs in the U. of T's. annual golf tournament. Vic golfers led the field and another trophy belonged to the scarlet and gold.

Then, to prove that they too were champions, the track team outsprinted all opposition to cop the honours in the outdoor track meet.

Several new faces came into the limelight this season in the form of coaching personnel. Excellent work was done in handling Sr. Vic's basketball squad and the two strong hockey teams.

Another successful year in athletics for Victoria College passes by and high hopes are expressed for an even better year to follow.

This Association comprises the whole body of undergraduates in Trinity College, including Divinity students and those students living in Trinity residences but registered in other faculties.

The detailed business of organization and finance is administered by the twelve-man T.C.A.A. Executive which meets weekly during the academic year.

The policy of this year's Executive has been to encourage and promote strong teams in every intramural sport with less emphasis than in former years being placed upon individual participation. In taking this stand, the Executive feels that team sports are a vital factor in unifying members of the college, both participants and spectators, through a common interest.

The success of this policy was demonstrated in the fine showings of the Rugby, Soccer and Lacrosse teams, finalists for the Mulock Cup, finalists for the Arts Faculty Cup and group winners respectively. Trinity's present standing of second in the T. A. Reed Trophy race is largely due to their efforts.

Sixteen members of the Association upheld the honour of the University in Intercollegiate competition and won their U.T.A.A. First or Second Colour, while over fifty T's (Trinity's highest Athletic award) were presented.

The efforts of the Association in the social sphere, embracing the Annual T.C.A.A. Dinner and Dance, were rewarded by an almost unanimous turnout of the members, and College comment verified their outstanding success.

The members of the retiring Executive extend to their successors a wish for the same unqualified support that has characterized this year's programme, and trust that members of the Association may scale even greater Athletic heights in the future.

RENEWED SPIRIT!—The year 1947-1948 was again a successful one for Medical Athletics. Approximately 32 teams were entered in Interfaculty competition during the year, representing roughly 300 athletes, or 33 per cent of the Faculty of Medicine. Considering the many demands on a medical student's time this percentage participation is very encouraging. Of the 32 teams entered, 2 emerged champions, 2 were defeated in the finals, and 4 advanced as far as the semi-finals.

The year began in the autumn with the rise and fall of the unpredictable football team. Senior Meds emerged unbeaten from Group I competition only to lose to Trinity 1-0 in the semi-finals. They have the consolation that they twice defeated the Mulock cup champions during the season. Jr. Meds had a mediocre year and did not quite earn a playoff position. The Medical Soccer teams played excellently all fall but, handicapped by injuries they were unable to remain undefeated.

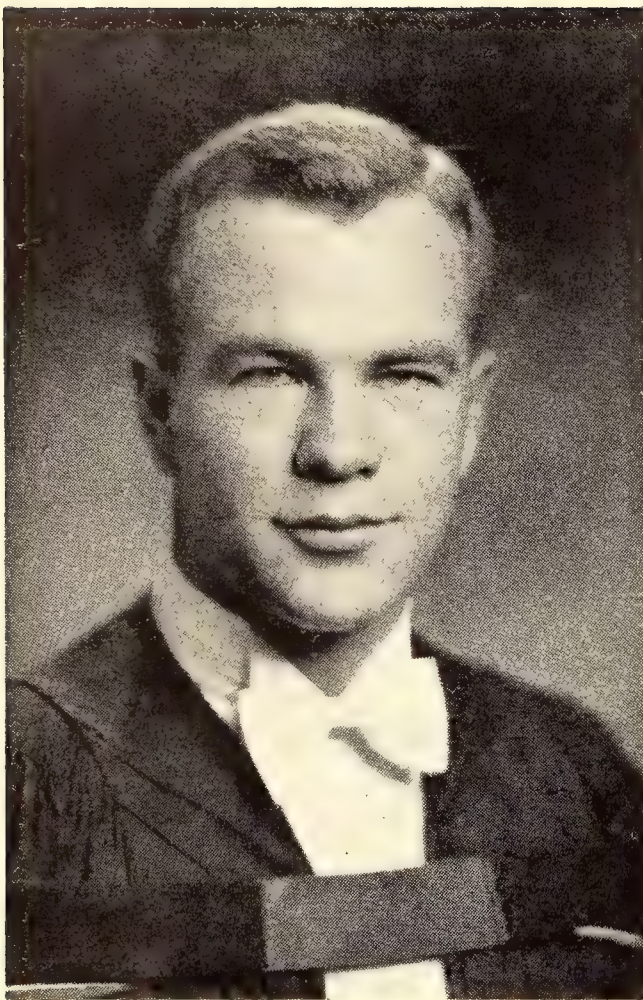

The athletic highlight of the year came with the winning of the University Lacrosse championship. After several years of being runners-up, Meds came through a hard fought season by defeating all opponents. Not to be slighted the Meds Squash team subdued all oncomers to become Interfaculty champions.

Winter sports also felt the influence of the Meds athletes. Senior Meds hockey team scrapped their way into the Jennings cup finals, only to be defeated with the championship in sight. Three of the many basketball teams advanced as far as the semi-finals, but all were defeated here. Water polo, boxing, wrestling, and track also saw several Medical entries.

In February, the annual Spring Swing was held by the executive and awards, including 21 'M's, 7 special awards, and individual track and swimming medals, were given out.

In retrospect, it can be seen that many hours of relaxation and enjoyment have been obtained through athletics, and that in athletic ability Medicine once again is among the best on the campus.

MEDICAL ATHLETIC STICK

The Medical Athletic Stick is the highest award in Athletics that a member of the Faculty can earn. One such award is given yearly to a member of the graduating class. He is chosen on the basis of 4 qualities—athletic ability, sportsmanship, leadership and personal application.

We are proud to say that Locke Clement has been awarded this honour for the year 1947-48. Locke was absent from the Faculty of Medicine during the years 1943-45 at which time he served with the U.S. Navy. Upon his return that pleasing personality and drive for athletics carried him to such a position, that we are honoured in awarding to him this Athletic Stick.

Locke's talents in athletics have been directed toward many sports such as football, basketball, track and volleyball. On the grid he was very prominent as a plunging half-back and flying wing. He enjoyed the honour of playing with the Sr. Meds Football Team in 1946-47 when they were finalists for the Mulock Cup and again in 1947-48 when they reached the semi-finals.

His participation in basketball for three years, track for four years and innumerable other minor sports has broadened that personality to such an extent that Locke is well known throughout University and Medical Athletic circles.

Leadership is a quality that was not forgotten in Locke's case. He was president of the Medical Athletic Association for the year 1947-48 and led the Medicos through a very successful year of athletics.

School this year has placed a good second in the race for the T.A. Reed trophy. Although winning only the hockey championship this year our teams have consistently made the play-offs in nearly every sport.

In this the third year of intercollegiate competition since the war, Varsity has fared much better than in either of the other two and to all those Engineers who have supplied a large part of the ability and fight to the various Blues teams we extend our congratulations. To the Schoolmen who fought so valiantly in the interfaculty lists and almost brought home the bacon we say "good show"! The team managers who worked so ably deserve a great deal of credit.

The new point system inaugurated last year has been slightly changed — we hope for the better — but we believe it is fulfilling its purpose of encouraging more participation in athletics and of raising the standard of awards.

Next year as well as being Varsity's year should also be School's, especially with all the talent coming in from Ajax, and so to Don Bell and the rest of next year's executive we wish the best of luck in what promises to be a hot year at School.

JACK SWAN

The Phene Memorial Trophy is presented each year to the man on the Senior School Rugby team who has, in the opinion of the other players on the team, displayed true sportsmanship, enthusiasm, and team play to the best advantage. This year the trophy was won by Bill Nord, and in choosing Bill to receive the award, the team echoed the opinion of all the rugby fans who followed School this season. Bill, a sixty-minute man, always turned in a stellar performance with his tricky footwork and his impossible one-hand pass receiving. Besides this, he was school's kicker and was a hard tackler on the defence.

Bill first learned his football at Riverdale Collegiate, and was on the team that won the city championship in '43. On coming to School he turned out for Rugby and made the Jr. School team in his first and second year, graduating to the senior team in his senior years.

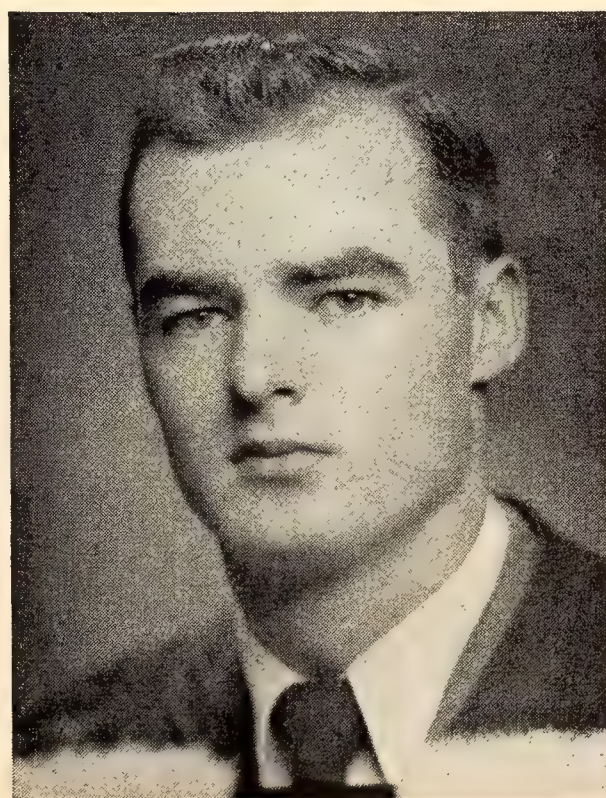

Although football seems to have been his main interest, Bill also found time to distinguish himself in hockey, track, volleyball, and skiing. To a real athlete and a regular guy, all S.P.S. extends congratulations and a sincere wish that his engineering future will be as successful as his athletic life has been.

The Bronze "S" is awarded each year to the member of the graduating class who has shown outstanding ability in athletics, true sportsmanship and a keen interest in sports during his four years at S.P.S. It is the school's most honoured athletic trophy and the graduating class of 4T8 this year has awarded it to Jack Swan.

Jack's ability in athletics has been proven by his outstanding record with the senior Blue basketball team. In his first year he played on the junior team and broke into the senior team in his sophomore year to stay with the team for his junior and senior years. Jack is one of those "dependable" players who never seem to have an "off day." In this last season, as coach Bob Masterson's ace centre, he was one of the top scorers on the Varsity team.

In addition to playing for the Blues, Jack was also active playing volleyball and coaching the senior school basketball team. His keen interest in sports has been unequalled during the last four years as he has served on the S.P.S. athletic association as secretary, vice-president and finally president in which position he was mainly responsible for School's high standing in the Reed Trophy race this year.

To Jack, School extends its heartiest congratulations and we know that by his record here, his success as an engineer is assured.

This has been the third year of existence of Ajax as a branch of the University of Toronto. During this past year as in the two preceding years the "Jaxmen" have engraved a very enviable position in the record books. Their athletic prowess has made them one of the most feared names on the campus and although they have not won every championship they have overcome the great obstacle of distance and have given each sport a valiant try.

The Athletic Association has tried to provide the best in equipment and transportation for our teams. With the large scale inter-residence athletic programme everyone has a chance to compete in some branch of sport be it inter-residence, inter-faculty or inter-collegiate.

The "Jaxmen" are handicapped in intercollegiate circles due to the distance from the main campus. In spite of this they have upheld School in this branch of sports and we would like to congratulate them on their fine showing.

We would like to thank all those who have cooperated so willingly to make the tremendous Athletic Programme a success, with a special vote of thanks to two fine gentlemen, namely "Buff" Horton and "Pat" Sheehan, for the magnificent way in which they have promoted Ajax Athletics.

We wish the incoming executive the best of luck and hope they will receive the same kind cooperation that we have had.

In closing I would like to say "Thanks A Million" to my associates on the Athletic Executive and to all the fine fellows at Ajax. Your cooperation has been greatly appreciated.

WOMEN'S INTERCOLLEGIATE TENNIS

JANE MATTHEWS, MARGARET SCHRAM, CATHERINE FOWLER, President and Manager; JUDY PRICE, PAT COCKBURN.

This year Toronto was host to McGill, McMaster, Western and Queen's for the Intercollegiate meet and a very welcome job it was. Varsity's own Intramural tournament had to be run off as fast as possible at the Toronto Tennis Club and although obstacles were met in the form of the men's tennis tournament, the weather, and the Queen's football weekend, the deadline was met. The semi-finals were closely contested with Jane Matthews playing her usual steady game to take Marg Schram in an interesting contest. Pat Cockburn won the other bracket after a long, hard fought battle from Cay Fowler. Jane then displayed some very fine racquet handling to defeat Pat in an excellent final match.

All arrangements had been made within the Tennis Club for the Intercollegiate meet and the events ran off as scheduled. Varsity placed third in the meet with McGill taking all comers in every event. Queen's placed second with Western and McMaster trailing.

The doubles team of Judy Price and Marg Schram came through with well earned points to help bolster the Varsity effort while Pat Cockburn and Jane Matthews met stiff and experienced competition in the singles events.

A large gallery of spectators turned out to watch the match between Dot O'Brien of Queen's and Elaine Fildes of McGill which was the final and best match of the tournament.

Membership in the Bowling Club reached almost 250 this year. The Intramural Championship was won by the U.C. team which consisted of Eleanor Nesbitt and Liz Ross.

Bowling's main attraction is in the enjoyment it provides for many girls who otherwise would be unable to take part in University athletics because of lack of time or special athletic ability.

WOMEN'S INTERCOLLEGIATE BADMINTON

PAT MONTGOMERY, MARY MATTHEWS, MISS DORIS CLARK, Coach, MARY RUSSELL, ELIZABETH RUSSELL.

Absent: JANETH RUTHERFORD, President and Manager.

The badminton season started at the University of Toronto in October when tournaments in each faculty were organized and played off on the St. Paul's Church courts. These were over by the end of the term and after the holidays the players went on into the Intramural open tournament. St. Hilda's turned out to be the winning college with a group of the badminton enthusiasts. Jane Matthews defeated Mary Matthews (both of St. Hilda's) in the close, fast finals to win the Intramural championship, held at the Carlton Club.

For the three weeks following the meet, the Intercollegiate team of Mary Matthews, Pat Montgomery, Mary and Elizabeth Russell practiced diligently with their coach, Miss Doris Clark. On February 19, the team travelled to Montreal to defend the championship won by the team the previous year. They met stiff competition from the McGill and Western singles players and McGill finally came through to win the meet with Varsity a close second being one point behind. The doubles team of Mary and Elizabeth Russell proved themselves to be a very effective pair coming away undefeated thus winning the Intercollegiate doubles crown.

The University College Women's Invitation Meet was held on October 9 at St. Andrew's Golf Course. A great number of faculties and colleges were represented. Lois Lloyd, III Meds, placed first with a score of 93. Joyce Graham, II O.T., and Alison Jeffries, II Vic, came second and third. The sealed holes were won by Barbara Makaroff, Dorothy Hiscocks and Joan McCullough.

Intramural Basketball had one of its best years in 1947-48.

There were twenty-two teams in all, divided up into six leagues. Practices began in the third week in October. The finals were played in Hart House, December 11 with the stellar O.C.E. team coming out on top. P.H.E. II were in second place. Interest ran very high this year and the players enjoyed their games largely because of the good refereeing. Each referee had to pass a practical and written examination with the minimum mark of 85. There were also a greater number of games for each team—six games within its league.

Soon after Christmas, the Intercollegiate team practices began. Coach Joan Davis picked a team of six U.C. co-eds, three P.H.E. girls and one Victoria representative. The team played several games with Hamilton Normal, McMaster University and O.C.E. before going to Queen's on February 27 to participate in the Intercollegiate meet. The team played hard but lost to a fine Queen's team in the first round and to Western in the second. The Bronze Baby was won by Queen's.

Marg Phillips, the basketball president, should be commended for the excellent job she did in a very hard field.

A new trend in Women's hockey was noted in the playing of this year's schedule and for the most part it was a very successful venture. The institution of refereeing by women certainly played a big part in the twelve team league games. The "experimental" referees kept the games on a higher standard maintaining that clean, fast hockey is better to watch and play.

The result of the year's tussles for the coveted Harston Trophy was in favour of the Scarlet and Gold. Vic I captured the trophy as they have done for the past six years but not until P.H.E. I had made the Vic team realize that they were in danger of being dethroned. Ferne Watson of P.H.E. tied with Alison Jeffries of Vic for the top place in the scoring list.

Both teams played exhibition games this year, the outstanding one being the invitation meet between Queen's and Vic. Vic downed the Tri-colour 6-1 at Queen's.

Joan Hume, an ardent hockey fan and player is to be congratulated on the outstanding job she did as President of the Hockey Club.

WOMEN'S ALL-VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

Second Row: THELMA HENDERSON, BETTY BATES, DOROTHEA JONES, SYLVIA HOLMES, ANN BRADSHAW, CHRISTINE ZUMSTEIN.

Absent: MISS MARY HICKS, Coach.

This year, ten faculties entered the fifteen team league. Volleyball has been put on a higher and more stable basis with the adoption of the official rules and as a result non-rotation play came to the fore. The game has become more skilful than the former "bat and slam" game and the referee and coaches were trained by Miss Forster and Miss Slack. Physical Therapy won the Intramural championship with U.C. as runners-up.

For the first time an All-Varsity team was chosen from the Intramural teams and was coached by Mary Hicks. A home and home series was held with McMaster which resulted in a victory for each team. Varsity downed McMaster 57-14 and were thrown for a loss of 29-27 at McMaster. Betty Bates, Joan Gault, Margaretta Goodearle and Chris Zumstein proved to be the powerful players on the team.

The aim of the Volleyball club this year was to improve the playing and refereeing and also promote the idea of Intercollegiate Volleyball.

Absent: LOIS LLOYD.

The Women's Softball schedule got an early start from the first of October and carried through the second week in November. The weather was with the softball players and only the final games had to be squeezed in between showers.

Eleven teams entered the league this year with teams from University College, Victoria College, St. Michael's, Physical and Health Education and Medicine being represented.

P.H.E. I and Vic I ended up in the finals. Both teams held the championship in the past two years and a tense battle caused much excitement for both the teams and the spectators. The teams were evenly matched and a third game had to be played to break a tie. P.H.E. finally came through as Champions for 1947-48.

The Swimming Club has had a very busy and successful year beginning in October and lasting until February. Besides the individual college meets, there were the Intercollegiate and Intramural meets. In November, at McGill, the Toronto team tied with McGill for first place when the Varsity relay team broke the previous record. Mildred Anglin won the style swimming and Ruth Pullan placed second in the ornamental swimming. Margaret Harrington placed first in the free style event by breaking the record.

The Intramural meet was held at Hart House on February 21 with P.H.E. winning by a good margin. Trinity and Victoria placed second and third. The outstanding swimmers this year were Betty Taylor, Marg Harrington and Jean Cossar.

Special thanks are in order to Winnifred (Freddie) Baxter, Dorothy Knowles and to the hard-working Secretary, Elizabeth Holmes, who all did a splendid job.

This has been a busy year for women skiers. The Intercollegiate team worked hard every week end at Collingwood and after several races had been run off, Connie Sparrow, Pat Ellard, Sue and Betsy McFaul were chosen to represent Varsity at the Winter Carnival at McGill.

The second big event of the year was in the Interfaculty skiing meet. This year a cup, donated by Mr. Proudfoot, was an added incentive for the women. Jean Stevenson, U.C. out-skied twenty-five girls to become the first winner of the cup.

As in the past, though each group fields separate teams, U.C. and P.H.E. have combined for many of their sports activities and this year has been notable for the enthusiasm and co-operation among all the players.

The end of the sports season is not without its victories for those who went forth for the honour of the College, as three individuals and four Intramural team championships have been won. The Proudfoot Trophy, donated by a member of the U.C. alumni and presented for the first time this year, was fittingly won by a U.C. skier. The cups denoting the diving and individual champions at the Intramural Swimming meet were won by P.H.E. girls.

At the swimming meet the P.H.E. team made a clean sweep of the field, finishing with a score far above any of their opponents and the hard hitting P.H.E. softball team wrestled the softball honours from Victoria College.

U.C. bowlers went on to supremacy at the Bowling meet and the valiant ski team, in spite of bad weather, rallied to win the Intramural Ski meet.

Three other teams deserve honourable mention: the U.C. volleyball team, P.H.E.

basketball and hockey teams, all of whom played in finals.

U.C. and P.H.E. girls were also active in Intercollegiate competition contributing four members to the Swimming team, three to the Ski team and one to the Badminton team. Nine out of ten members on the Intercollegiate Basketball team came to this great alliance as did their hard working manager, and seven girls found their way into the All-Star Volleyball team.

Within the College there was a tournament for the Taylor Trophy at the U.C. swimming meet and the Rosebowl tournament for U.C. basketball teams in which the Soph A team emerged the victors after playing the Freshies twice.

Not content with active participation alone, seven club presidents, four from P.H.E. and three from U.C., helped to keep the University sports schedules running smoothly and efficiently and to manage the Intercollegiate teams. Also we proudly claim as our own, the editor of the Women's sports in The Varsity.

For all who played, winners or no, the year has been fun and the interest, enthusiasm and sportsmanship has added greatly to the life of the college.

This year under the able leadership of President Ruth Hutcheson the Victoria College Womens' Athletic Association enjoyed one of its most successful years . . . successful not so much in terms of trophies as in terms of a more general participation by the women students in sports activities. Vic attempted to increase, this year, the number of girls taking an active interest in sports. And this attempt met with very satisfactory results.

Athletics got off on the right foot last fall as Vic was well represented in baseball, tennis and golf. Two baseball teams were entered, one of which was runner-up for the intra-mural trophy.

It was particularly in basketball that Vic carried out her policy of giving all the girls who wanted to do so a chance to play. This was done by entering seven teams in inter-faculty competition — a greater number than had ever been entered before.

The Vic I hockey team again won the hockey cup, defeating a strong P.H.E. team in the finals to finish the season undefeated. The Vic girls also showed well in volleyball, swimming, badminton and skiing.

This year has been especially marked by the spirit, interest and enthusiasm of the girls towards athletics. The new policy which has worked so well this year will be carried on by the incoming executive who hope to be able to push much farther the programme for more widespread participation in college sports.

St. Hilda's aim—to have as many as possible participate in college athletic activities—has again been realized. With three softball and three basketball teams in the fall term, the climax was reached as second year members, who comprised the junior basketball team, won every game of the schedule and reached the play-offs.

Judy Price, Pat Cockburn and Jane Matthews represented St. Hilda's on Inter-collegiate tennis teams; Peg Whealy and Phyllis Manning ably competed in swimming events for the college.

Jane Matthews, the outstanding athlete of the year, captured both the University Tennis and Badminton Singles Championships.

Hockey and volleyball have so far brought more fun than fame.

Many thanks are sent forth to the coaches and heads of the various activities. Their friendly encouragement did much to increase both the efficiency and the enthusiasm of the teams. This co-operation coupled with the talent so evident in the junior years will surely bring satisfying results and genuine enjoyment in the future athletic activities of St. Hilda's.

The beginning of its third decade on campus found Alpha Epsilon Phi busily engaged in the year's activities. The major project was the sponsoring of a dance, the proceeds of which have been used to aid Displaced Children in Canada.

Other activities included the entertaining of our national dean, parties given in honour of pledges and actives, joint meetings with other fraternal organizations which included musicales and lectures, and the raising of funds for the United Jewish Welfare Drive.

The rushing season was climaxed by the addition of nine pledges: Ethel Brody, Laura Peterseil, Malca Prager, Beverley Starkman, Evelyn Lipton, Evelyn Smith, Estelle Sugar, Roslyn Tanzer and Shirley Wagman.

With so promising a start, Alpha Epsilon Phi anticipates big things for their next decade.

ALPHA PHI

The Alpha Phi's have gained space, comfort, and more attractive furnishings this year in their move from 136 St. George to 10 Bedford Road. Before becoming distracted by the unsettling and resettling operation, the fraternity held a dance at the Royal York in honour of McGill University after the rugby game, and assisted their very active alumnae chapter to make a great success of a sale of work and bazaar of staggering proportions for the benefit of the new house. Then everyone became involved in Operation Rushing; the evening the results were announced Helen Cannon, Betty Hare, Karlyn Hollis, Margot Murray, Shirley Neilson, Barb Owens, 'O. J.' Piper, Joyce Randall, Jean Slack, Mary Walton, Anne White and Dallas Woollings were pledged into Alpha Phi and welcomed with a party.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Santa Claus visited the Delt House this year during the annual Christmas party, along with ten little charges of the Children's Aid Society. The little people gorged on chicken and ice cream, oranges and candy, were entertained by the Delts and then Santa Claus appeared. Red-suited and white-bearded, Bro. Les Graham distributed toboggans and "Wettums" dolls, along with many other gifts close to the hearts of children. When great weariness caused by much food and excitement set in, our friends were whisked away back to their home.

Alpha Gamma Chapter of Delta Gamma Fraternity has had a full and good year. Its members have strived to make of friendship the reality they feel it should be. They have been learning to give and to take and to derive considerable satisfaction from the great principle of participation. They've had the fun of helping out a bit at Baker Hall, of working together to make cheerier the Christmas of one family, of carrying on a Pink Elephant Sale (that's a White Elephant dressed up!) and of being exposed to the College of Optometry which has moved into their house. (The C. of O. owns it!) Those members who "belong" to the fraternity in spirit and in flesh have found the whole worthwhile.

After the move from 122 to 136 St. George St. which involved much packing and unpacking, wielding of paint brushes, hammers and saws, the Tri-Delts happily settled down to life in their new home. Their new house mother, Helen Bolster, is a Tri-Delt herself; her husband, a third year engineering student, is proving a capable house-father too.

During the fall term, Queen's and McGill Universities were entertained at tea-dances after the rugby games. At Christmas the chapter celebrated with a successful party and the traditional Pine Tree breakfast, after having made sure that a needy family enjoyed their best Christmas ever.

With the coming of 1948, Alpha Phi of Delta Kappa Epsilon stands on the threshold of its fiftieth year on the campus of the University of Toronto. The Toronto chapter was the first to be founded in Canada; there are now four Canadian chapters, at McGill, and at the Universities of Manitoba and Alberta, as well as at Toronto, with the hope of bringing that number up to five with the installation of a chapter at the University of British Columbia.

The chapter expects that by the end of the year, their system of alumni contact will be completely reorganized, so that they will be able to renew the close tie with the active chapters which, of necessity, disappeared during the war.

Fourteen freshmen were initiated this year making the total number of active members forty-two.

In the social sphere the Dekes have had a far more active year than any since the war.

Starting the fall season with a tea dance after every home game and, ending it with a very successful Christmas party, the chapter has kept the house in use almost continuously. The quartette highlighted most of these parties with their polished singing. On the altruistic side, the Dekes, like most of the other fraternities, gave a Christmas party for fifteen underprivileged children from the settlement; though the actives had as good if not a better time than the children, the party was a huge success.

The mighty Deke hockey-basketball-squash machine is functioning once more, in fact, well enough to beat the alumni hockey team. They hope to participate in the interfraternity games this year.

The season was capped by the anniversary celebration — a weekend including a formal dance and an alumni banquet, when many of the graduates of the chapter who are scattered throughout the United States and Canada were welcomed.

The 1947-1948 year found Delta Upsilon with a younger over-all average age than in recent years. Half of the fourteen pledges graduated from high school last year. Ex-service men are fewer though still the great majority in the House.

Perhaps the most successful venture this year has been the McGill-Varsity football dance sponsored by Delta Upsilon at the Royal York. It was the first "big-business" attempt by the fraternity, and one from which they escaped unscathed. Other fraternity functions and fraternity life proceeded with similar success, along both social and athletic lines.

PI BETA PHI

"The Pi Phi's Don't" is a well-worn phrase around the Toronto campus, but the catch-phrase to the contrary, they have been doing a great many things—having a good time at their annual Christmas party with the Zeta Psi Fraternity, playing host in their newly decorated house to two hundred and fifty guests at an Open House after the Toronto-Western rugby game. When the shouting was over after formal rushing fifteen co-eds had become members of Pi Beta Phi: Jane Armstrong, Diana Burns, Sally Baker, Anne Burton, Anne Carew, Susie Davidson, Nancy Derry, Margaret Fleming, Mary Haldenby, Elizabeth Keeler, Jane Maybee, Pat Noble, Bev Robertson, Peg Saunderson and Diana Troop. The annual formal dance, always anticipated and this year held at the Boulevard Club, was avowed by all to be the best ever. Though Pi Phi's are kept busy individually in college activities, they still find time to participate in the "Baby-sitting" scheme organized by the fraternity to aid in clothing and in supplementing the diet of their little French baby, Marc Bertier.

IOTA ALPHA PI Kappa Chapter

A successful Initiation Dance was the commencement of a very active season for the Iota Alpha Pi. Socials, meetings, cultural, frequent informal sessions and several philanthropic projects kept the members busy all term.

The end of the rushing season saw Zorah Gittleson, Dorothy Greenbloom, Louise Fine, Rai Derenfeldt and Shirley Halberstadt pledged. After a hectic "Task Week", followed by a riotous "Hell Night", the pledges were welcomed into the sorority with a gala "New Look" party.

Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity was founded at the University of Pennsylvania, October 19, 1850. It became a national fraternity in 1853 and in the ninety-five years since that time has grown and now constitutes thirty-eight chapters, two of which are in Canada, one in Toronto and the other in Vancouver.

The chapter at this university — Alpha Beta — was instituted on May 19, 1895 and has been active ever since. It draws its members from all faculties and rounds out their scholastic studies with balanced athletic and social activities.

From early in October until exams in June, Saturday night was party night for the members of Nu Sigma Nu. In addition to the usual stags, the boys enjoyed masquerades, roller-skating parties, bowling sessions and corn roasts. Of course, the social highlights for the year were the Annual Formal Dance, which was held at the Toronto Hunt Club, and the Annual Banquet, held as usual at the Royal York Hotel. As always, the McGill and Queen's week-ends were great successes.

The usual Saturday night dance is occasionally varied with such novelties as a masquerade.

The regular noon-hour pool game provides congenial relaxation for the pledges in Pre-Meds, who sometimes find time hanging heavily on their hands.

Boogie-woogie is certainly not a lost art around Nu Sig. Many of the boys are experts!

Then with the exception of several business meetings in the spring term, Nu Sig settled down to work, until just before the exams, when the Annual Grad-Undergrad Dance, an informal affair including the more recent graduates, was held at the Fraternity House, thus bringing to a close another enjoyable year with the Nu Sigma Nu.

Literary, athletic, and social activities played a major part in fraternity life. The Psi Upsilon hockey team qualified as a semi-finalist in the Interfraternity Hockey Loop. The Christmas and Spring Formals highlighted the social activities this year.

Sixteen pledges were initiated and already many are prominent in campus athletics. Brothers Peppiatt, Ludwig, Cellotto, and Watson from Victoria College were members of the football team which this year won the Mulock Cup. From the senior ranks came Brother Francis as a halfback for SPS and Brother Dixon as a member of the Varsity Jr. "B" hockey team.

With the initiation of younger men, and with fewer conflicting interests, the future of the Nu Chapter of Psi Upsilon grows increasingly bright.

Couples in the happy Christmas mood are dancing in the Chapter room.

A Christmas party must have a Santa Claus, and George McDonald here gives a spirited interpretation of the old gent from the north.

With a freshman class of 14 initiates and 2 pledges, the largest in Ontario Alpha's 41-year history, the Phi Delts are enjoying a bang-up year in all respects.

Phi's are active in campus affairs — the S.A.C., Spanish Club, Commerce Club, Engineering Society, and Medical Society. The Inter-Fraternity Council is in operation again this year, and Phi Delta Theta is taking a leading part in its campaign for cooperation and understanding between the fraternal organizations. One aspect of the Council's activities is the Inter-Fraternity Hockey League, from which the would-be stars of Phi Delta Theta are gently massaging their bruises.

In February, Attorney-General Blackwell M.C.'d the Annual Founder's Day Banquet at the Royal York. Also in February, Phi's went formal at the Crofton Villa. Home-and-home dances with the Alpha Gams, the initiation banquet and dances, post-rugby dances and of course the rousing Christmas Party were all evidences of a new and vital spirit at Phi Delta Theta.

Phi's eagerly await the serving of the Christmas turkey.

Cannibals outside "Fijiland" on St. George Street. After the big feast here, the party moved to St. George Golf and Country Club, which was transformed into a South Sea Island.

The big event of the fall term for the Fijis was the traditional "Grass Skirt Party". Another important event was the annual Christmas Party for children from the Fred Victor Mission.

Projects for the future include basketball games with our Colgate and Syracuse chapters, the annual hockey game with the graduates for the "Canley Stup", and the Formal Dance in March to wind up the year's activities.

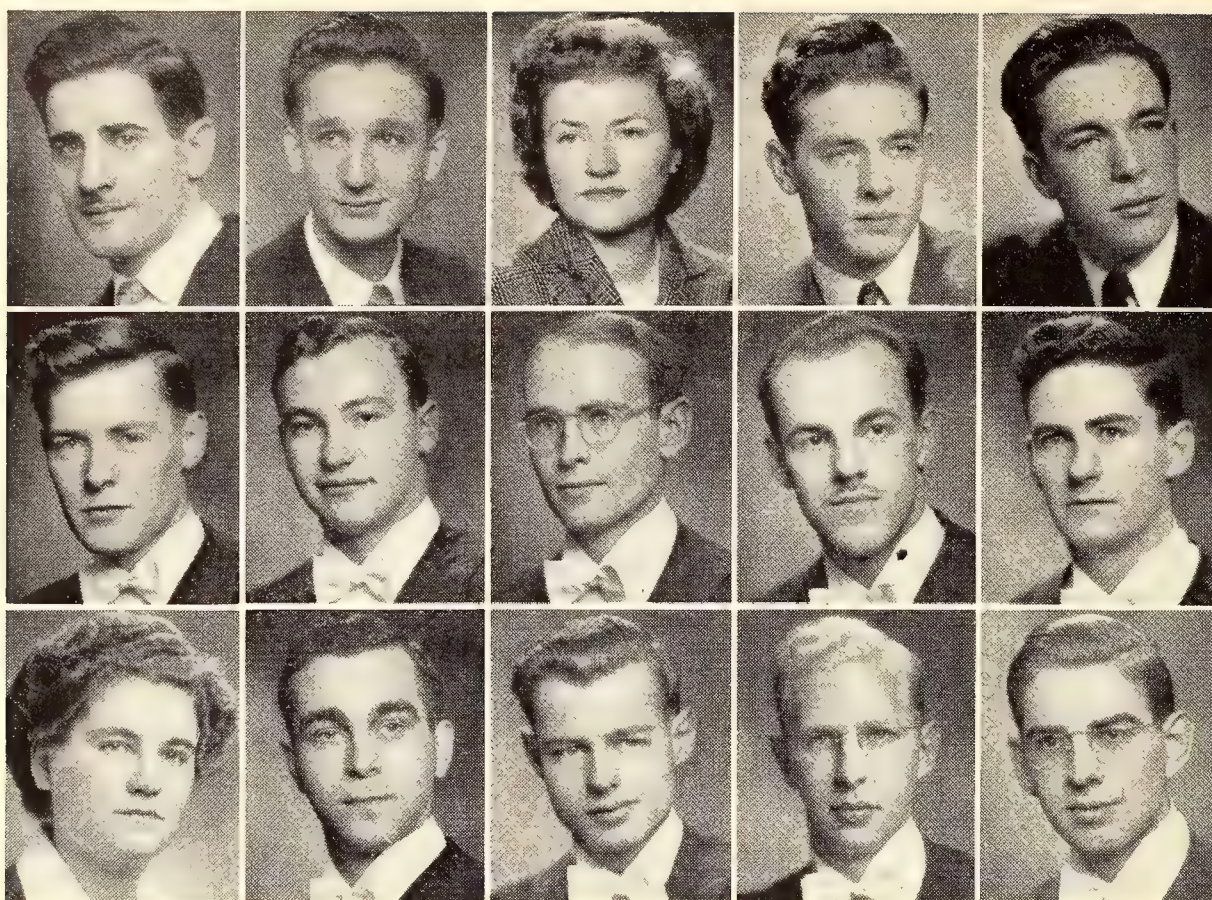

A group of cannibals relax after enjoying some "Fricassée of Young Varsity Co-ed, au Fiji."

Medsman Doug Yates from "Fog-bound U" tests the tonsils of some Fiji girls.

Third Row: C. EZRIN, Z. J. BOROWY, MISS B. E. MCKINNON, A. RAPOPORT, M. G. WOLFISH.

Second Row: G. J. HAMMERSLEY, P. KLOTZ, E. A. MCCULLOCH, D. J. MCCULLOCH, J. K. WILSON.

First Row: MISS D. C. H. LEY, W. O. GEISLER, Secretary; R. H. SHEPPARD, President; R. W. RUTHERFORD, Vice-President; E. R. YENDT, Treasurer.

Alpha Omega Alpha is a non-secret, College Medical Honour Society, membership to which is based entirely upon scholarship, moral qualifications being satisfactory. Undergraduate members are chosen from the two final years of the medical course.

Organized at the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois, Chicago, August 25, 1902, by Wm. W. Root, it is the only order of its kind in medical schools on this continent.

The spirit of the society is set forth in its motto: "To be worthy to serve the suffering," and in a modern interpretation of the Hippocratic Oath. It is the duty of its members to promote its ideals, to foster the scientific and philosophical features of the medical profession, and to look beyond self to the welfare of the profession and public. It is also their duty to cultivate social mindedness as well as an individualistic attitude toward responsibilities; to show respect for colleagues, elders, and teachers; to foster research; and in all ways strive to enrich and ennoble the profession of medicine.

This story is based on an actual case . . .

I'd be further ahead today if . . .

Ralph Franklin was talking the other day to one of our people—about business, about people, about his successes and failures. Of course, Ralph Franklin isn't his real name.

You'd say he was a successful business man . . . his income runs around $7,000 a year and his business is growing steadily.

Franklin is one of our more progressive customers, and we like doing business with him because he is never content to rest on what his firm is producing . . . he is always trying to find a better way of doing a job for his customers, for his employees and for himself.

Lately, he has been trying to negotiate the purchase of another business firm and he's finding the financial and legal problems which it is involving pretty complicated. He has discussed them with us, with other financial men and with lawyers. He hasn't got things entirely sorted out yet, but we believe he will manage it eventually, and we are going to do all we can to help him bring off his deal successfully.

"You know," said Franklin, as we finished our talk, "I'd be further ahead today if I had got to know bankers and lawyers better when I began business 20 years ago and had realized earlier how much they can help a chap . . . help him avoid pitfalls—make more use of his opportunities.

"For instance—once I thought you bankers were just interested in keeping my money on deposit and collecting my drafts. Now—well . . . you're my financial counsellors. You've given me so many good suggestions since I've got to know you better."

What Price Perfection?

Years of research . . . continual rejection of the mediocre, the "nearly good" . . . a constantly critical attitude of mind . . . a fixed resolution to improve service and quality of product . . . all this, and only an approach towards perfection is made. But eventually from this approach a company's true development and progress come into being.

We at Northern do not claim perfection, but we do accept the responsibilities incurred in striving after it . . . we keep it as our ultimate measuring stick and standard.
